

ROTO
MAGAZINE
COLOR
10¢

WEEKEND EDITION

16
PAGES
COMICS
10¢

WEATHER:
SUNNY; Details on Page 5

Victoria Daily Times

THE HOME PAPER

VOL. 122, No. 183

VICTORIA, B.C., SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1955—74 PAGES

PRICE: 7 CENTS SATURDAY, 10 CENTS

Secret Prober Testifies Monday

Toast of the Province

Two Victorians and two Vancouverites teamed up Friday to bring British Columbia the women's inter-provincial golf championship. The interprovincial competition was played in conjunction with the Canadian Ladies' Close Championships at Colwood Golf

Club. Smartly attired in their team uniforms are, left to right, Mrs. E. L. Buchanan, Vancouver; Sheila Ross, Vancouver; Dorothy Herbertson, Victoria, and Mrs. J. H. Todd, Victoria. See sports pages for additional pictures, stories. (Times Photo by Halkett.)

Toronto Cracks Major Dope Ring

$1 Million in Narcotics Seized
On Way to Chief Canadian Cities

TORONTO (CP)—Police believe they cracked an international dope ring operating between European cities and Toronto with the arrest Friday night of two men and a woman and seizure of narcotics valued at about $1,000,000 on the black market.

RCMP and city police said they found five pounds of heroin and a pound of raw opium in a suitcase when they raided a midtown Bathurst Street house shortly before midnight.

RCMP Supt. R. S. Carroll said he believed the drug seizure to be the largest in Toronto's history. Insp. Bert Mace of the Toronto force estimated it was one of the largest in Canada in 50 years.

The three persons arrested were charged with conspiring to traffic in narcotics. Police identified them as Jacob Rosenblatt, 32, a furniture salesman; Jack Goldhar, 49, an auto salesman; and Hannelore Rosen-

IN EAST HEAT

Apples Bake Right on The Trees

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—Now you can get baked apples right off the trees.

Fruit growers in this rich western Ontario orchard district don't like the idea though. Continued hot weather had reports circulating that apples are "cooking on the trees."

"Near the tops of the trees you can push your finger right through them as though they were applesauce," one grower said.

Apparently fruit and vegetables are not even safe in cans. Canned goods in a London store have been reported exploding because of the high temperatures.

Eastern Canada's heat wave rolled on relentlessly today with no week-end relief in sight. Temperatures ranged above 80 from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., to Sydney, N.S.

A mass of slightly cooler air that had earlier been expected to bring a breather to southern Ontario was stalled north of the lower Great Lakes.

CANADA'S CRICKET STARS PERFORM HERE SUNDAY

East will meet West Sunday in an all-day exhibition cricket match at Beacon Hill oval, starting at 11.

Dennis Hendra of Victoria will captain a team representing western Canada and consisting of five players from Victoria, three from Vancouver, two from Calgary and one from Edmonton. The team will meet an eastern Canada team captained by D. Orr.

Luncheon interval will be from 1 to 2.15 and stumps will be drawn at 7 p.m.

By-Election Date To Be Known Aug. 14

Premier Will Make Announcement
After He Returns to Victoria

LILLOOET (Special)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett will not set the date of the Lillooet by-election until he returns to Victoria, the Social Credit Party nominating committee was told today.

The premier dashed speculation he would announce the by-election date at the convention, and said only it will be held "soon." He is scheduled to return to his office the week of Aug. 14.

The secret convention opened at 10.30 this morning. Five candidates are reported in the running. The party banner-carrier had not been named at press time.

By-election is being held to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Liberal J. Gordon Gibson, the outspoken critic of the government's forest management policies.

Mr. Gibson is expected to be uncontested when the Liberal party holds its convention. Date of the meeting will not be set until the by-election date is announced.

Meanwhile Mr. Gibson issued another blast at the government's forest policies today.

In a prepared statement, he expressed "shock" at the government's decision to grant Celgar a forest management licence while the Sloan Royal Commission is under way.

The former Lillooet member said he had just returned from a two-week pack trip through his riding, from Squamish to Bridge River.

"In granting this licence, the so-called people's government has given away 1,300 square miles of the public domain in perpetuity, with an arrogant disregard for our chief justice which places him in an untenable position in the continuation of his inquiry," said Mr. Gibson.

He said "four huge licences have been granted since the establishment of the Sloan Enquiry" and it is interesting to note that the premier has been afraid to proceed with the shameful potlatch in the Lillooet district.

Several firms have applied for management licences in the Squamish area. One has been before the cabinet for decision for over a year, following an appeal hearing.

Mr. Gibson continued: "I have proved under oath that money talked in the case of the

CHRIST'S BURIAL SHEET STILL IN EXISTENCE?

A linen burial sheet lodged for several centuries in the Italian city of Turin carries on it the faint image of a man, believed to be that of Jesus Christ after His crucifixion.

The story of the Holy Shroud of Turin is told in Weekend Magazine in the Sunday Times, in an article by Victoria Cross winner Group Captain Leonard Cheshire, Britain's foremost bomber pilot in the Second World War, whose own life story has appeared in recent issues of Weekend.

Bonner Orders RCMP to Probe Whelan Suicide

Unusual Move Made at Request
Of Vancouver Police, Coroner

A special RCMP team today replaced Vancouver police force detectives investigating the suicide Friday of Harry Whelan, superintendent of the 750-man department's uniformed branch.

The unusual move was ordered by Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

"Named to investigate Whelan's death were RCMP Sgt. John Knox and a constable. They will report to a coroner's inquest Tuesday.

Whelan was found mortally wounded in his home in Vancouver. His police revolver lay beside him. A bullet had pierced his heart.

Attorney-General Bonner's order to the RCMP was issued after Vancouver coroner Glen McDonald and acting police chief Alan Rossiter requested an independent investigation.

Mr. Bonner said the RCMP will prepare a report "and advise the coroner at the inquest."

He declined further comment. But it was indicated the investigations will follow the same lines as for any sudden death.

The Times learned, from other sources, the Vancouver request was designed to forestall any possible attacks on the inquest's findings. Normally, Whelan's fellow officers would conduct the inquiries for the coroner.

The attorney-general's action followed by a few hours a public declaration by Jack Whelan, former Vancouver detective and a chief witness at the current corruption probe, that he would "talk for my brother... I'll take the stand and tell all."

A separate team of RCMP (Continued on Page 24)

Ex-RCMP Officer Terry Parsloe First on Stand

By BRUCE LEVETT

VANCOUVER (CP)—Terry Parsloe, mystery man of the Tupper Royal Commission hearings and author of a secret 1950 report, is scheduled to be the first witness when the commission sits again here Monday morning.

His report, made to Charles E. Thompson who was mayor in 1949 and 1950, gave chief constable Walter Mulligan a clean bill of health after the chief had been accused by Det. Sgt. Len Cuthbert of accepting bribes.

Mr. Thompson, testifying Friday, said he accepted Parsloe as an investigator "on the recommendation of Gordon Wismer," at that time attorney-general. He said he asked for investigation by the attorney-general into Cuthbert's corruption charges but Mr. Wismer suggested "it is a matter for the RCMP." A similar request to Ottawa was refused by Justice Minister Garson, Mr. Thompson testified.

The Canadian Press report appearing in the Times Friday said that Parsloe was hired as an investigator after both the minister of justice at Ottawa and the attorney-general at

Victoria—then Mr. Wismer—had refused to investigate. (Mr. Wismer has pointed out that while it was technically correct that he did not order a provincial investigation the testimony of former Mayor Thompson was that he (Mr. Wismer) was the one who suggested that the Vancouver administration should do something about it and had proposed the ex-RCMP officer do the job.)

The Cuthbert accusations were made in a private meeting with prosecutor (now magistrate) Gordon Scott and Mr. Thompson.

It was publication of similar Cuthbert charges in the weekly tabloid Flash which helped bring about the royal commission, under Reginald H. Tupper, to investigate the Vancouver police force.

In 1949 Parsloe was security officer with the Powell River Co., a post he still holds. His report was termed by Mr. Thompson Friday as "the best we could get."

H. A. D. Oliver, counsel for Cuthbert who wounded himself in a suicide attempt June 24, termed it "this bucket of whitewash."

Mr. Thompson, testifying under subpoena, took the place at Friday's session of Supt. Harry Whelan, head of the unit. (Continued on Page 24)

Sealed Five Years in Locked File

The Parsloe report lay for five years in a sealed, unmarked envelope in a locked file in city hall until it was brought before the commission Friday.

Its author was one of the youngest men ever to be made sergeant in the RCMP. He retired in 1947 as a staff sergeant at the age of 38 years after 20 years in the service.

Parsloe specialized in counterfeiting detection and was liaison officer between the RCMP in British Columbia and detachments in other provinces.

(Continued on Page 24)

HULA HULA HULLABALOO

Girl Skips 'With Bill' —On RCN Warship

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—Police today reported a new element in the story of an attractive 16-year-old girl who slipped aboard the RCN destroyer Athabaskan and now is cruising to Long Beach, Calif., with 150 Canadian sailors.

Joycelin Joan Pilapil, five-foot-five high school senior of Portuguese-Filipino blood, left a farewell note for her parents in Papaiaoa about July 28.

"Folks, I can't stay here any longer so I am going away with Bill," it read. "So don't worry." Police reported this postscript: "Bill" wants to take care of me and the baby, so let us do it together."

Joycelin's mother, Mrs. Frem in Pilapil, said she didn't know Bill except that he "worked on one of the ships some place."

DISCOVERED AT SEA

In Ottawa, a spokesman for the Royal Canadian Navy said the girl slipped aboard during an "open house" function. She was discovered in a stern compartment when the destroyer was at sea with her sister ship, the Cayuga.

"As far as we know no member of the crew of the Athabaskan assisted the girl to conceal herself aboard the ship," the spokesman said. She was placed in "suitable accommodations" and will be turned over to United States officials Sunday at Long Beach.

He expressed belief that Joycelin is the first stowaway ever to board a Canadian warship. The two ships are on a summer training cruise.

Mrs. Pilapil commented: "My daughter always wanted to join the service—either the woman marines or the WACs."

"But never the Canadian Navy!"

"I really didn't have any idea she had gone so far. Imagine, Long Beach! And the Canadian Navy yet!"

"I'll help her all I can, but it's not up to me to reprimand her. I'm leaving it up to police. I hope she won't want to traipse around again."

Mrs. Pilapil said Joycelin is the most spirited of her six children and hardest to control. Joycelin's father is a sugar plantation worker.

(The destroyers will rendezvous at Long Beach with the cruiser HMCS Ontario, and the three ships will leave Wednesday for home base at Esquimalt, arriving Saturday.)

LOU FAGEOL LEAPS CLEAR TO CHEAT DEATH

Slo-Mo V Back-Flips at 160 MPH

SEATTLE (AP)—A complete back-flip by the Slo-mo-shun V after it "took off" from the water travelling around 160 miles an hour took the defending champion out of this year's Gold Cup picture Friday and probably ended the racing career of Lou Fageol, daredevil driver.

Ten boats had qualified by night-fall Friday for the big race Sunday.

Fageol, of Kent, Ohio, dove from the somersaulting Slo-mo V to escape death, but suffered probable broken ribs and a punctured lung, as well as back injuries.

Thousands of spectators and officials watching Fageol's qualifying attempt from the shore and additional thousands watching it via television witnessed the spectacular Slo-mo V accident.

Fageol was roaring down the back straightaway toward completion of his third and final qualifying lap when disaster overtook the boat. The sleek craft started rocking from side to side as a northerly wind caught under the spinnaker.

As Fageol fought for control, the Slo-mo V lifted completely out of the water, literally taking off as a plane would.

Her stern kicked forward and the boat took a complete back somersault, landing upright on the water again.

Fageol kicked himself from the cockpit of the boat and landed on his back on the water and struggled feebly as a Coast Guard boat rushed to rescue him from the lake waters.

But his next words were: "How's the Slo-mo? Will she race Sunday?"

Stan Sayres of Seattle, owner of the Slo-mo, said the boat had battered its stern so badly it could not be repaired in time for the race.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

The four boats which qualified Friday with runs averaging more than 85 miles an hour were the Breathless, owned by J. Philip Murray, Piedmont, Calif.; the Scooter Two, Henry Kaiser's entry from Lake Tahoe, Calif.; and the Gale IV and Miss United States, both of Detroit.

Index to Inside Pages

Ottawa Boosts Interest Rate	2	Step With Style	16
Union Steamship Negotiations Deadlocked	2	Stursberg	5
Martin, Hospitals to Meet on Finances	5	TV Schedule	6
Search Pressed for Missing PWA Plane	11	TV With Lee	19
Ask the Times	13	Walker	8
As We Live	16	Why Grow Old	16
Books	6	Women	15, 16, 17
Building	10	Your Horoscope	21
Churches	14
Classified	18
Comics	25
Entertainment	7

Et'it's par y' want busted, don't Colwood, call Marlene.

A life on th' ocean wave, eh, Atha-B?

Th' Whether Man seems t' hev made up his mind at last.

SLO-MO V—After doing a back-flip at 160 mph during qualifying trials Friday Slo-Mo-Shun V, above, was so badly damaged that defending champion will not participate in Sunday's Gold Cup races on Lake Washington.

LIFE GOES ON—Mrs. Alford D. Fine gets a little kibitzing from son, Danny, as she goes on with her family chores at Soda Springs, Calif. The red-haired wife of a modern Enoch Arden married Alford Fine, a High Sierra lumberjack, last September believing her husband, Daniel Schmidt, one of 11 U.S. airmen to be released by Red China, to be dead. (NEA Photo.)

PW—AND THE NEW ONE

Woman May Quit Two Husbands

SODA SPRINGS, Calif. (UP)—Red-haired Una Schmidt-Fine, 20, remained hidden in the high

MOUNTBATTEN WILL VISIT

OTTAWA (CP)—Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten, Britain's first sea lord, will visit Canada Oct. 24-27 before flying to Washington for talks with political and defence chiefs. Lord Mountbatten will arrive in Montreal Oct. 24 by plane and visit Ottawa and Kingston, Ont., then fly to Washington.

Dedication Set For Extension To Tabernacle

Field director of Penecostal Assemblies of Canada, Rev. Elmer Domeij will dedicate the seven-room addition to North Douglas Tabernacle, Sunday at 3 p.m.

Constituting the beginning of a new church, the addition includes five Sunday school rooms, a nursery, pastor's study and heating unit. Within two years remaining portions of the old church will be torn down and the new building completed, said Pastor J. W. Ruthven.

Sunday the pastor will conduct farewell services at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. He leaves this week to become pastor of the Pentecostal Tabernacle in Abbotsford.

He will be replaced by Rev. Dale Dunn, Whitehorse.

Yarrows Awarded $400,000 Job For Five Barges

Yarrows Ltd. has been awarded a $400,000 contract by Vancouver Tug Boat Co. for five wood chip barges.

Work on the first will be started shortly, and delivery date is scheduled for Nov. 1. The other four barges will be completed by June, 1956.

The barges will be of steel construction, 150 feet long, 43 feet in beam, moulded depth 10 feet six inches.

Oil Company Chiefs To Visit Victoria

President of McColl-Frontenac Oil Co., T. C. Twyman of Montreal, together with top officials of the parent company, Texaco, will visit Victoria and Vancouver Island starting August 18.

The visit is a tour of inspection, tying in with company expansion across Canada.

In the group, arriving by special Texas Co. "Convair" will be C. B. Barrett, vice-president, Texas Co., Houston, Texas; J. W. Foley, vice-president, Texas Co., New York, and M. J. Gamill of Houston.

Hunt Abandoned

VANCOUVER (CP)—RCMP search and rescue units have called off the search for a fishboat with two men aboard, missing off the west coast of Vancouver Island since Saturday.

Officials said hope for the 38-foot Madie H. missing with Charles McLeod of Tofino and Kenneth Wilson aboard, has been abandoned.

Only sign of the craft was the boat's skiff, picked up at sea off Tofino Sunday.

Union Ss. Line Negotiations 'Deadlocked'

B.C. Men Dicker to Buy Strike-Struck Coast Line

VANCOUVER (CP)—Negotiations aimed at settling a month-long strike of 350 crew members of Union Steamships Ltd. have reached a deadlock, a company official said Friday.

J. F. Ellis, general manager of Union Steamships, said almost daily talks since the strike was called July 3 have brought the dispute no closer to settlement.

The strike to back up demands for an hourly wage instead of a monthly rate has tied up the company's 12 passenger and cargo vessels serving B.C. and Alaska ports.

The seamen are members of the Seafarers' International Union, AFL-TLC. Earlier this week they rejected a company proposal for a revision of wages and pay classifications.

Several smaller coastal shipping companies and airlines have stepped up their schedules in an attempt to supply remote communities normally served by Union Steamships.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Negotiations are under way by three prominent Vancouver businessmen to purchase the controlling interest in Union Steamships Ltd.

Senator S. S. McKeen, Fred B. Brown and F. Ronald Graham said they expected to complete next week the purchase of shares in Union from Canadian Pacific Railway.

Senator McKeen, founder and president of a major tugboat company, and Mr. Brown have been directors of Union Steamships for some time. Mr. Graham was elected to the directorate last April.

Meanwhile, operations of Union Steamships' fleet of 13 cargo and passenger vessels are still tied up by a strike of 350 crew members which began more than a month ago.

The ships normally serve coastal communities of B.C. and Alaska.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

The editorial says Mr. Kelly resigned because he "refused to accept a position... as a pliable puppet for Minister of Labor Lyle Wicks (head of the committee)... a puppet which could be dangled before the public as proof that the government does not discriminate against natives."

Mr. Kelly, who served four years on the committee, has been succeeded by Professor R. J. Morrow, retired bachelor of commerce.

Mrs. Hurley, for many years a worker among B.C. Indians and recognized as an expert on their affairs, is the former Mrs. Maisie Armitage-Moore. She now is married to prominent Vancouver criminal lawyer Thomas Hurley, Q.C.

Death Calls Two Movie Stars

Hollywood today mourned the death of two of its most prominent performers. Carmen Miranda, 41, Portugal-born Brazilian bombshell, famed for her Latin-American dancing and singing rhythms and elaborate costumes, died early Friday in her Beverly Hills home of a heart attack a few hours after filming a TV show with Jimmy Durante. Suzan Ball, 21, who lost a leg to cancer and had been fighting death for 18 months, succumbed to the dread disease in a private home Friday afternoon, only a week after leaving hospital.

TOT HURT IN SHIP FALL IN UNCHANGED STATE

St. Joseph's Hospital official said today there has been no change in the condition of two-and-a-half-year-old Stuart Swan who received a skull fracture Thursday when he fell from the Princess Marguerite gangplank 22 feet to the CPR dock.

Following emergency surgery, hospital officials said only that he is "holding his own."

Stuart is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Carl Swan of St. Catharines, Ont. The family was disembarking from the ship when the accident occurred. The parents are visiting Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Simpson at 639 Hampshire.

City Performers Get Chance With Heidt

Auditions Set for August 15 at CJVI; Big Show at Memorial Arena August 24

The man who grooms amateur entertainers, for another step up the ladder to success in show business comes to Victoria Aug. 24.

Horace Heidt, famous orchestra leader and starmaker, will bring a company of 50 amateur entertainers to Memorial Arena for a two and one-half hour stage show, "The American Way."

The show is being sponsored locally by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, with 50 per cent of that organization's net gate going to the Solarium Building Fund.

Remainder will go toward other charitable organizations. Heidt's talent scouts will audition ambitious local performers Aug. 15 at CJVI.

At least three local performers will be selected to appear on stage with the show and if judged for stardom will be offered places on Heidt's television show.

The show "American Way" is making a national tour. Only requirements for those being auditioned are that they be over 14 years of age, that there be no more than four persons in an act, and that each act provides its own music accompaniment.

Several well-known stars of the entertainment world will appear on the show. John Standley, who gained fame with the record "It's in the Book," will be with the show, as will the Four Knights of radio fame and the Swift Show-Wagon troupe.

Advance ticket sales open Aug. 13 at Eaton's music centre.

Still Study Plan

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Bulganin said today his government is still studying President Eisenhower's proposal for an exchange of military information and aerial inspection of each other's territory.

Drive New

FORD

Canada's most powerful car at

$2,256

NATIONAL MOTORS

Hotel Employee Shot by Gunman

TORONTO (CP)—Suburban Scarborough police today sought a masked gunman who critically wounded a hotel employee in a holdup attempt.

Doctors are fighting to save the life of John Cox, 40, night porter at the Scarborough House Hotel, who was shot through the chest.

Police said Cox was shot attempting to attack the bandit with a broom he was holding.

Don't put it off... let's discuss it now.

INSURANCE IS AN INVESTMENT

Auto Finance
Real Estate Mortgages

Serving Victoria 84 Years

RITHET CONSOLIDATED

706 FORT STREET

Ottawa Hikes Interest Rate

Interest Rate on Borrowings By Banks Upped Half Per Cent

OTTAWA (CP)—The government, apparently fearing Canada's economic boom may cause inflation, has moved to tighten credit and make it a little tougher to borrow money.

Its monetary advisers, the Bank of Canada, Friday night ended a six-month "easy money" policy by boosting interest charges on loans to chartered banks and other institutions to 2 per cent from 1½.

While chartered banks are not frequent borrowers from the central bank, changes in the Ottawa rate usually have a psychological effect on the general money market.

When the rate goes up, it is a signal to the lending institutions to tighten up on loans to customers. When the rate goes down, general interest rates drop and lending activity increases.

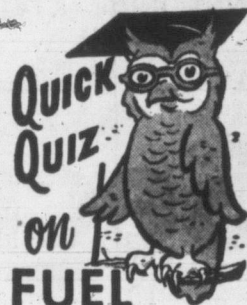

LOANS AT NEAR-RECORD

Thus, the chartered banks—whose total loans rose to a near-record $4,275,000,000 on July 20—may reduce lending activity by turning down borderline requests or by increasing lending charges as was done in the United States.

For example, the banks on their own initiative have reduced interest rates on insured mortgages to 5 per cent from 5½. They can increase the rate if they so desired or reject some applications to reduce the over-all loan volume.

However, banks have found this a desirable business and it is more likely that curbs may be in the field of personal loans by consumers who borrow to buy goods or retailers who borrow to finance stockpiling.

Ottawa officials have been watching the Canadian situation closely. They said the possibility of inflation here is not imminent, but they are concerned lest the economy, rising too steeply and too suddenly from its 1954 recession, might cause excessive pressure on goods and labor, resulting in price jumps.

QUICK QUIZ ON FUEL SAVINGS

Q. Mr. Homeowner: what did fluffy Westroc Rock Wool Insulation give you in your home?

A. Well, we have already cut our fuel bill by $40 a year since we insulated our ceiling and our house is much more comfortable now than we've ever known it.

Q. For new homes, what minimum thickness of Westroc Rock Wool Insulation is recommended by Research Councils for maximum fuel savings and comfort?

A. Three-inch insulation in walls and four-inch insulation in ceilings.

WESTROC

ROCK WOOL INSULATION

Symbol of Savings and Comfort

WESTERN INSULATION CO. LTD.

Vancouver - Calgary - Edmonton - Moose Jaw

UNIVERSAL GENEVE

SELF-WINDER

17-Jewel, Automatic, Anti-magnetic Movement, Gold-filled Case, Shock, Water and Dust-Protected.

'9750

On Display in Our Window

A wide range of ladies' and gentlemen's models...

In Stainless Steel.....from $60.00

In 10-kt. Gold-filled.....from $77.50

In 14-kt. Solid Gold.....

For Ladies, from $110.00 For Men, from $155.00

Convenient Terms

LITTLE & TAYLOR

Registered Jewelers American Gem Society

1200 Douglas Street (Scollard Bldg.) Phone 4-5812

GO GO GO

IT'S HERE Everything's all set at Exhibition

Park, Vancouver for the biggest, busiest, most exciting fair in the West — yes, it's P.N.E. time again. Don't miss the acres of new exhibits;

the thrills of the Race Track; the free Outdoor Theatre and the intriguing new buildings; the gaiety, color and pageantry.

Whatever you do, don't miss this year's better-than-ever P.N.E. at Vancouver. Go, go, go to the P.N.E.

THERE'S A WORLD TO SEE at the PNE

AUGUST 24 TO SEPTEMBER 5

SAVE! Buy your P.N.E. tickets before August 23rd at the special price of 3 for $1.00. They're 50¢ each when the fair opens.

Pacific National Exhibition

V. BEN WILLIAMS Gen. Mgr. J. S. C. MOFFITT President

Published every afternoon except Sunday by The Times Publishers Limited, 2631 Douglas Street, Victoria, B.C. The Times is a member of The Canadian Press, which is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or the Associated Press, and also the local news published herein. All rights to republication of special dispatches are reserved. Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Department, Ottawa.

STUART KEATE
Publisher

BRUCE HUTCHISON
Editor

4

SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1935

Old Struggle, New Method

IN ALL THE POST-GENEVA speculation now filling the politics and press of the world only one fact is clear—no agreement on anything tangible has been negotiated between the West and Russia. But one fact, if not established, is implicit in the results of the conference at the Summit—a new and perhaps a durable balance of world power has emerged after a long period of instability and acute danger.

Until Geneva, as can now be seen clearly in retrospect, the pursuit of power on both sides of the struggle was unrestrained. Neither side placed any limits on its pursuit of power, though each side differed in its objectives. No rules governed this contest. No measure, even the hydrogen bomb, was ruled out. Hence the world lurched for ten years, as Sir Winston Churchill says, on the rim of hell.

We cannot be sure about it yet but Geneva seems to have ended that long spasm of international anarchy—not by providing an assured peace, but by limiting the struggle short of atomic war. For the time being anyway, Russia apparently agrees with the West that this ultimate adventure makes no sense for anybody.

It would be foolish to assume, therefore, that the struggle has ceased or will soon cease. By many methods short of atomic war it will certainly continue. For the only certain fact demonstrated by the events of this summer is that the practical issues separating the two sides remain unsettled, almost untouched.

The great issue, the key to everything, is Germany. And Russia has refused, with a new politeness but with no visible yielding of its original objectives, to allow any settlement of the German problem.

Unless West Germany dissolves its alliance with the other Western powers, Russia will not release its satellite of East Germany and permit the re-unification of the nation. To this the West will never agree but knows that in the end Germany will settle this question for itself.

Russia's interest in Germany is so profound, its horror of a re-armed Germany so real that it is probably useless to expect the German problem to be resolved at the foreign ministers' conference in the autumn. Doubtless, like the conference of Geneva, it will postpone a decision. Meanwhile the struggle for Germany, like the struggle in Asia, will continue under a kind of tacit agreement to avoid outright war.

Since there has been no settlement of specific issues and none in the early prospect, the great question emerging from Geneva is whether the tacit agreement can be maintained. Certainly a hopeful beginning has been made, not only in Europe but in Asia, where the deep change in Russia's tactics has been echoed by a similar change in China's.

Nevertheless, the central question remains unanswered and it produces another question as yet unanswered: If we have avoided outright war, who will win the peaceful struggle for Germany, and hence for Europe?

It is quite wrong to suppose that Germany can be won or lost only by military action and that, lacking military action, nothing will happen to change the centre of Europe. Germany can be lost or won, for the West or for Russia, without war. The peaceful struggle can be as decisive, in this respect, as war itself. For this struggle we may be sure that Russia is now preparing.

Stalin's Russia grossly bungled its German policy and produced only the almost unanimous hatred of West Germany. The Russia now apparently managed by a congeries of Stalin's rival heirs has certainly learned from that blunder and is trying desperately to liquidate it by seeking the friendship of all the German people.

But so far Russia has not played its trump card and presumably will not play it until the right moment, as the Kremlin judges that moment. The trump card, of course, is an offer to unify Germany and to surrender the eastern German marches now in the possession of Poland, provided Germany cuts its military ties with the West. That would be indeed the ace of trumps.

A West German government headed by Mr. Adenauer might refuse to accept such an offer but Mr. Adenauer must soon leave the scene and his successors may have different ideas. That hope seems to explain Russia's delay in any firm settlement. It tacitly rejects war, for the present anyway. In the new version of the old struggle it plays for time.

The Split Vote

WHEN THE BENNETT GOVERNMENT abolished the transferable vote it knew exactly what it was doing. Now it undoubtedly expects to profit by a split opposition in the Lillooet by-election.

The CCF has nominated a Lillooet candidate. He is sure to get some of the anti-Government ballots that otherwise would go to the Liberal candidate.

Under the alternative voting system the voters opposed to the Government could mark their preferences between opposition candidates and make sure that no one was elected by a minority. When three candidates are running—and others may yet enter the field—the Social Credit candidate can win by a minority. The existing system is loaded in favor of any government. That, of course, is why it was revived by Mr. Bennett and his majority in the Legislature, without any mandate from the people.

But a handful of voters in the small riding of Lillooet cannot be regarded as a very significant sample of public opinion in British Columbia at large. Mr. Gibson resigned his seat there to make an issue of the Government's forest management policies but, as always, local issues unknown to the general public will probably play a major part in the result.

Nevertheless, Mr. Bennett shows by his present activity in Lillooet that he is greatly worried about the by-election and is desperately anxious to avoid defeat even in a Liberal riding. The whole power of the Social Credit organization and all its abundant financial resources undoubtedly will be thrown into this campaign.

The CCF evidently thought that it must nominate a candidate as a kind of electoral gesture, without hope of success, even though this candidate can hope only to assist the Government. If the divided Conservative Party also nominates a candidate Mr. Bennett will have the fractured electorate which the present voting system almost assures.

OVER MY SHOULDER

O the Times! O the Morals! O the Cures!

SOME friendly reader within the last twelve months gave or lent me a copy of The Times of Wednesday, November 9, 1796. That's the London Times, of course. There wasn't a Victoria Times then. It got sidetracked until yesterday. Then I got buried in it. Within a week I would like to return it to its proper owner, as I haven't yet got beyond the advertising.

It might be valuable as a museum item. To think what the Old Thunderer was in those years and what it has come to be through the years is an amazing record.

In 1796 The Times was a pretty slick proposition, a publisher's dream, pretty well founded on a policy that if it is worth printing, it is worth paying advertising rates to get it in type.

Except for the title, the date-line and the price, fourpence-halfpenny, the whole of the front page was devoted to tight line advertising.

Ten point—(this is ten point)—was the heaviest type on the front page. It introduced the ads which then followed in agate or emerald. (This is agate. Emerald is even smaller.)

Two inside pages of the four page paper contained news but you get the impression news was incidental. There were no headlines to give you a clue as to what it was all about.

Main source of revenue was from quacks and lottery ticket sales. Secondary sources, auction sales, sales of estates and horses and a few appealing to the ladies on how to be beautiful.

Only one advertiser gets ahead of the lottery tickets.

Best spot went to an unnamed chap at No. 422 Oxford St. Informing "the nobility and gentry" that he had an extraordinary, large reptile for sale, the largest and most beautiful ever imported to the United Kingdom. He advertised he would take it on show to any lady and gentleman in their own homes. He also had it on exhibition.

We will skip the f's and the middle word f's for s's because it is confusing; it stultifies free reading and leaves you with a lipf, lipse, lip or tongue-tied.

To the lotteries which got the big show. T. Swift & Co. announced they had tickets on the Irish and English state lotteries. "It is the custom of this house to charge as low a price as can be taken," they said. Equitable terms were offered.

Wright's Licensed State Lottery Office of Charing Cross advertised tickets for a lottery with total prizes of £198,500 which translated into dollars must com-

As Our Readers See It

METROPOLITAN POLICE

I have read the discussion in the paper about suggested improprieties, and possible corruption in the police service. I do not think that Elmer McEwen is under any obligation to present whatever information he has obtained to the Police Commission. The whole police system, if it can be called one in Greater Victoria, needs a complete overhaul.

Some of the worst criminal offences have been committed in the adjacent municipalities, and remain unsolved. Why? Because the municipalities do not have proper facilities, and neither are they adequately trained for the work they are supposed to do.

The various police bodies of Greater Victoria are as divided as their various councils are divided. They agree on nothing, whether it has to do with Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks, library facilities, public health, etc. Only the Cemetery Board can seem to get along peaceably. Greater Victoria citizens can be buried side by side, whether they come from Oak Bay or Saanich or City.

I should like to suggest to our Mayor-alty candidate, Elmer McEwen, that he should reserve his evidence of improprieties until such time as a Royal Commission can be set up at the instance of the Attorney-General. It is the administrative end that needs investigation; and I am of the opinion after long experience in police affairs in Greater Victoria, that the various police bodies need to be co-ordinated into a Metropolitan Police District. The same thing with all other municipal affairs, by the creation of a Greater Victoria Municipality.

Our Municipal Act could be amended to make provision for such an amalgamation, similar to the legislation which is contained in the English Local Government Act, which takes care of such matters in the public interest. We have too many Reeves, too many small public officials, and certainly too much noise and shouting as between Aldermen and Councilors.

HARRY LANGLEY.

1010 Foul Bay road.

REPLY TO REPLY

The recent letter signed "William C. James" is typical of the feather-brained thinking in the camp he presumes to represent. He seeks to show that I discredit the personal integrity of the sitting member and resorts to a veiled attempt at mud-slinging to try and make his point.

In his irrelevant letter, as a reply to mine, he refers to native-born Canadians being weary of letters written and published by others (as though the vote did NOT belong to Canadian citizens in general) and then, surprisingly, tells us that Major-General Pearkes has a hand-wagon, with a front seat, and I am not in it.

This nonsense is a poor contribution to the Conservative Party and its long-standing traditions which demand the democratic right to uphold its Constitution here in B.C. Those of us who are prepared to fight for this under our leader, know that Deane Finlayson does not need the patronising words which James has so unctuously and gratuitously given in his reply.

C. S. GOODE.

3190 Ripon road.

"MILITANT MILKMAN"

"Militant Milkman" chooses to evade answering. Leaving the "distributors" out of it for the moment, will he answer whether or not the milk drivers are in favor of "cash and carry" and therefore cheaper milk to the consumer?

His statement re drivers' wages is misleading, with wages and commissions plus cost of living bonus of $23.22, extra Saturday pay, and several fringe benefits, a good driver-salesman can make well over $300 per month.

The five-day week in the dairy business for retail delivery is pretty general across Canada. Will Militant Milkman agree that the decision to oppose the five-day week is influenced by U.S.A. union officials?

He knows that no carton milk is delivered by him to the Victoria consumers and the negligible amount that is consumed costs 2 cents a quart more than the same quality in bottles, namely 26 cents for standard 3.5.

It is sold mostly by the stores to tourists (cash and carry) which means that they pay 6 cents more than the Vancouver cash and carry price of 20 cents for 3.8 milk, in cartons.

He uses the pronoun "we" so "Militant Milkman" quite apparently is "the spokesman for an admittedly militant union" which "blows the bugle."

FRANK H. PARTRIDGE.
151 Beach Drive.

By TOM MERRIMAN

pare very well with today's going rate. The quick medicine advertisers seem to have set a pace that has been continuing ever since. They had one advantage over advertisers of today. They could advertise cures. Today they can't, but they can intimate it so subtly that before you read this far you were probably ready to dispute the statement.

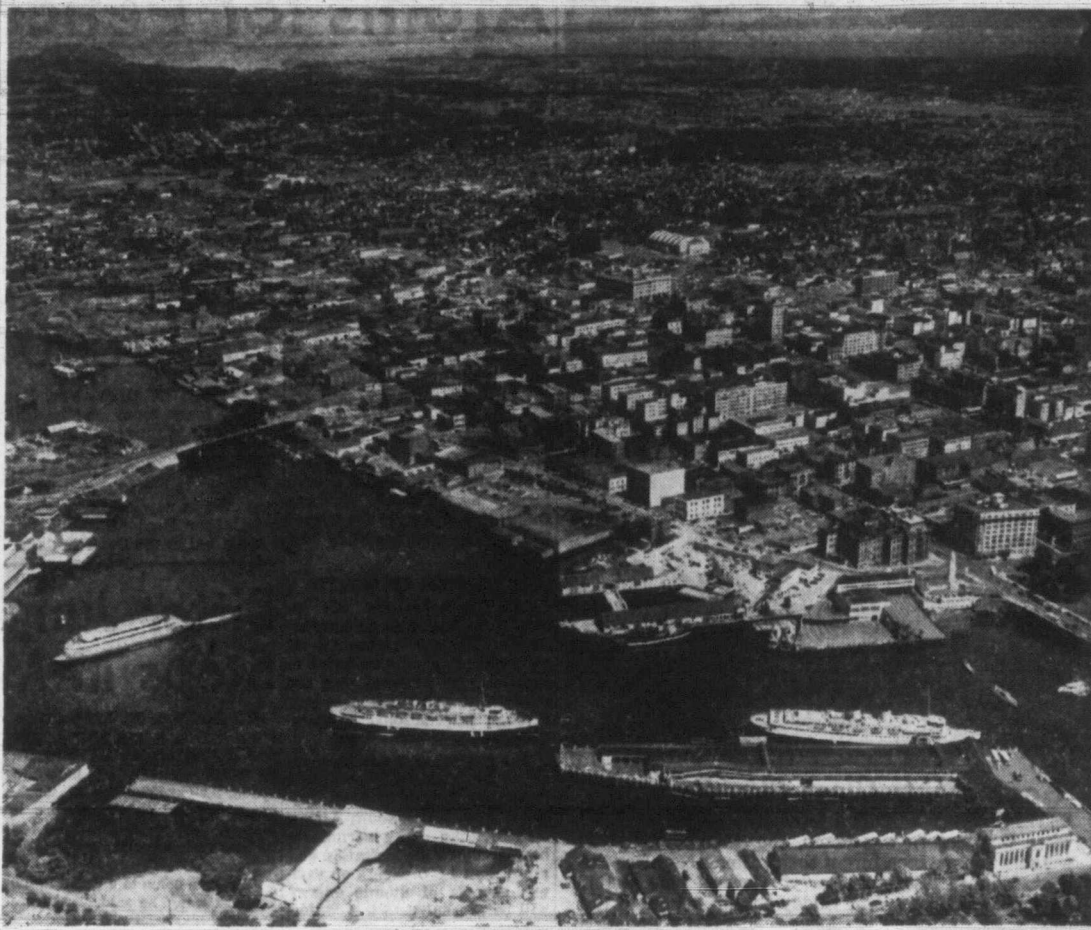

Dr. James's Analapetic Pill for health and longevity for twenty-five and a tanner a box must have been a masterpiece. There was nothing it wouldn't cure and satisfied customers by the hundreds were prepared to back the statement.

Dr. Edwards advertised "To the Female Sex" that his globular cases were the cure for all "forefens of the nipples." Tom Davy of Newington offered to cure "Scald Heads" on a no cure no pay basis. Never heard of scald heads. Could be baldheads, maybe?

But Tom and Dr. James were in the piker class compared with the sponsor of Cardiac Tincture; and his prices were low. For one and a tanner a bottle he sold stuff that cured everything... but everything... including the dead palsy.

The advertising boys went all out on their claims in those days but—and this is not said satirically—the old time advertisements will have a familiar ring today to TV addicts subjected to scores of commercials every day.

Front Door

Aerial view of city

by Bill Harkett

LOOSE ENDS

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

Canards in Ottawa

IN a long, eloquent and tender letter to The Ottawa Citizen, a Mr. C. J. Stewart of that city takes this column apart into very small pieces. He says, in brief, that I am unfair to Vancouver Island. And having lived here for the immortal span of three whole years, Mr. Stewart undertakes to tell me what the Island is really like. I am glad to hear from an expert authority of such long standing.

Hutchison

So far as I can make out, the offence which set Mr. Stewart into violent action was my statement that it had rained on the Island this summer.

He should have known that I spoke ironically. I hasten to advise him and the citizens of Ottawa that it didn't rain this summer, not a drop. Certain moisture detected in the atmosphere and piling up six inches deep in my tin wheelbarrow overnight was in the nature of an early autumn dew, certainly nothing like the rain they have in Ottawa.

It has been pure sunshine and pleasant heat here since spring. Ask any Islander and he will tell you so. Or consult the Tourist Bureau. Don't listen to the carplings of this column, which obviously knows nothing about the Island. Or ask Mr. Stewart, who is spending the summer (a sensible man, obviously) in Ottawa.

Remarking on the other obvious fact that this column "stinks," Mr. Stewart informs the eastern public that when he lived here for three entire years his "daily outdoor attire from May to November consisted of shorts, shirt and boots and more often than not, minus the shirt." This from May to November. Truly a hardy as well as a sensible man.

INDEED, Mr. Stewart got so deeply tanned by the fierce Island sun that he remained brown and well cooked for two years in the Ottawa winters. All Islanders are like that, cooked, or at least half-baked.

But as Mr. Stewart says, this column makes the Island seem "something, a little short of Hades." Yes, quite a way short this summer. Our wings haven't even been singed.

Moreover, says Mr. Stewart, warning to his subject, as I wish we could, this column represents the Island people as "decadent, illiterate, and only slightly removed from primeval ancestors."

While agreeing with all his other statements, I must object to this one. What I really said was that the Island people were too far removed from their primeval ancestors, have become too civilized and thus are no longer able to endure the climate. It is a climate, this summer, for primeval ancestors only.

HOWEVER, Mr. Stewart adds that the Island "isn't Heaven," though nearly so. This is a pretty serious statement. Not Heaven? Every true Islander will resent that libel, the Tourist Bureau will write a letter, the Mayor will issue a statement, the local press will write editorials and Mr. Stewart may find himself locked up behind the Island's peppy gates with an umbrella. Mr. Stewart concludes, with a fine impartiality, that this writer has "blown his hatch completely or is 'just about ready for the men in white-broom or straight jacket; or you need a new transfusion of human blood; or you're ailing a personal grouch by hitting below the belt.'"

ALL true. I've blown my hatch, all right, and the rain is pouring in. I am indeed ready for the men in white but I doubt they could find their way down that dank woodland trail yonder. Assuredly I need a transfusion of human blood, or any blood with warmth in it. And if I have hit below the belt it is because you can't find the belt out here this summer; it's covered with three sweaters, a windbreaker and an oil skin.

Just the same, it is mighty encouraging to a newcomer like me to find a veteran Islander, now in exile, rushing to our defence and shooting down the canards in the Victoria newspapers. Mr. Stewart had better shoot down the weatherman too while he's at it. But he won't shoot me. He won't be able to see me through the clouds.

ANYWAY, the capital city of Canada, the Federal Government and the nation's intelligentsia now know the truth about the Island and I dare say, now that Parliament is in recess, they will come rushing out here to enjoy the climate. Confidentially, Mr. Stewart, that was what I feared and was trying to prevent by an innocent and white little lie. Alas, my slander has misfired. No wonder, in the weather we've had,

THE AMERICAN SCENE

By STEPHEN L. DEBALTA

From One Man's Dream---A New Canada House

NEW YORK—Few mortals enter the Hall of Fame during their lifetime, and to some recognition comes only after their death. More fortunate than most men in public life, Ray Lawson, Canadian Consul General in New York, is soon to see his own monument rise in the picturesque skyline of this world metropolis, that will keep his name alive for generations to come.

A twenty-four story edifice, over which the flag of Canada will proudly flutter, is about to be erected in the very heart of New York, through the initiative and untiring efforts of Ray Lawson.

The choice of a Consul General in this rich community of eight million, with a trade area which includes Connecticut, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, having over 21 per cent of the total U.S. population, presented Ottawa with a tough problem when Kenneth A. Green retired from that post at the end of 1932.

Ray Lawson, one of the Dominion's most aggressive and successful business men, had just stepped down, in the spring of that year, as Ontario's lieutenant-governor, a post he had held five years. The eagle eye of Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent was quick in spotting the spry and vigorous industrialist who, at the age of 66, was preparing to return to his printing and lithographing business and a variety of other financial interests.

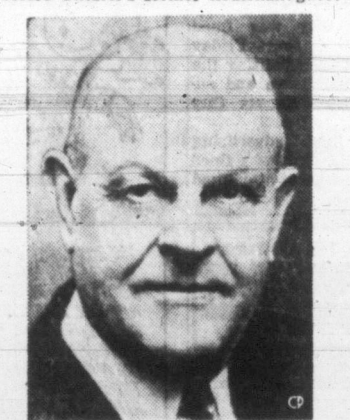

The job of Canada's chief representative in an area with a potential market of 30 million consumers is not a mere good-will assignment, nor is it a decorative sinecure for a striped-pants diplomat. Lawson, who had built up the printing firm of Lawson & Jones to a million dollar concern and was the guiding spirit in a number of industrial and financial enterprises, was the ideal man for the missionary task of selling Canada to the American business world.

MATTER OF PRIDE What he has achieved here in the short space of two years is as much a matter of pride for those who had the flair of selecting him for the job as a credit to his own ability.

Managing a busy staff of fifty employees and plodding through the maze of red tape that any Consular office usually involves is mere routine performance that did not satisfy Ray Lawson's ambitions of achieving something beyond and above the "call of duty," something to be remembered by. And so he hit upon the idea of "Canada House," a genial project to erect in the heart of New York a beautiful edifice for the glorification of his country, where every worth while enterprise, every phase of its national activities would be housed under one roof.

It was to be a showcase of Canada's productive genius in every field of human endeavor. This plan could not possibly be the result of a sudden intuition, born on the spur of the moment. It must have germinated, been dreamed of, and mulled over for many years, even before Ontario's former lieutenant-governor.

RAY LAWSON
Dream coming true...

nor ever thought he would some day become Canada's Consul General in New York.

It takes, however, more than wishful thinking to make so daring a dream come true.

The price of a patch of ground, amidst the towering skyscrapers of New York, if and when you can get it, runs into millions. Add to this the high cost of building materials and the exacting demands of labor, and the extravagant folly of a non-profit undertaking, unsubsidized by the government and relying solely on private capital appears as a provocative challenge to anyone's ingenuity.

At this writing a plot has been acquired for a little over $2,000,000 in one of New York's most expensive locations, on the corner of Fifth Avenue and 54th Street, and this coming January, 1936, a wrecking crew will start tearing down the present building to make room for Canada House, which should be ready for occupancy twelve months later.

When completed, the cost of the building and the land will amount close to $8,000,000. Where does this sizeable sum of money come from?

Not one cent of it is contributed by the Canadian taxpayer. Moreover, the Consul General devotes to this work his own leisure time, evenings and week ends, so as not to distract him from his official duties at the Consulate.

INITIAL FUND

Twenty-eight Canadians and two American citizens, having large interests in Canada, have contributed $100,000 each toward the initial fund that will start the project. New York banking sources will provide the balance on a mortgage loan.

Lawson thinks that it will take from 20 to 25 years to reimburse the "sponsors" and repay the banks; after that, the property free and clear will revert to the people of Canada—as an unconditional gift—to which the taxpayers will not have contributed a single penny.

It is already certain that the entire skyscraper will be rented out long before it is completed. The first tenant, on record, is the Royal Bank of Canada. The roster of occupants will include, besides the various Canadian government agencies, now scattered all over New York, the branches of the various Canadian banks, the Canadian railroads, airlines and steamship companies, the Canadian clubs, the Canadian Legion, the various showrooms of the Department of Trade and Commerce and the offices of the numerous business firms which already have or will seek a foothold in the American market.

EXCLUSIVELY CANADIAN

In fact, the list of prospective Canadian business firms is so large that several American concerns, desirous to contract for space, have been politely but firmly informed that Canada House will be occupied exclusively by Canadians.

This unique project, conceived and brought to realization by one man, Frank Ray Lawson, Canada's Consul General in New York, will not only serve the interests of the Dominion and contribute to the beauty of the American metropolis but, in time, will make every Canadian part owner of one of the most distinguished landmarks on Fifth Avenue, a crossroads of world trade and culture. As long as it adorns the Manhattan skyline, it will stand out as a monument to the enterprising initiative, the ingenuity and the patriotism of Frank Ray Lawson.

Soviets Harmful in ILO

UNITED NATIONS—Already, the new conciliatory policy would seem to have paid off for the Soviets, for by joining the International Labor Organization they have done more damage to it than they were able to do in all the years they opposed the organization. This is a sad lesson; it should make us more cautious about accepting these back-slapping comrades in the future.

STURSBURG As members of the United Nations, they had the right to membership in this UN agency, as long as they accepted its rules and regulations. At first, they tried to make reservations, but when they were told that it was "all or nothing" by the director-general, David Morse, they agreed.

Immediately, all the satellites which had quit the ILO, the Bulgarians, the Hungarians, the Albanians, came rushing back to embrace this organization which they had been calling a filthy capitalist plot to grind the faces of the workers in the mud.

3-WAY MEMBERSHIP

Now, the purpose of the ILO is to improve the conditions of labor, and, at the time it was founded in 1919, it was thought that the best way to achieve this was to bring together the representatives of government, employers and workers. So that this organization has a tripartite membership, each delegation consisting of government, employer and worker representatives.

It is over this tripartite membership, particularly the employer representative, that there has been all the trouble. The United States employer representative, William McGeath, has asserted that the Communist employer representatives are nothing more than government representatives and has refused to sit down with them.

A fact-finding committee has been set up to check on what the status of "freedom of association" is in the 70 member states; this is a first step to changing the constitution with the purpose of ousting the Communist employer and worker representatives. However, all of this takes time, and if it does not wreck the organization in the process, it has reduced it to impotence now.

RIGHT WORDS, WRONG MAN

There is no doubt that Mr. McGrath is right, that there is no difference between the government representatives and the employer representatives of the Soviet Union. However, he is hardly the man to say so. A right wing Republican, he made speeches against the ILO before he was sent to Geneva, and it is really astonishing that the United States Chamber of Commerce should have selected him as a delegate.

Furthermore, the worker representatives are upset. They remember how the employers appealed to them to accept Fascists as workers in the thirties and they had to agree, and now they are being asked to reject Communists as employers.

All this mess would not have occurred if the Soviets had not joined. Surely, their admission is an example of "one-worldism" gone crazy for, if there was one international body to which they should not have been admitted, it was the ILO. They could not contribute to the work of the organization; they could only detract from it.

By its very structure, the tripartite system of membership, the ILO was meant for countries with a free enterprise economy. In fact, it could be said that the organization was set up to combat Communism, for its constitution speaks of the necessity for improving labor conditions to prevent unrest which would disturb the peace and harmony of the world.

Yet, the Soviets were allowed to become members, and now, in order to get them out, the ILO faces destruction.

LONDON LETTER

By WALLACE REYBURN

Women Lawn Bowlers

LONDON—My wife and I were having a quiet drink at our local pub last night when 24 women came in. One could not very well not notice them, because they were all dressed alike—white pleated skirt, white cardigan, white blouse, blue blazer and white Panama "stroller" hat.

My wife and I could not help but remark on the difference between these English matrons and their Canadian counterparts.

We watched them as they clustered around the bar. Out came the cigarettes and on came the double gins. They were soon puffing away and downing their drinks and having a gay old time. By no stretch of the imagination could we envisage a similar group of Canadian women doing the same thing.

We started talking to some of them and learned that they were the Kent Women's Lawn Bowling Team. They had been up to Cambridge to play a match with the local women and on the way back to Kent in their coach they had stopped off at our pub for a snifter.

They were all wearing badges. One of the badges, they told us, proclaimed that they were the current women's lawn bowling champions of England. The others were the badges they had exchanged with various teams they had played.

One woman had more than a dozen pinned to her cardigan and we pointed to some of the more attractive ones and asked what teams they were. "That's Northumberland—we whacked them," she said. "And this is Surrey, we knocked the spots off them."

SOMETHING WHICH VISITORS from North America always notice is that there are no fire hydrants on the sidewalks here. At first they wonder how firemen go about fighting a fire until it is pointed out to them that the system is different here.

The water outlet is sunken into the sidewalk and covered when not in use with a metal plate. The firemen bring their own "standpipe" along and insert it in this outlet when they want to get the hoses going. The letter H on the wall or fence adjoining the water outlet tells you where the hydrants are in England. Because of Canada's freezing winters the English sunken outlet system wouldn't be practical.

But the interesting thing about fire hydrants in England is that it is not against the law to park beside one of them. With the police of North America, pouncing upon motorists who park by hydrants is something of an obsession. So much so that the fire hydrant looms large in the North American way of life.

Here nobody gives them a second thought. In fact, as I look out of my window I can see only one car parked on our street—and it sits right beside an H. The police don't mind. And the fire department don't care less. "If a car's in the road we just move it," they told me.

Seems simple. Do we make life unnecessarily difficult for ourselves in Canada?

WHAT'S YOUR OPINION?

BY TONY DICKASON
and
ROY STRABEL

Question: Would you be a willing candidate for the first trip to the moon?

Miss Ella Brett, pharmacist, 434 Simcoe: "I wouldn't be interested. Let somebody else make the first trip as I feel a lot more at home on the earth. It's alright to say the moon at night seems close enough to touch, but there's still quite a distance there."

Stuart, Smith, store owner, 405 Vancouver: "I'd rather go to Hawaii. This earth is bad enough without going to the moon, but it depends (chuckle) on round trip rates and accommodation once there."

Jack Pettit, clerk, 1427 Myrtle: "Why absolutely. I'd like to get off this earth and into another climate entirely. Another advantage, there's the Man in the Moon up there, doesn't say anything about women. When they get the machine going, it's quite likely it will be alright."

Mrs. Annie Flindt, saleslady, 1817 McClure: "I think the idea is altogether silly, and wouldn't want to do it. Someone else should make the trip first. Let the people with the bright ideas take the junket."

William Ennew, fireman, 723 Field: "Yes, why? Because curiosity is the main thing. Also I'm a rabid science-fiction type. I'm not worried whether I'd get there or not, as definitely they'll get to the moon eventually, maybe within 20 years. I'd take a chance on a fight I would consider reasonably safe."

Bridge

TWO for the SHOW

By PHIL LEE

AA (Oscar Class) A (Don't Miss) BB (Worthwhile) B (For Heavy Duty) C (To put in time)

(A) "THE COBWEB" (Royal)—MGM's "The Cobweb" is a tense, always interesting drama about chaos in a mental hospital that points up to the old saying that "you can't tell the difference between the doctors and the patients." As a matter of fact by the time it is over the timid patron may well be feeling for his own pulse in the darkness of the theatre.

Reason for the revolt in bedlam is caused by Dr. Stewart McVoy (Richard Widmark) theory that his patients will be more likely to shed their ills and traumas if they are allowed to live as near a normal life as possible, free from restraint and allowed to take part in running the institution. Unfortunately, however, the doctor's theories are not shared by all his colleagues, especially by Dr. Douglas Deverall (Charles Boyer), once a fine physician but whose chief in rest he switched, over the years, from brains to bottles and blondes.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back and, in closing, a low bow to wee Susan Strasberg as the frightened young woman in love with Kerr.

Least of all we admired Miss Grahame who, to our mind, seemed somehow miscast.

DR. McVoy MIGHT HAVE won his battle, however, but for some drapes. First his wife (Gloria Grahame), a selfish neurotic, decides she will put them up unknown to her husband. Next, veteran employee Lillian Gish chooses material. And, finally, therapist Lauren Bacall suggests that the drapes should be made by the patient themselves as part of their mental therapy, and especially to allow frustrated young artist John Kerr to design them.

By the time a set of drapes is put up Dr. McVoy has fallen into the arms of Miss Bacall, his wife has been pursued by the amorous Dr. Deverall, the police are dragging the river for young Kerr, patient Oscar Levant has had a relapse and the remainder of the patients are twitting like a cageful of canaries at a cat show.

COMPLEX AS THIS MAY sound "The Cobweb" is an engrossing yarn, its many facets neatly held together by Director Vincente Minnelli. The acting by the principals is generally sound, with Widmark, Miss Bacall and Boyer carrying off the honors. A first-rate performance must be credited also to the veteran Miss Gish. As the flint-hearted, tight-talking Miss Inch she proves that she has not lost the touch that made her one of the most celebrated actresses of her time.

It was good to see Widmark back

AUDREY SAYS

Auditorium Issue City's Etna Still Alive; Will Erupt Again

YWCA Art Display Popular Success

Success of a recent art display by local artists held at the YWCA, has encouraged the program committee to consider making the affair an annual or semi-annual event. Approximately 140 pictures were shown, including work from the Norfolk Galleries, Summer School of Education and W. Menelaws, Owen Goward, E. Goodall, Peggy Packard, John Knoop, Mrs. George Hull, Rev. A. E. Weaver, Julie Wickenden, Thelma Macht, H. W. S. Soulsby, Phil Hobber, F. E. Whale, Muriel Bland, Harry Harrod, John Lindberg, Ethel Clark, Elsie F. Olson, Shirley Cassidy, E. Frances Gomme, D. W. J. Dare, Marion Small, H. C. Small, Elmay Crow and patients at the TB pavilions.

THE ART GALLERY OF GREATER VICTORIA

1040 Moss St. Phone 4-3123

THIS WEEK AT THE GALLERY

Sunday and Tuesday, Through Saturday
Photos by James McVie and "Contemporary Dutch Graphics"

GALLERY HOURS:
Sunday, 2:30 to 5:30 p.m.
Tues. through Sat., 1:00 to 5:30 p.m.
Friday, also evening 6:00 to 9:30
Admission: Weekdays 25c

Are you a Gallery member?
Annual membership fee $5.00 per individual. Family membership $10.00.

Definite Need of Civic Building But It Could Be White Elephant

With his suggestion as to what the City of Victoria could do with the capital city grant, and further, what it might expect if the idea were acted upon, Premier Bennett kindled a fire which has set the neglected auditorium pot boiling furiously. However, like most boiling pots, the outcome could be one of several alternatives. The pot could boil dry and be dumped on the ash can; the fire could go out and the pot grow cold; or with proper supervision, it could turn out a really satisfactory and necessary product.

At the moment two factions seem to be busy—one in pouring cold water on the fire, the other in adding tentative pieces of fuel to the flame. But whatever happens to this particular pot, it is a foregone conclusion that the civic auditorium project will not die a permanent death. For this MODERN capital city of the province needs an auditorium in its business, just like a village, once it becomes a town, needs sidewalks.

And any group of practical and efficient business men in vestigating the angles will soon discover just how greatly the auditorium bulks in importance over such frivolous suggestions as a model boat pond, a coastal-Newcastle rose garden or even the essentially sound idea of an aquarium.

Audrey Sayers

You will gather from all this, and from much that has been written in this column previously, that I am pulling hard for the auditorium.

But much as I desire to see the long-delayed project come into being, there are factors which so far have not been mentioned, but which definitely should be considered from the very start.

Provisions have been outlined for large auditorium facilities such as would accommodate the symphony and other big-scale events; for conventions, banquets and parking.

No mention has been made, however, of the smaller type of recital hall which would be available for lectures, chamber concerts and a variety of more intimate presentations.

And if our business men who are exploring the project think that these smaller events are simply provided for already, they would do well to take a poll of those who have been working in the field over a number of years.

Most important of all, however, is the question of subsequent rental figures. And this should never at any stage of negotiations be lost to sight.

Obviously many factors will govern this matter, but unless rentals are pared down to the absolute minimum commensurate with efficient functioning of the auditorium, it will soon become just another white elephant and a burden to the very people it is supposed to benefit.

Sam and Bella Spewack, husband-wife playwrighting team, who got some fair mileage out of their adaptation of a French comedy, "My Three Angels," a couple of seasons back, will work over another Gallic property for the new season.

This one is the dramatization of a French novel, "The Best Butter," by Jean Dutourd which is the property of the producing firm of Lerman, Cohen and Carson.

Club Tango Dance Tonight and Every Night
Dinner - Dancing - Music
Reservations: 5-0222 or 5-2206

GEM THEATRE
Tonight at 7:00 and 9:00 p.m.
"RUN FOR COVER"
Technicolor - The Greatest Frontier Story Since "Shane"

JAMES CAGNEY JOHN DEREK
YVETTE LANFORD
Free Pass Tonight to Holders of Programs Ending in 16

NOW SHOWING
Box Office Opens 8:30
COMPLETE PROGRAM at 8:30 - 9:30
Based on the Musical Comedy Hit
"ROAD TO ROMEO"

JUPITER'S DARLING
with STEREOGRAPHIC SOUND
Specialty in Cinemascope, with Full Stereophonic Sound: Stratos Fantasy Conducted by Johnny Green

FOX
A Picture That Pleases
HELLO AND QUADRA
PLENTY OF PARKING SPACE
COMING MONDAY!
"THIS ABOVE ALL"

Now Showing
RAY BOLGER
"WHERE'S CHARLEY"
FAMOUS COMEDY IN COLOR
Produced in England
A Play of Laughter... with 11 Song Hits. Excellent Family Entertainment
Selected Short Subjects, including "ARABIAN HORSES IN THE ROCKIES" - In Color
Complete Program 6:45 and 8:45
Feature Starts 7:15 and 9:15
"The Pickwick Papers" STARTS MONDAY!

OAK BAY

Jillicum OUTDOOR
RICHARD WIDMARK CASEY ADAMS
"DESTINATION GOBI"
Drama - Technicolor
EDWARD G. ROBINSON PAULETTE GODDARD
"VICE SQUAD"
Crime Drama Show Starts 8:30
This Week's Gas Winner, Margaret Clark, 856 North Park St.
-Single Jackpot Now $250-

Wears Light Armor in Heavy Role

Lorne Green has achieved considerable distinction for his vital performance as Julius Caesar in the Canadian Stratford Festival production of the Shakespearean opus. The forceful actor, known to thousands of radio listeners for outstanding roles, and who has drawn enviable commendation from tough New York critics, has it a lot easier than some of his predecessors in the role or than his historic prototype, whose armor weighed about 70 pounds. Vibrin polyester plastic, weighing only a total of three pounds altogether composes Green's accoutrements.

WEEK-END MARQUEE

Historical Significance of Movie-Making Will Be Realized by Future Generations

As it so often happens in our everyday affairs we take many wondrous inventions in our stride, reducing them carelessly to the humdrum. One of these, unfortunately, is the motion picture industry.

The part played by filmdom is immense. In addition to its prime function of entertaining and educating us, it also performs its role as "citizen." How many times have you sat in a theatre and watched filmed features illustrate the importance of a cancer drive, a drive for blood donors, TB seals or reminding us that it is time we were making up our income tax returns? Many times, of course. Yet if you read the small print you will note that these worthy features are a gift from the industry to the public it serves.

But as laudatory as such projects are the over-all impact of the industry is something greater still, so great in fact that only the generations of the future will be able to appreciate it to the full. The impact, of course, is historical.

We are ashamed to say that the full flavor of this observation didn't strike home until the other day while watching a "short" at the Capitol. Actually the film was nothing more or less than a flickery celluloid patchwork of old newsreels.

NEW GENERATION
There were people fleeing from the San Francisco fire and earthquake. We watched President Teddy Roosevelt walk about with his inimitable gusto. We perceived the thin graviness of President Woodrow Wilson. But, peculiarly, it was a glimpse of a horse-and-buggy traffic jam on New York's Fifth Avenue just after the turn of the century that made us hold our breath in thought. Why, we realized, most of these very much alive persons were long since dead and in their place was almost a new race of human beings who, too, one day would be dead.

We commenced thinking of other newsreels hidden away in the dark vaults of the world's studios. There, merely awaiting the interest of generations yet unborn, are moments of history captured by the camera as they happened.

One can see the crowned heads of Europe since the turn of the century, the coronations, funerals, the pomp and ceremony. One can observe the methods and style of dress of the world's fighting forces in more than 40 years of war, as well as the fashions of the day. There are the great victories to relive, as well as the dark moments of defeat.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN
Future generations will know as no word or still picture can hope to impart, the great statesmen and warriors of the past. They will know the artists of the day as well as the men and their juggernauts who smashed land, sea and air records. They will witness the latest inventions, the top athletes in their heyday and the sports and games in which they starred.

It wasn't until 1889 that British inventor William Friese-Greene produced the first practical motion picture camera and it plagues the imagination to wonder how it would be now if the camera had been produced say even 50 years earlier. Imagine, to think of only a few highlights of what we might be seeing today... Napoleon, his wars and loves;

The radio-phonograph is going portable, too. Named the "Skipper," the battery-operated combination contains space for carrying nine records. A powerpack for AC current operation is offered as an optional feature.

Housed in a two-color plastic cabinet, the unit contains an AM radio and a 45 rpm turntable powered by a constant speed motor. (RCA Victor, Camden, N.J.)

LANGHAM COURT THEATRE
8:15 p.m.
SMILE SHOW
Genuine English Vaudeville
Tonight, Friday and Saturday
$1 plus tax - Tickets at Kent's or at door

JAMES BAY HOTEL
Enjoy Our Home-Cooked Meals; Luncheon, daily 12 to 2
Dinner 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.
870 GOV'T ST. 4-7151

GET YOUR FREE MUSIC LESSON AT WARD'S
Test your musical ability before you start learning on the instrument of your choice.

WARD'S MUSIC STUDIOS
1230 Broad St., just off Yates
Phone 5-8116

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING STIMULATES BUYING

GRUBER CONDUCTS

Concert Attendance National-Scale News

I am not yet done with the Butchart Gardens symphony concerts. They are all finished now, the actual concerts, but their success, to put it mildly, can yet be put to useful purpose by those responsible for publicizing this city, and I mean the city—not the orchestra. It would be unbecoming for me to seek openly publicity for the orchestra or even for myself—to make capital out of the sacrifices made by the owners of the gardens in order to provide something unique for Victorians and visitors.

Not that our orchestra does not deserve the widest publicity and support. Their spirit and attitude might well be emulated by many another orchestra, and they would be far better off for it. Some day, when I am no longer employed by this Symphony Society, it will be easier for me to promote the orchestra in the manner that it deserves, for then no selfish motives could be ascribed to me.

All this by way of a necessary introduction to what I actually want to say without being too grievously misunderstood. Briefly, these Butchart Gardens concerts are stuff for nation-wide, even continent-wide publicity. There is no other similar event anywhere in Canada that comes within shouting distance of our concerts so far as attendance is concerned, and only the fewest musical or artistic events in the States which equal or exceed our attendance here.

In Europe, an attendance of anything like 5,000 people at one concert would be too fantastic to believe. As a matter of fact, we had the distinguished services of a now retired European oboist—Roger Dufrane, Professor of oboe at the Royal Conservatory of Brussels, with a life-time career of solo oboe under some of the world's most renowned conductors, including Bruno Walter, Beecham, Furtwaengler and Toscanini. (He is the father of Roland Dufrane, who is my one particular object of green envy towards the Vancouver Symphony Orchestra, and whose only teacher had been his father.)

Dufrane the elder came to visit his son for a few weeks from Belgium, and courteously consented to make a busman's holiday out of his brief Canadian visit and play our summer concerts with us—I had, incidentally, no difficulty whatever obtaining the necessary permission from the Musicians' Association for his participation.

And Dufrane Sr. was speechless at the crowds that confronted him at Butchart Gardens—to be sure, he regained his wind in time to do some exquisite blowing, but he confessed to greater nervousness than he ever experienced under Walter, Furtwaengler and Co.

Why, he said, if over 2,000 people attend a concert at the Salle Pleyel in Paris, or the Palais des Beaux Arts in Brussels, there are "éditions spéciales" of the newspapers! To him, these Butchart Gardens concerts were the most impressive experience of his long and distinguished career.

McMORRANS
Cordova Bay Limited
Present the Smooth Rhythms of REG WOOD and his Orchestra
DANCING EVERY SATURDAY NIGHT
TABLE RESERVATIONS—8-2218
COUPLES ONLY
ISLAND'S FINEST MAPLE FLOOR

SMILE SHOW ENDS TONIGHT
Jerry Gosley and his versatile troupe of artists in the vacation version of the "Smile Show," have been pleasing a number of United States visitors who have found their way to the Langham Court Theatre, off Rockland Avenue, this week.

Such favorable comments as—"this is the sort of thing we enjoy when we come up here for vacation"—have prompted Gosley to take an option on the theatre for next season and make tentative plans for a more extensive run. The current singing-dancing-laughing show ends with tonight's performance.

TWIN GABLES COFFEE SHOP
718 FORT ST.
NOW OPEN UNDER THE MANAGEMENT OF BUD CASTNER
Well-Known Victoria Restaurateur
Breakfast, Lunches, Dinners or Just a Cup of Coffee
Specializing in Afternoon Teas
Good Food at Reasonable Prices

ONLY 12 MINUTES FROM THE CITY HALL
MT. DOUGLAS PARK RESTAURANT
HILLSIDE
GOVERNMENT ST. DOUGLAS ST. BROADWAY
BARBOUR

LANGHAM COURT THEATRE
8:15 p.m.
SMILE SHOW
Genuine English Vaudeville
Tonight, Friday and Saturday
$1 plus tax - Tickets at Kent's or at door

JAMES BAY HOTEL
Enjoy Our Home-Cooked Meals; Luncheon, daily 12 to 2
Dinner 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.
870 GOV'T ST. 4-7151

GET YOUR FREE MUSIC LESSON AT WARD'S
Test your musical ability before you start learning on the instrument of your choice.

WARD'S MUSIC STUDIOS
1230 Broad St., just off Yates
Phone 5-8116

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING STIMULATES BUYING

THEATRE GUILD ANNOUNCES PROGRAM

Plans for the forthcoming season are announced this week-end by Victoria Theatre Guild. Another program of six full-length plays will be undertaken. These will include revivals of two older plays of proven worth—one, a comedy, "The Middle Watch"; the other a drama, "Bill of Divorcement," reports production chairman Len Lauck.

The three recent plays chosen are two comedies, "The Seven Year Itch" and "Bell, Book and Candle," and a crime-drama, "The Glacoda Smile."

Embarking for the first on a full-scale Shakespearean production, the guild will conclude its season with "The Taming of the Shrew."

Other innovations are planned, including some experimental theatre-in-the-round under studio director Bert Williams and tentative arrangements for radio work.

Those invited to direct major productions are Stan Wade, Bert Williams, Tommy Mayne, Audrey St.D. Johnson and Len Lauck.

After seven seasons in New York, Milton Berle will operate his television show from Hollywood beginning next fall.

The comedian will do at least nine hour-long shows in the usual 8 p.m. Tuesday spot for NBC, and possibly a few more. The format will be changed again, and Berle will be surrounded by new faces.

NORRBY DEANS FASTER THAN GEORGE HARRISON
"MASH" OF
TECHNICOLOR
KANSAS
—PLUS—
AFRICAN THRILL ADVENTURE!
JOHNNY WEISSMULLER
Cannibal Attack
Dominion

ENDS TODAY!
ELIA KAZAN'S
EXPLOSIVE PRODUCTION OF JOHN STEINBECK'S
"EAST OF EDEN"
WARNER BROS. PRESENTS A
CINEMASCOPE
WARNERCOLOR • STEREOPHONIC SOUND
JULIE HARRIS-JAMES DEAN
RAYMOND MASSEY
Plus-In Technicolor
"APACHE WAR SMOKE"
Starring GILBERT ROLAND
A FAMOUS PLAYERS THEATRE

Caught in the Cobwebs of Human Emotions!
RICHARD WIDMARK LAUREN BACALL CHARLES BOYER
GLORIA GRAHAM
LILLIAN GISH
"THE COBWEB"
JOHN KERR From 1948 in Cinemascope and Color!
EXTRA! TOM & JERRY CARTOON • PETER SMITH COMEDY SPECIAL TIMES-WARNER NEWS
Deers 1 p.m.
Feature 1:45, 4:15, 6:45, 9:15
Adults 1-2 50c, 3-5 60c, 5-9 35c
Students 50c "10" 5
Children 25c "10" 3
Including Gov't Tax
NOW SHOWING

ENDS TODAY!
GATEWAY TO THE WEST...
DOORWAY TO THE DEVIL!
WICHITA
CINEMASCOPE
TECHNICOLOR
JOEL MCCREA
VERA MILES • LLOYD BRIDGES
AN ALLIED ARTISTS PICTURE
1 p.m. to 2 p.m. 50c, 3 p.m. to 5 p.m. 60c, After 5 p.m. 50c
Students 50c "10" 5
Children 25c "10" 3
Including Gov't Tax

STARTS MONDAY! AT REGULAR PRICES
The most wonderful MISS-adventure of your life with a delicious desert island darling!
"The Adventures of Sadie"
A Desert Island Comedy in COLOR
JOAN COLLINS • GEORGE COLE • KENNETH ROBERTSON
MORE • HARE
Guest Star HERMIONE GINGOLD A GEORGE MINTER presentation
CAPITOL
A Famous Players Theatre
—PLUS—
CARTOON
LATEST NEWS
40c to 5 p.m.
incl. Gov't Tax

Don't miss the HORACE HEIDT SHOW

COMING August 24, 8 p.m. MEMORIAL ARENA

RESERVE YOUR TICKETS NOW BY MAILING THE COUPON TO EAGLE'S HOME, 75 VIEW ST.
Admission: $1.00, $1.50, $2.00, $2.50

Enclosed Find $... for Tickets at $...
EACH TO THE HORACE HEIDT SHOW-MEMORIAL ARENA, AUGUST 24 at 8 P.M.
MAIL TICKETS TO...

COSMOS NIP POLICE IN TIGHT MOUND DUEL

Steve Bishop and Don Collier hooked up in a rousing mound battle Friday night at Carnarvon Park in the opening game of the Pony League final.

Bishop gave up three hits; Collier gave up three hits. Bishop walked four; Collier walked four. Bishop struck out 16; Collier struck out 17.

The result: Bishop came out on top as his Cosmopolitan club nipped Collier's Police, 3-2, for a one-game lead in the best-of-three final.

Larry Duval clouted a pair of doubles and batted in two runs for Cosmopolitans and Police club's Jimmy Blackstock hit two singles.

Second game is slated for Sunday at 2 at Carnarvon Park.

WHITE ROCK PAIR IN 3 FINALS

Speaking of Bowling ---Ask the Hazletts

The sleepy little town of White Rock, on the lower B.C. mainland, is not noted for strenuous living. There, in an atmosphere calculated to lull tourists into summer doldrums, the main sport consists of avoiding the tides of sandy Boundary Bay.

So it is not surprising that the lethargic game of lawn bowling has produced a man and wife combination that has done exceptionally well in the Victoria Lawn Bowling Association's 28th annual tournament.

Playing judiciously apart, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hazlett have entered three finals today as the week-long tourney comes to an end.

Mrs. Hazlett has piloted her women's rink to a championship final while Mr. Hazlett has skipped two rinks to finals.

Mr. Hazlett leads his men's foursome against the squad of T. Owens of Vancouver, West Point Gray for the men's championship and on Friday he skipped a mixed rink into the final, beating Canadian Pacific's Glen Walkey in the semifinal, 13-11. He will meet Ernie Myers of Tacoma in the final, Myers having downed John Gavan of Stanley Park, 16-7, in the semis.

Mrs. Hazlett, president of the White Rock Ladies' Lawn Bowling Association, skipped her rink to victory in section four, and moved up through the sectional eliminations to meet Mrs. Baird and her Canadian Pacific foursome in the final.

Two other White Rock bowlers have combined to help put the seaside town on the Victoria lawn bowling map. They are A. Inglis and A. Morrison, who have marched into the final of the men's doubles Walter Cross Bowl secondary event.

On the other hand, the bustling Puget Sound city of Tacoma, where the playing of howls would seem to be strangely out of place, has placed a combination in the primary men's doubles event.

E. Myers and Lou Thomas, whose extra-victorious Thursday climaxed a week of tough competition, have entered today's final in the Martin Cup primary.

With all these visitors getting into the act, the only all-Victoria final their year will be in both events in the men's rink competition. In the Fort Garry Cup primary are Colin Ward, Canadian Pacific, and Archie Finlay, Victoria West, while Sam Barr, Canadian Pacific, and S. Baxandall, Beacon Hill, meet in the Bowden Cup secondary.

One final was played Thursday. Mrs. Gertrude Butterfield of Victoria Lawn Bowling Club defeated Mrs. C. Rumball of Terminal Club, Vancouver, 16-12, in the ladies' singles final.

Results of tournament play Friday are as follows:

S. F. Martin Cup, men's doubles—R. Harrison and B. Dalgarno (Victoria West) defeated S. Baker and W. Evans (Canadian Pacific), 29-16.

Cross Bowl, men's doubles—Parris and Middleton (Tacoma) defeated Dixon and Frew (Nanaimo), 11-9.

Seniors' Golf Opens Sunday at Oak Bay

The 33rd annual Seniors' Northwest Golf Association Tournament will start at Victoria Golf Club Sunday with an international team match.

LADDER DERBY

Results in the 10th week of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers Association Ladder Derby, with one day of qualifying fishing remaining, follow.

1-Mrs. F. Burton	27.08
2-John Castle	26.02
3-R. W. Ray	25.12
4-L. A. Gates	15.81
5-Marie Gilbert	12.08
6-Lorrie Bicket	12.08
7-Chas. Moss	10.04
8-W. Frost	10.04
9-John Murray	9.09
10-Bob Sailer	8.10
11-L. Littlewood	8.01
12-Chris Forstrom	7.13
13-Fred Hancock	7.13
14-Ron. DeWitt	7.08
15-R. T. Atwood	7.08
16-Fred Tucker	7.08
17-Mrs. L. Hayton	7.08
18-E. B. Walker	7.08
19-Mrs. Henry Lou Fay	7.01
20-Brian Colburn	7.01
21-S. Dwernychuk	6.10
22-Ken Martindale	6.08
23-Bud Pacey	6.08
24-M. J. Crutcher	6.08
25-L. Kitching	5.14
26-E. Allen	5.12
27-Fred Pendley	5.12
28-E. L. Osborn	5.09
29-C. Carter	5.09
30-John Bredin	5.03
31-W. Silver	5.03
32-Mrs. K. Stewart	5.03
33-William Pick	5.04
34-Mrs. E. M. Tang	5.04
35-M. Curran	4.10
36-N. Balfour	4.10
37-S. Duncan	4.08
38-A. N. Neilson	3.15
39-Louis Bell	3.12
40-Mrs. H. Wright	3.08
41-Mrs. B. Mac	3.03
42-Mrs. MacLean	3.03
43-Mrs. Rose Bentley	3.03
44-Jack Beatty	3.03
45-John Burgess	3.03
46-L. Lane	3.03
47-C. Bennett	3.15
48-W. H. Wray	1.19

City Was Well Represented

Tough-luck crew of the Little League baseball tournament in Vancouver this week was the American League All-Star team from Victoria. The Victoria kids gave up only one run in two games but it was enough to eliminate them. They won their first game, 5-0; lost second, 1-0. Front row, left to right, Brian Dave Francis of Victoria, driving his powerful new GMC, will be out to pick up his first main event victory of the season tonight at the stock car meet at Western Speedway.

AL Trailers Rear Up, Keep Leaders Honest

Victoria's Ken Higgs is still clawing his way into the den of the B.C. Lions football team.

The hard-hitting fullback, who is fighting for a backfield position with the Western Interprovincial Football Union Lions, survived the most drastic cut of the team Friday. A total of 10 players, including veteran halfback Jimbo Chambers and former University of Washington fullback Stew Crook, were cut adrift Friday as head coach Annis Stukus began pruning his big squad down to workable shape.

Higgs is expected to be at offensive fullback or defensive halfback Wednesday night when Lions meet Toronto Argos in an exhibition game in Vancouver.

HIGGS KEEPS BERTH WITH B.C. LIONS

By The Associated Press

Baltimore and Washington, reluctant tail-enders, have made the American League race as tight as a cork in a bottle.

Orioles and Senators, supposedly the soft touches who were to give Chicago White Sox and Cleveland Indians the edge on their eastern swing, pulled the string Friday night and sent the first-place brawl into a virtual three-way tie.

Baltimore topped White Sox 2-1 in 11 innings and Washington rapped Indians 7-5 while New York Yankees moved up from third place with a 3-0 decision over Detroit Tigers on Yogi Berra's 20th home run.

Six-place Kansas City Athletics knocked off fourth-place Boston Red Sox 5-2.

White Sox still hold the lead but by a mere two percentage points over Yanks and Indians. Boston is two games away.

Chicago errors figured in both Baltimore runs, with the clincher coming home as reliever Millard Howell muffed Willie Miranda's solo roller with the bases loaded.

MAGLIE DROPS AL DEBUT

At Washington, Nats gave Sal Maglie a rude welcome to the American League. The veteran right-hander, belted by the National League so much that New York Giants sold him to Cleveland last Sunday, gave up five runs in the first two frames.

Dean Stone tamed the Tribe on four hits until Indians broke out for their five runs in the ninth.

Berra joined Bill Dickey, Gabby Hartnett and Roy Campanella as the only catchers ever to slug 200 or more homers in the major leagues, belting his clout in the fourth inning after Tiger rookie Jim Bunning had issued his only two walks. Don Larsen won his second since coming back from the minors.

Kansas City snarled Red Sox with Gus Zernial's two home runs and a double and the relief work of Tom Gorman. The right-hander saved Vic Raschi's fourth victory. Frank Sullivan, Boston's 14-game winner, lost his ninth.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers lost to Chicago Cubs 10-8 but held their 15th game spread as Pittsburgh Pirates dumped Milwaukee Braves 8-5.

CHINOOK CLUB

The Chinook Club, the exclusive club of Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association members who have 20-pound catches to their credit, will hold its annual club derby Sunday in Saanich Inlet.

The big-game fishermen will be seeking prizes in a derby that runs from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. Included in the prize list are a set of silverware, pair of binoculars, steam iron, hassock, electric kettle and radio lamp. A teapot and a rug will be hidden weight prizes. Prizes will be awarded on a selective basis.

Chinook Club members will be permitted to fish with VSIAA members who are seeking places in the Ladder Derby. All VSIAA rules will be in effect for the derby. Weight-in stations will be at Hall's Boat-house at Goldstream and at the Brentwood Anchorage.

Thomson Takes Lead In Tam O' Shanter

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Peter Thomson, 25, reigning British open champion from Melbourne, Australia, ripped seven strokes off Tam O'Shanter's par for a 65 and a halfway lead of two strokes in the $25,000 All-American golf tourney Friday.

Thomson's great round left him eight-under for 36 holes.

Thomson, who opened with a 71 Thursday, fashioned a sizzling 31-34 round against Tam's 36-36-72 as he just missed the $10,000 reward for breaking the course record of 63 held by Lloyd Mangrum.

The field was whacked to 80 players for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday, with 147 being the qualifying limit. This knocked out, among others, 1953 U.S. open champion Jack Fleck, who had a second-round 72 for a 149. Others brushed aside included Chandler Harper, Pete Cooper and Johnny Palmer.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver fired a 73 Friday to go with Thursday's 70 for a 143 total.

Two strokes behind Thomson at the 36-hole mark in the quest for $3,420 first prize were 1953 U.S. PGA champion Doug Ford and Al Menger, runnerup in the 1952 U.S. amateur, each with 138. Ford and Menger each banked his second straight 69.

Minor Lacrosse

Next week's minor lacrosse schedule at Stevenson Park follows:

Monday: Diaper League—10 a.m. Tigers vs. Fair Oaks; 11 a.m. Blue Bombers vs. Green.

Tuesday: Pee-wees—10 a.m. Saanich vs. Fair Oaks; 11 a.m. Equinox vs. Fernwood.

Thursday: 10 a.m.—Girls vs. Boys. Saturday: Pee-wees—9 a.m. Fair Oaks vs. Fernwood; 10:15 a.m. Fernwood vs. Saanich Butler Bros.

First game: 100 100 2-4 11 1 San Francisco 100 000 2-3 6 0 Portland 100 000 2-3 6 0

Second game: 100 000 000-1 6 2 Portland 100 000 000-1 6 2

Adams, Lind and Landberg, Prachia and Ritchey.

Now You Can Own A

Chris-Craft

AND SAVE MONEY, TOO!

Chris-Craft

Now You Can Own A

Chris-Craft

Now You Can Own A

Chris-Craft

Now You Can Own A

Chris-Craft

MEETS MOE NORMAN

Crawford Gains Canadian Final

By TED MOSER, Canadian Press Staff Writer

CALGARY (CP)—East and West in the persons of Moe Norman of Kitchener, Ont., and Lyle Crawford of Vancouver, battle for the Canadian Amateur golf championship today.

They tee off on the first half of the 36-hole final at 9 a.m. MST and start their second half over the Calgary Golf and Country Club course at 2 p.m.

It promises to be a tight duel. The 22-year-old Vancouver car salesman led the British Columbia Willington Cup team to a victory a week ago with a pair of record three-under-par 67s over the same course.

Norman trounced Doug Bajus of Vancouver 7 and 6 and Crawford whipped Bob Kidd, another Vancouver amateur, by the same score in the 36-hole semi-finals.

Norman toured the links Friday, making a sensational five-under-par 65 in the first round of his semi-final, two strokes over the course record held by Henry Martell, Edmonton professional.

Crawford ousted Norman in the quarter-finals of the amateur last year, but the Kitchener shotsmith has steadied his game since.

This is the first all-Canadian final since 1951, when Walt McElroy of Vancouver downed Phil Farley of Toronto. Since then, the Earl Grey Cup has gone to Americans.

Norman, a fast golfer, smothered Bajus in a barrage of birdies to climb to the final. On the first 18 he had five birdies and 13 pars.

The six-foot four Bajus, who deliberates every shot, stroked three-under-par 67 with three birdies and the rest par.

In the afternoon round, Norman made three birdies and took three more when Bajus holed out over par. Norman lost one hole when he went over on the 405-yard 25th with three putts from 40 feet.

Crawford won the last three in a row, ending the match with a flourish, making an eagle three on the 30th with a 55-yard approach shot that went home.

Aussies Win

But Get Stiff Battle

GLEN COVE, N.Y. (AP)—Ken Rosewall and Rex Hartwig ran into unexpected opposition from a pair of 23-year-old Tokyo scramblers Friday but managed singles victories which sent Australia off to a 2-0 lead over Japan in their Davis Cup inter-one tennis competition.

Rosewall defeated Miyagi, the Japanese titleholder, 6-4, 6-1.

Hartwig, subbing for the benched Lew Hoad, overpowered wee Kosei Kamo, 8-6, 6-8, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

Berra joined Bill Dickey, Gabby Hartnett and Roy Campanella as the only catchers ever to slug 200 or more homers in the major leagues, belting his clout in the fourth inning after Tiger rookie Jim Bunning had issued his only two walks. Don Larsen won his second since coming back from the minors.

Kansas City snarled Red Sox with Gus Zernial's two home runs and a double and the relief work of Tom Gorman. The right-hander saved Vic Raschi's fourth victory. Frank Sullivan, Boston's 14-game winner, lost his ninth.

In the National League, Brooklyn Dodgers lost to Chicago Cubs 10-8 but held their 15th game spread as Pittsburgh Pirates dumped Milwaukee Braves 8-5.

CHINOOK CLUB

The Chinook Club, the exclusive club of Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association members who have 20-pound catches to their credit, will hold its annual club derby Sunday in Saanich Inlet.

The big-game fishermen will be seeking prizes in a derby that runs from 6 a.m. to 4 p.m. Included in the prize list are a set of silverware, pair of binoculars, steam iron, hassock, electric kettle and radio lamp. A teapot and a rug will be hidden weight prizes. Prizes will be awarded on a selective basis.

Chinook Club members will be permitted to fish with VSIAA members who are seeking places in the Ladder Derby. All VSIAA rules will be in effect for the derby. Weight-in stations will be at Hall's Boat-house at Goldstream and at the Brentwood Anchorage.

Minor Lacrosse

Next week's minor lacrosse schedule at Stevenson Park follows:

Monday: Diaper League—10 a.m. Tigers vs. Fair Oaks; 11 a.m. Blue Bombers vs. Green.

Tuesday: Pee-wees—10 a.m. Saanich vs. Fair Oaks; 11 a.m. Equinox vs. Fernwood.

Thursday: 10 a.m.—Girls vs. Boys. Saturday: Pee-wees—9 a.m. Fair Oaks vs. Fernwood; 10:15 a.m. Fernwood vs. Saanich Butler Bros.

First game: 100 100 2-4 11 1 San Francisco 100 000 2-3 6 0 Portland 100 000 2-3 6 0

Second game: 100 000 000-1 6 2 Portland 100 000 000-1 6 2

Adams, Lind and Landberg, Prachia and Ritchey.

Now You Can Own A

Chris-Craft

Sports Menu

TONIGHT

Lacrosse: 8:00—Nanaimo Arena, Shamrock vs. Nanaimo Timbermen, Inter-city Lacrosse League.

Stock Car Racing: 7:30—Western Speedway, start of time trials of regular stock car meet.

SUNDAY

Softball: 2:30—Central Park, Victoria City vs. Petchers, Victoria Men's Senior A Softball League.

2:00—Hwywood Avenue Park, Trade-Ace vs. Equinox, Victoria Men's Senior B Softball League semi-final.

6:30—Hwywood Avenue Park, Mary's Coffee Bar vs. Petchers, Victoria Men's Senior B Softball League semi-final.

Crestline: 12:30—University School, Inco vs. Albion, Victoria and District Cricket Association.

11:00 a.m.—Beacon Hill Park, East vs. West all-day cricket match.

JUVENILE BOXLA

Norm Parker scored two goals and three assists Friday night to lead Jokers to an 11-2 victory over Hail & Co. Big Horns in a juvenile lacrosse game at Stevenson Park.

OWN the BEST!

PIONEER MODEL HM

FROM $258.00 UP

• FASTER CUTTING

• FEWER REPAIRS

• LOW-COST OPERATION

• DYNAMIC POWER

• DIRECT DRIVE

Distributed by

ALF BECKER

2981 Tillamook Rd.

Phone 4-6114

IRA BECKER & SONS

Nanaimo

THERE'S A GREAT FUTURE IN AVIATION

START TRAINING NOW!

RCAF

SPECIALIST TRADES

ELECTRONIC

INSTRUMENT

AERONAUTICAL

RADIO-RADAR

AIRFRAME

ARMAMENT

AND MANY OTHERS

The RCAF will train you in an important aviation trade—on the latest equipment using up to date methods. You get full service pay from the start. Medical and dental care, clothing, food and lodging are all provided. You go on to enjoy progressive and rewarding career in aviation, with a pension ahead.

Go Air Force! There's a future in aviation for trained men.

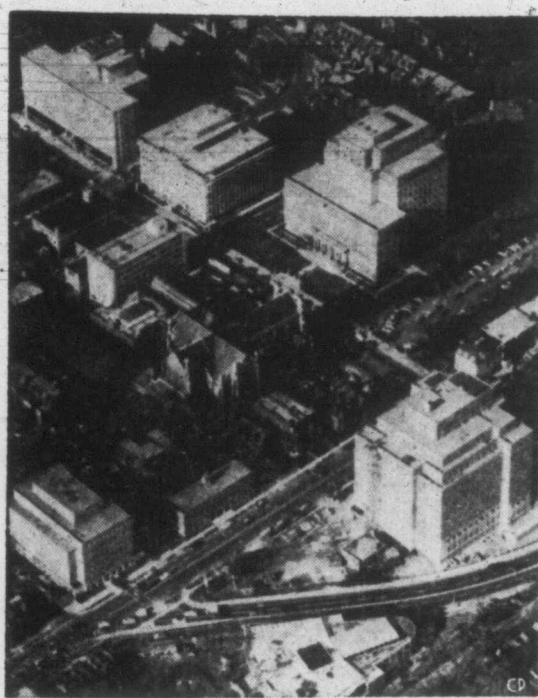

See the RCAF Career Counsellor at

RCAF RECRUITING UNIT

1315 Government Street, Victoria, B.C.

Phone: 3-0636 or 3-0334

TRAVEL AHEAD - WITH THE RCAF

MUSHROOM GROWTH of 20 new buildings is bringing greatly expanded business activity to the Yonge-Bay-Bloor area in midtown Toronto. At lower right is the new $8,000,000 structure recently completed for Confederation Life Assurance. Other white buildings at lower left and top centre, are also new buildings constructed by insurance companies. Attractive landscaping and off-street parking are features of all five insurance buildings. Staff and tenants will exceed 4,000. (CP Photo.)

More Strikes Threaten U.S.

Many Unions Striving to Win Similar Deal to Auto Workers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Strike activity in the United States is increasing and the trend may continue through the rest of the year. The reason is this: Labor unions say their members rate a bigger share in the country's prosperity, while many employers say they can't afford to meet the union's demands.

Governments are of the opinion that this haggling over the fruits of the industrial boom is likely to grow more intense in the remaining months of 1955.

They feel that unions all over the country will be trying to match the early summer settlements in the auto and steel industries and that smaller and perhaps less prosperous employers may put up more resistance.

The three-year auto contract called for wage, pension and guaranteed layoff pay provisions amounting to about 20 cents an hour in labor costs. The one-year steel agreement called for an average boost of 15 cents an hour.

James Finnegan, director of the federal mediation and conciliation service, said in an interview he looks for a rash of scattered small strikes during the late summer and fall.

"It seems to me some of these smaller companies may be heading for trouble," Finnegan said. "Whether the little fellows are going to be able to absorb that kind of labor cost increase is something else again."

Labor Secretary Mitchell reported at a press conference there were 2,075 work stoppages during the first half of this year, causing 11,200,000 man-days of idleness. This compared with 1,330 strikes and 9,010,000 idle days in the first half of 1954.

Canadian and U.S. stock markets didn't come out of the past week entirely unscathed but they did manage to hold most of their setbacks to nominal values. International announcements of measures to curb inflation reacted particularly on the New York market, but the resultant recession was short-lived and prices turned back again in late-week transactions.

Canadian markets followed New York down after an announcement Wednesday from the Federal Reserve Bank in Washington that four federal reserve banks had raised discounts on loans, meaning dearer rates for borrowing.

Although there was no word at that time of Canada planning any anti-inflation measures, stock markets in this country did not follow New York in its upswing at close of the week.

On the Canadian exchanges, however, an adjustment probably was due after months of climbing prices and big volumes. The civic holiday at Toronto Monday was a welcome break for that section of the market, where trading volume in the first seven months this year has exceeded that for any previous full year.

AFTER MARKET CLOSE
Canada's move to tighten credit wasn't announced until Friday night, when the Bank of Canada boosted its interest charges on loans to chartered banks and other institutions to two per cent from 1½.

Uranium again occupied the stage for a spell at Toronto. On Wednesday, Trade Minister Howe said no more special price contracts for uranium would be negotiated after March 31, 1956. After that time, he said, only the guaranteed minimum price of $7.25 for acceptable ores would be applicable.

Uranium reacted sharply at the opening Thursday with an all-around slump. They edged back a little and on Friday were the only group to show a consistent upswing, although gains ran only to pennies.

In the industrial gains and losses went mostly to five points at best, although National Steel Car fell 9½ to 33½ after jumping up 11½ last week. Best gainers, between one and five points better, were Ingersoll A. Power Corporation, Canadian Bronze, Gaspe Copper, Canada Life, Crown Trust, Dominion Magnesium, Empire Life and Goodyear.

HUDSON BAY IMPROVED
Base metals were mixed. Best improvement went to Hudson Bay, up 3½ to 68½. Golds was the only section to show improvement on the index of 20 key issues. Among western oils, Comoil was a standout, shooting up $2.20 to $3.80. Biggest loss went to Calgary and Edmonton, off 1½. At New York, the Associated Press average of 60 selected stocks fell 3.10 to 175.50. Prices at Montreal generally followed the downward path of Toronto stocks.

ROYRAN CONVERSION
To Be at 1 for 2
MONTREAL (CP)—Royran Gold Fields, Limited, Friday announced directors have approved a capital reorganization plan, subject to shareholders' approval and an option and underwriting agreement.

Under the proposal, present authorized capital of 5,000,000 shares would be reduced to 2,500,000 shares on a basis of one new share for every two shares held.

The authorized capital would then be increased to 5,000,000 shares.

There now are 4,600,000 shares outstanding.

Volkswagen Produces Its Millionth Car

WOLFSBURG, Germany (UP)—The German Volkswagen automobile works celebrated production of its 1,000,000th car today by cutting prices for the domestic market from $38.40 to $32.40.

Director Heinz Nordhoff, "Prince of the Volkswagenfest," made the announcement at a press conference in conjunction with a people's festival that brought nearly 100,000 visitors to the small industrial city for the occasion.

The price cuts meant a standard model costs $304.52 in Germany as compared with the former price of $342.71.

Nordhoff announced that daily production would be upped from 1,280 vehicles to 1,500 within 18 months. He also said a new plant would be built at Hannover-Stoeken to build eight-passenger buses and utility trucks.

P.E.I. Wants Coast Trade Open to All

CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I. (BUP)—The Prince Edward Island government has joined with the governments of Nova Scotia and Newfoundland in protesting plans for Canada's coastal trading being restricted to Canadian ships.

The P.E.I. government Friday presented a brief to the Royal Commission on coastal trading which held a one-day session here. The commission will complete its Maritime hearings with a session in Saint John, N.B., on Monday.

The governments and businessmen of the Atlantic provinces have protested the proposal of the Canadian ship-building industry and seamen's unions for coastal trading to be limited to Canadian flag vessels. The Maritimes claim that it would result in greatly increased transportation costs, especially for Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island.

Britain's Trade Policy May Have To Be Tightened
TORONTO (BUP)—Britain's dropping exports to Canada may force a change in its liberal trade policy affecting Canadian industry, James S. Duncan, chairman of the Dollar-Sterling Trade Council and president of Massey-Harris-Ferguson, said today.

Duncan said British exports to Canada were down by $20,000,000 for the first six months of this year while Canadian exports to Britain were up $100,000,000 over 1954, establishing a record.

The Dollar-Sterling Trade Council felt Britain would be forced to change her liberal trade policy unless the situation was brought into balance, he said.

Canadian exports to Britain would expand as Britain's dollar position improved, but Britain might tighten up trade restrictions if its exports to dollar countries continued to decline, Duncan explained.

He also announced that A. E. (Dal) Grauer, chairman and president of the British Columbia Power Corp. Ltd., had become a member of the Dollar-Sterling Trade Council.

British Columbia played an important part in stepping up Canadian exports to Great Britain, Duncan said. The United Kingdom recently increased purchases of British Columbia lumber, newsprint, aluminum, base metals and canned salmon.

CLEARINGS UP
Cheques cleared by Victoria banks this week totaled $2,512,876 more than the corresponding figure for a year ago, the Victoria-Clearing House reports.

Total value of cheques circulated here this week came to $12,220,017, compared with $9,707,141, the figure for one year ago.

WESTERN PLYWOOD COMPANY LIMITED
Notice of Redemption of Bonds
To the Holders of the 4½% First Mortgage, Sinking Fund Bonds, Series "A" due May 1st, 1955.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on the 1st day of October, 1955, the above Company, pursuant to the provisions of a Deed of Trust and Mortgage dated the 1st day of May, 1948 between Western Plywood Company Limited and The Canada Trust Company, intends to redeem all of its bonds which may then be outstanding.

The redemption price will be the principal amount thereof and interest accrued thereon to the date of redemption together with a premium of 1% of the principal amount thereof payable at the option of the Holder at any branch of the Bank of Montreal in British Columbia or at the main office of the said Bank of Montreal in Montreal, Toronto or Winnipeg.

The only upon surrender of the said bonds with coupons due on and after November 1st, 1955 attached, and in the case of registered bonds, payment will be made only to or upon order of the registered holder thereof. From and after the redemption date interest on the said bonds ceases and coupons for interest to accrue thereafter will be null and void.

DATED at Vancouver, B.C. this 30th day of July 1955.
WESTERN PLYWOOD COMPANY LIMITED.
Per: THE CANADA TRUST COMPANY, TRUSTEE, VANCOUVER, B.C.

Under the contract the 15,000 hourly-rated employees will be pensioned at 60 instead of at 65. Disabled employees may retire on pension earlier.

Union members also get a general wage increase of five per cent retroactive to July 1, when the old contract expired. Wages are raised 8½ to 11 cents an hour, bringing the basic rate to $1.96½ from $1.87.

International Nickel Workers Win Eleven-Cent Hourly Pay Increase
SUDBURY, Ont. (CP)—A new wage contract giving 15,000 International Nickel Company employees at Sudbury and Port Colborne pay increases of up to 11 cents an hour was signed Friday by Inco and the Independent International Union of Mill and Smelter Workers.

The 1955 contract, which the union says is the best ever negotiated with Inco, was signed in the company offices.

BEASTALL ADVISES

Healthy Bulbs Needed For Fall Planting

By JACK BEASTALL

The wet days have provided a chance to work on the spring flowering bulbs which were dug a few weeks ago. The semi-green tops are now dry and the roots easily removed, sure signs the bulbs are ready for cleaning.

Cleaning is a term which can mislead the beginner. It is sometimes interpreted as removing the jackets or ripened outer skins, but these should be left intact.

The process called cleaning is really an inspection to determine if the bulbs are sound or whether insects or disease are present.

Narcissus bulbs, that is, all the daffodils, jonquils and so forth, usually are the first to receive attention. The old roots are removed with a sharp pull to expose the basal plate. If the roots do not come away fairly easily, the bulbs should be left for further drying.

The oval shaped dark brown base or basal plate should be firm with no holes visible. If it is damp and of a loose corky texture, scratch it with the thumbnail and see if a hole enters the base of the bulb. If so, discard it.

Some bulbs may have no base and no roots. These have suffered basal rot and should also be discarded. The loose and dried leaf ends hanging from the neck of the bulbs are removed and any loose earth on the jackets is rubbed off.

When the outer skin or jacket is loose it will shed as the earth is removed. This cannot be helped, but solid jackets should not be forced off the bulbs. The only time a jacket is intentionally removed is when doubt exists as to the condition of the bulb.

A loose jacket will sometimes reveal an underskin which is brownish-black, sticky, very tight and lacking the healthy look of a good skin. One cause of this is rotworm damage and such bulbs are discarded.

A sound and healthy bulb is firm to the touch, reasonably heavy for its size, with a rich brown underskin. A spongy bulb is usually hollow and contains the grub of the narcissus.

WEEK'S WORK
BY JACK BEASTALL
Plant fall flowering bulbs as sternbergia (winter daffodil or lily of the field), Crocus zonatus, C. speciosus, C. sativus and colchicum (which is also called a crocus, though not one), as soon as available.

Cut stems of faded roses back to next bud.
Feed gladioli as flower stems appear.

Prick out seedlings of perennials sown last month.
Bac 1 cuttings of all types of hydrangeas may be taken now.

Fuchsias which have finished flowering may be cut back somewhat to produce cutting material for September rooting.

Feed tomatoes, squash, cucumbers, sweet peppers.
Plant out young cabbage for spring.

Remove terminal shoots and varieties of tomatoes (not determinate or bush types).
Cut lavender flower spikes for drying as flowers open.

Clip huxus (box) with shears.
BURRARD DRY DOCK COMPANY LIMITED
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a quarterly dividend of 12¢ per share on the Class "A" shares of the company has been declared payable on the 15th day of September, 1955, to shareholders of record at the close of business August 24th, 1955.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD,
J. W. HUDSON,
Secretary-Treasurer,
Vancouver, B.C.
August 2nd, 1955.

PAN-ABODE
Prefabricated Cedar Log Buildings
All Custom Cut
B.C.'s Most Attractive Homes
Contact Your Exclusive Dealer
T. J. DE LA MARE
2851 Tudor Ave., Victoria, B.C.
Phone 7-1074 or 7-3585

NEVER BEFORE AN OIL BURNER LIKE THIS!
THE SPECTACULAR NEW MODEL R-160 LOW-PRESSURE Williams OIL-O-MATIC
Replace your old unit with this wholly new concept of burner design, dependability, economy. Come in or phone for full facts.

ANDERSON OILMATIC HEATING
Phone Day or Night: 4-2380

"KNOW A GLADWELL MAN"

WALT JACQUES

Walt says if you're thinking of a new car—get it now. A Free Trip to Hawaii for two may fall in your lap. Be one of the first one hundred buyers of a new car from Gladwell's. You may be awarded this wonderful all-expense vacation in glamorous Hawaii.

ALL YOU HAVE TO DO...
Say in 25 words or less: "Why you purchased your Ford Product from Gladwell's." All testimonials submitted become the sole property of Gladwell Motors and Gladwell's shall have the full right to publish any or all testimonials submitted. Decision of the judges will be final.

Hurry in soon and choose from these new cars:
Anglia - Prefect - Consul
Zephyr - Mercury - Meteor at Gladwell Motors Ltd.
Pandora at Quadra 2-2111

French Girl Named Speediest Typist

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (CP)—A Paris typist, Mrs. Germaine Zalle-Gabriel, won a high-speed test with 723 strokes a minute—equal to about 145 words—in the world typing championship held here this week. In this test the typists repeated a sentence chosen by them.

DIVIDENDS

G. Tumbler, 25 cents, plus 5 cents extra, payable Oct. 1; record Sept. 26, Aug. 31.
Deltic Mine, 2 cents, payable Oct. 1; record Aug. 27; ad Aug. 18.

Canadian Government, Municipal and Corporation Securities

612 View Street
Victoria, B.C.
Telephone 2-4261.
Wood, Gundy & Company Limited

20% SAVINGS ON PERSONAL INSURANCE

Let us review your present or proposed insurance requirements and show you our program of Savings - Convenience - Efficiency and Satisfaction
No Obligation

Brown Bros. Agencies Ltd.

Phones: 3-1183 3-1866 1125 Blanshard St., Victoria, B.C.

Gillespie, Hart & Co. Ltd.

JOHN HART, President

INSURANCE - REAL ESTATE - BONDS AND STOCKS

BUILDING LOANS - MORTGAGES

CAR FINANCING AT 5%

611 Fort St., Victoria (Established 1911) Phone 4-1181

Investment News—

To the Shareholders of—
Canadian Car & Foundry Co. Ltd.

Avro of Canada have offered to purchase all of the Class A and ordinary shares of Canadian Car & Foundry Company at $30 per share. The Directors of the Company have accepted this offer, and it is generally recommended that shareholders likewise consent.

For acceptance, it is necessary to forward share certificates, together with proxy, both signed, to an authorized receiving office. For your convenience, the facilities of this office are placed at your disposal, and we will be pleased to forward the necessary papers, etc., for acceptance, free of charge.

HAGAR INVESTMENTS LTD.

614 Yates St., Victoria, B.C. Telephone: 4-0531

For Rent

STORAGE

AT REAR OF JONES BUILDING ON FORT STREET

Approximately 3,500 sq. ft. consisting of approximately 700 sq. ft. on ground level with double loading doors and access across parking lot on Broughton Street; and approximately 2,800 sq. ft. of basement suitable for storage or a business which does not require frontage on a main street.

NATIONAL TRUST COMPANY LIMITED
727 FORT STREET TELEPHONE: 2-9188

CLACK AND CLAYTON ARCHITECTS

Announce that

MR. HARRY PICKSTONE

B. Arch., A.R.I.B.A., M.R.A.I.C., A.M.T.P.I.

Has Become a Partner in the Firm as From August 1, 1955

THE FIRM NAME WILL BE

CLACK, CLAYTON, PICKSTONE
ARCHITECTS AND TOWN PLANNING CONSULTANTS
905 COURNEY STREET, VICTORIA, B.C.

CREDIT BUREAU OF VICTORIA LTD.

205-10 JONES BLDG. — 723 FORT ST. — 2-9111

MEMBERS ASSOCIATED CREDIT BUREAUS OF CANADA AND AMERICA
CREDIT AND PERSONNEL REPORTS - COLLECTIONS AND ADJUSTMENTS
SERVING VICTORIA'S BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL MEN SINCE 1911

A. E. Ames & Co. Limited

Business Established 1889

Members

Toronto Stock Exchange

Montreal Stock Exchange

Royal Trust Building: 612 View Street, Victoria, B.C.

Telephone: 3-4171

TORONTO MONTREAL WINNIPEG VANCOUVER CALGARY
NEW YORK LONDON, ENG.

WANTED

EXECUTIVE ASSISTANT

FOR LARGE AUTOMOBILE DEALERSHIP

Must have sales ability and automotive background. Excellent remuneration. Apply in own handwriting stating experience, sales record and other pertinent facts.

All Replies Treated in Confidence. Apply Box 547, Victoria Press

Mortgage Loans

N.H.A. LOANS AT 5%

25-Year Term

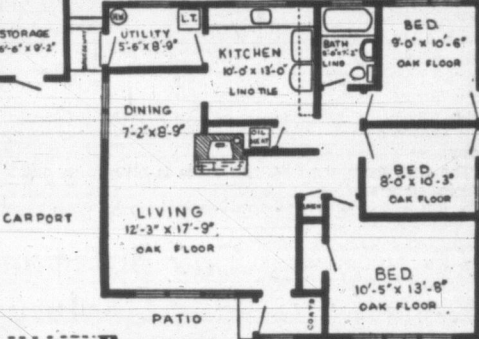

CONVENTIONAL LOANS AT 6%

20-Year Term

Ker and Stephenson LTD.
Applications Will Receive Our Prompt Attention
900 GOVERNMENT PHONE 4-4127

$525 DOWN

N.H.A. (on your own lot) N.H.A.

1,104 square feet of attractive ranch-style bungalow; oil heat, oak floors, fully insulated, wired for range, electric hot-water heater, brick planter. N.H.A. Loan 5%. Real low monthly payments.

FULL PRICE $9325

Estimates Gladly Given on Your Own Plan

Numerous Other Plans Available for Your Convenience

WESTERN HOMES LTD.

611 YATES STREET 2-2157

Whether You Are BUILDING A NEW HOME

Or Changing Your Present HEATING SYSTEM

Insist on the Finest

Investigate

WILLIAMS

"LO-PRESSURE"

Before You Buy

SAVE UP TO 40% ON YOUR HOME HEATING COSTS!

EXCLUSIVE Metroland LOW Pressure

EUREKA Williams

OIL-O-MATIC

Home Heating Units

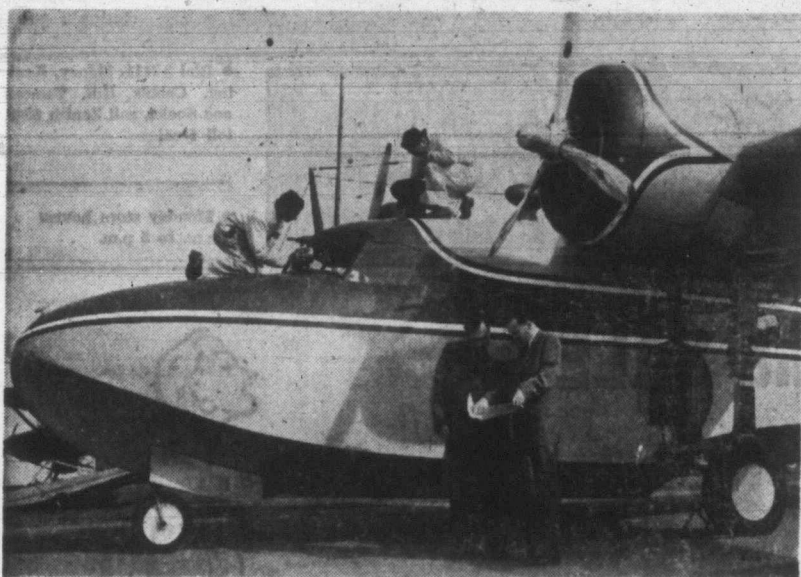

PHONE NOW FOR FREE ESTIMATE

SOLD, INSTALLED AND SERVICED BY

W. R. MENZIES & CO. LTD.

SINCE 1905 911 FORT ST. PHONE 3-1112

Plumbing Heating and Appliance Centre

THIS IS THE TYPE of plane which is the object of an intense search in the rugged Kitimat-Kemano area. It is a twin-engine, 10-passenger, Grumman Mallard, an amphibious craft used extensively in B.C. coast airline operations. The missing plane, owned by Pacific Western Airlines, has been unreported since Wednesday with five men aboard.

Search for PWA Plane Pressed Into Fourth Day Without Success

Vancouver Island Viewpoint

From Up-Island Newspaper Editorial Columns

Historical Society Needed

PARKSVILLE QUALICUM PROGRESS

Who opened the first store in Qualicum Beach? Who built the first house in Combs? Who was the first school teacher in Parksville? Answers to these and many similar questions relating to the history of the Parksville-Qualicum Beach district have been given in the past by our pioneers, but those pioneers are gradually passing from the scene. The Progress has published the life stories of many pioneers, including the late Tom Kinkade, Mrs. Bob Craig and the Topliffes at Combs, but a complete history of the area can only be compiled through the formation of a Historical Society. An organization of that type would provide a meeting place where our pioneers could record data on the early years and enjoy the reminiscences which would be part and parcel of each meeting. The Progress will be pleased to assist the pioneers in the formation of any organization which believes that the history of this area should be compiled as soon as possible, so that it can be passed on from generation to generation.

Improve CBC Publicity

COMOX DISTRICT FREE PRESS

The rather deplorable type of "reporting" which has appeared recently in the Vancouver Sun, in connection with the CBC will be pretty hard to combat in the minds of many people who delight in, and combat with, the Sun's persistent attacks on the government sponsored broadcasting system.

But the CBC has a way to combat this type of attack and it need not try to mimic the daily paper's mudslinging in doing so.

The first thing the CBC should do is revamp its public relations program.

In this office we receive a great many publicity handouts from the various organizations, and we feel that the CBC's contributions are just about the worst.

Almost weekly we, along with all other B.C. weekly newspapers presumably, receive mounted engravings which would cost us, if we were to have them made ourselves, between one and two dollars each. This type of advertising is not only expensive but it is, from our observations of other papers, seldom used.

Recently Terry Tobacco appeared on television, so did H. E. Wilson, another local man. But no press release told us when these people would appear on the television screens. If we had received such information we would have been only too glad to pass on the information to our readers.

CBC isn't going to get any more sympathizers, listeners or viewers by sending out publicity on people from the east, especially when that publicity isn't used. We think the CBC would get far more followers if it localized its publicity.

Sidney Customs Port?

SIDNEY REVIEW

In a communication to this newspaper this week, this district's member of parliament, Maj. Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., said in fun that even at 3 o'clock in the morning during an all night sitting of the House of Commons he had Sidney's interests at heart. Many a true word is spoken in jest. He certainly did have Sidney's interests at heart when he pressed Hon. J. J. McCann, minister of national revenue, to raise the status of Sidney's customs office to that of a full port with a collector in charge.

The minister promised that consideration will be given to the proposal. Because the suggestion is so sound, it is inconceivable that the customs department will not act on it and create the new Port of Sidney without delay.

For many years all the facilities of a custom port were provided here. Those were the doldrum years of Sidney's existence. There was little business and practically no growth. With the Second Great War Sidney stepped into high gear. The commercial centre expanded and the population soared. To the amazement of everyone, the customs department chose that period to reduce the status of the port here to a mere outer wharf of the Port of Victoria.

Such an action on the part of some uninformed customs executive, definitely applied the brakes to Sidney's progress. The brake is still hard on. The immigration department has promoted its office into a fully autonomous unit. To date the customs branch has failed to follow suit.

Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce is deserving of public commendation for the assistance it is giving General Pearkes in fighting the battle of the Sidney customs house. We are confident that the battle will be won and a further impetus thus given to Sidney's continued growth and expansion.

CROFTON HOUSE SCHOOL

RESIDENT AND DAY PUPILS

Founded by the Misses Gordon, 1898

PRIMARY CLASSES TO MATRICULATION

Accredited by the Department of Education

MUSIC • ART • HOME ECONOMICS
GYMNASTICS • GAMES • DANCING • RIDING DRAMATICS • GIRL GUIDES • BROWNIE PACK

Apply to Principal
MISS ELLEN K. BRYAN, M.A.

3200 W. 41st Ave., Vancouver - Telephone KErr. 4380

"A CITY SCHOOL IN COUNTRY SETTING"

Island Digest

Victoria Daily Times SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1955 11

Milkmen Vote, Favor Walkout

Island Producers Concerned In Distribution Wage Dispute.

Island dairymen were faced today with the prospect of a strike that would have a serious affect on producers.

Eighty-six per cent of Victoria milkmen favor a walkout if contract demands are not satisfied, the first supervised strike vote in B.C.'s dairying history showed this week.

Ballots were cast at three Victoria dairy farms by 160 employees, and called Friday night by a government supervisor.

Local milk drivers and inside dairy workers accepted a conciliation report granting wage and working parity with Vancouver dairy employees, but employers rejected the award, which would mean a wage boost.

TUESDAY VOTE

A separate award for Vancouver workers is still being considered by the union and will be voted on next Tuesday.

Further action locally will depend on whether or not the Vancouver conciliation report is rejected and a strike vote carried on the mainland.

A spokesman here said Friday a strike vote likely would be delayed a week to 10 days from Tuesday in Vancouver.

He added it seems unlikely there will be a dairy strike.

Legacy Left Home

CUMBERLAND — The Senior Citizens' Home here has received a $612 legacy from the will of the late Davey Jones, one-time prospector and district resident who died here last March, age 89. Mr. Jones prospected from Mexico to Alaska.

Four Men Jump to Safety As Two B.C. Tugboats Sink

VANCOUVER (CP) — Four Vancouver men scrambled to safety Friday night when their tugboats sank within a half-hour of each other in the north arm of the Fraser River.

Owners of the tugs, Stradloff Bros., identified the tugboat men as Dick White and Tom Penfold, skipper and deckhand on the 38-foot tug Strady 7; and Orville Brown and Ed Morrison, skipper and deckhand, on the 30-foot tug Strady 4.

The Strady 4, a wooden vessel, sank 15 feet of water within a few yards of the company's office when a scow it was bringing alongside a boom over-rode it and forced the tug under. Brown and Morrison scrambled on to the boom as the boat went down.

Half an hour later the Strady 7 got into trouble when it swung about while manoeuvring a boom. The steel tug heeled over when it changed course and took water over the side.

RCAF Summer Training

COMOX — RCAF personnel, 140 strong, are spending two weeks at the air base here for summer training. The trainees come from Calgary.

Going to the Dogs?

COMOX — Trained border collies will highlight the Comox valley fair. The dogs are owned and trained by Mike Williams, formerly of Sandwick and now Penticton.

Saanichton Dance Will Aid Armless Child

SAANICHTON — Nine-year-old Lynn Wright of this area, who lost part of an arm after it was caught in a meat grinder Monday, will benefit from a dance here Wednesday at Saanichton Agricultural Hall, sponsored by Central Saanich volunteer firemen.

Proceeds will be used to pay hospital expenses and to buy an artificial limb for the child.

Ted Spencer and his nine-piece orchestra are donating their services.

Donations to the fund may be mailed to the firemen's secretary, Maurice Mitchell, at Saanichton post office.

Victoria Pensioners Tour Nanaimo District

NANAIMO — Approximately 200 members of the Victoria Old Age Pensioners' organization, Branch No. 5, spent a day here Thursday, arriving by special train.

Nanaimo Kiwanis Club provided bus service to the large group on a sight-seeing tour of the area.

NORFOLK HOUSE SCHOOL

Norfolk House School is now able again to provide for the education of girls from Kindergarten to Matriculation. In addition to Primary, Elementary and Junior High School classes, Senior High School courses will be resumed and girls wishing to prepare for Matriculation can enter Grade Ten in September. The course of studies will be planned to meet Matriculation requirements in Optional as well as Compulsory Subjects.

For further particulars apply headmistress, residence 4-3794, school 4-3676.

Sprott-Shaw Sprott-Shaw

Enroll NOW on the road to SUCCESS

Stenography
Accountancy
Secretarial
Speedwriting
Salesmanship
Business Administration
Comptometer
Civil Service

Good salaries go to Sprott-Shaw GRADUATES! A highly-trained and experienced staff is ready to give the best possible instruction in Business Courses. Take advantage of Sprott-Shaw School's Reasonable Rates. Get the training you need for Success and Happiness in the business world. Enroll in the Fall Term.

Day and Night
Classes in Progress
J. H. Beatty Miss E. Noonan
Pres. Principal

Sprott-Shaw

School of Modern Business for 43 Years
DOUGLAS at BROUGHTON 4-8121

History of St. Ann's Academy Goes Back to Fraser Gold Rush

B.C.'s first Catholic private school got its start in this city in 1858, year of the raring, tearing gold rush on the Fraser River.

Today, backed by nearly a century of tradition, St. Ann's Academy still has the same goal: to provide students with a fully-rounded education and religious instruction.

In addition to the regular B.C. curriculum, the 18 sisters of St. Ann, conduct courses in Bible history and Bible study and offer an extensive music program.

MANY PROTESTANTS
Character training courses are given to non-Catholics, who approximate one-fifth of the total enrollment of 400 students.

The gray and green brick building, in a setting of cypress trees and gardens, has room for 50 out-of-town students "in residence."

They come from as far away as Central America and the Philippines to take part in the school's activities.

Under direction of sister superior Mary Velma, St. Ann's has graduated many outstanding students. This year, seven took honors in government examinations.

The honors are not confined to education. Athletics are an important part of the curriculum and "our girls usually bring home the cup," sister Mary Gladys says.

TAKE ON ALL COMERS

Instruction is given in badminton, tennis, basketball and volleyball. St. Ann's teams play

DEEP-SEA SHIPS IN PORT

(MORNING POSITIONS)

Victoria (Ogden Point)—St. Audrey, Leonardis Michaelos, Esquimalt—St. King Stephen, Alberni—St. Sunkirk, Castle Harbor.

Cherninus—St. Pantanassa, Laida.

Crofton—St. Caledonia Monarch.

Nanaimo—St. Benedi, Campbell River—St. Haralamos Hadjipateras.

OCEAN MAILS

(Closing Dates at Vancouver)

Aug. 13—Oregon Mail, Japan, Hong Kong, Philippines.

Aug. 20—Waltomo, New Zealand.

ST. LOUIS COLLEGE

Victoria's Catholic Day School for Boys

Corner Pandora and Vancouver Sts.

Grades 5 to 12 inclusive

REGISTRATIONS from 4 to 5 and 7 to 8 p.m. each day after August 21, at the Brothers' Residence, 959 Balmoral.

Phone 3-7744

Registrations for non-Catholics in Grades 5, 4 and 7 definitely closed.

PROVINCIAL NORMAL SCHOOL

Corner Lansdowne and Richmond Avenue

Phone 3-5721

Registration for the session 1955-56 at the Normal School is nearing completion. Candidates for admission, who have not already filled in a registration form, should apply immediately by letter, phone or in person. Hours for registration are from 10.00 a.m. to 12.00 noon and 2.00 p.m. to 4.00 p.m., from Monday to Friday, August 12th, inclusive. Minimum requirement for admission is complete University Entrance. Applicants should bring or send their University Entrance Certificates when applying. The session begins on Monday, September 12th.

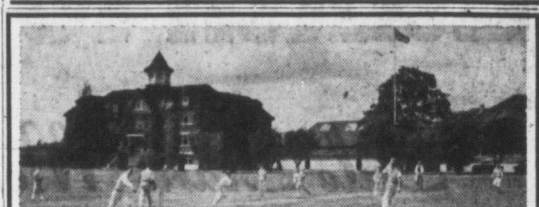

in the high-school circuit here and each year visit private schools in Vancouver and New Westminster for tournament competition. The academy is one of 25 private schools of St. Ann in B.C. and the Yukon which teach grades one to 12. Students are prepared for a general or university program. Although no commercial course is offered, typing and shorthand is optional in high school.

SIX CANADIAN WARSHIPS WILL VISIT N.Y. CITY

HALIFAX, N.S. (BUP)—Six Canadian warships and two British submarines, all based at Halifax, will visit New York City Aug. 18-22.

The navy announced Friday night that 3,000 Canadian and British sailors had been invited to take part in New York's summer festival.

The squadron will consist of the 18,000-ton aircraft carrier Magnificent, the 8,000-ton cruiser Quebec, the destroyers Haida, Huron, Micmac and Iroquois, and the Royal Navy subs Ambush and Astute.

UNIVERSITY SCHOOL

Residential and Day School for Boys, Grades III to XIII
Fall Term Begins September 13
Boarders return September 12
Headmaster J. J. Timmis, M.A. (Oxon) O.E.D.F.E.D.

CORRECT CLOTHES

for Private School Wear

BOYS' SCHOOLS

Glenlyon University School

Malvern House

St. Michael's

St. Christopher's

(Kindergarten)

GIRLS' SCHOOLS

St. Margaret's

Norfolk House

It's time to be making plans for the School Year ahead... time to take advantage of the Private School Needs selection and knowledge available at Wilson's, official outfitters for the schools listed at the left. Visit our Junior Department downstairs.

W & J WILSON LIMITED

Government St.—Opposite Post Office—Tel. 3-7177

B.C. INDEPENDENT SCHOOLS ASSOC.

The following schools, members of the Association, will reopen in September. Please communicate directly with the principals, who will be pleased to send particulars.

St. Michael's School

Day and Boarding School for Boys—Est. 1910

Fall term starts September 13th

School at Windsor and Roslyn House at 1231 Victoria Ave.

Phone 3-9767

K. C. SYMONS, M.A. (Oxon)

Queen Margaret's School

DUNCAN, V.I., B.C.

Country Boarding School for Girls

Beginners to Matriculation

Own Chapel

Swimming Pool, Farm, Ponies

MISS M. C. DENNY, A.R.R.C.

MISS D. R. GEORGEAN, B.A.

Norfolk House School

VICTORIA, B.C.

Kindergarten - Grades 7 - X

Reopens Monday, September 12th

Headmistress

MISS D. W. ATKINS, M.A.

Residence, 4-3794 School, 4-3676

University School

Victoria, B.C.—Founded 1906

Residential and Day School for Boys

Grades III to XIII

Fall term begins Sept. 13

Boarders return Sept. 12

For prospectus apply to Headmaster

J. J. TIMMIS, M.A. (Oxon)

St. Margaret's School

VICTORIA, B.C.

Residential and Day School for Girls

Kindergarten to Matriculation

Fall term September 13th

Principal

MISS H. M. PEARCE, B.A.

Phone: 3-3013 - 4-3614

Glenlyon Preparatory School for Boys

1701 BEACH DRIVE VICTORIA, B.C.

Residential and Day School for boys, ages 7 to 14

J. IAN SIMPSON, M.C., M.A. Headmaster

School Reopens September 12th

EATON'S

The Store for Young Canada!

Outfits the Private School Student

Girls . . .

Blazer—green, red, navy

Tunics—navy

Berets—navy, green, red

Shirts—white

Shorts—green, navy

Navy Bloomers

Girdles

Crests

Knee Socks—navy, wool and cotton

Ankle Socks—red, navy and white

Boys . . .

Grey Flannel Suits

Grey Flannel Long Pants

Grey Flannel Knickers

Grey Flannel Shirts

Grey Broadcloth Shirts

Grey Worsteds

Grey Worsteds

Grey Worsteds

Blue Worsteds

Jerseys

Navy Gabardine

Coats

Navy Eton Caps

Bathing Trunks

Pyjamas

Underwear

Grey Knee Socks

Boys' and Girls' Dress and Play Shoes

In Victoria, it's the Bay — where there's always something new and exciting!

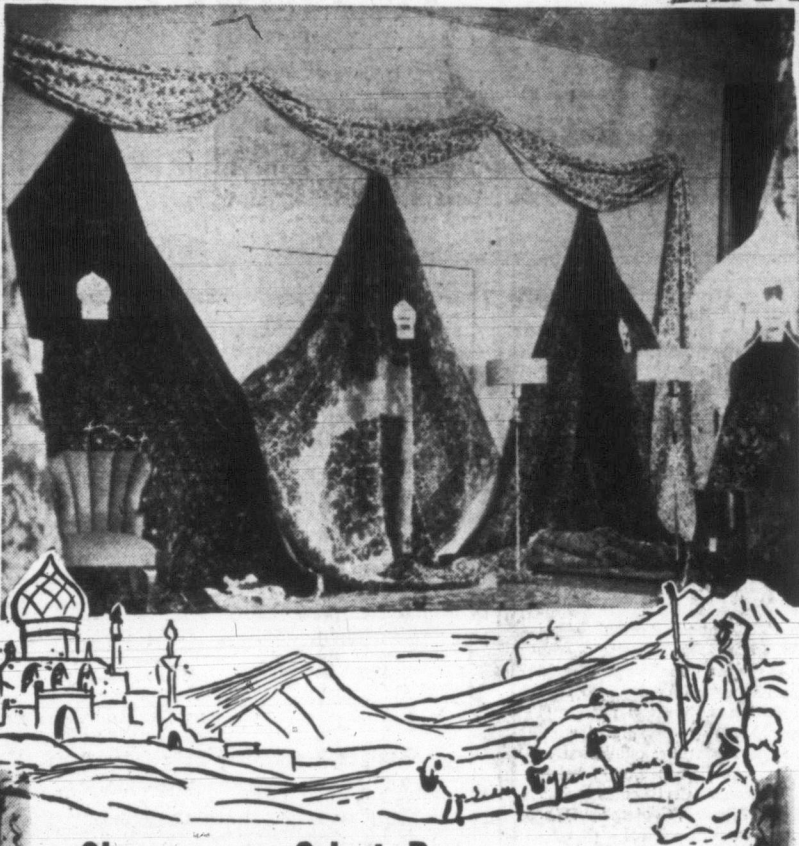

• Dial 3-7111. Sidney, Keating, Cobble Hill, Duncan and Sooke, call Zenith 6646, toll free!

• Monday store hours 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

First Canadian Showing! Travelling Exhibit and SALE of Luxurious Oriental Rugs

Sale Starts Monday, Aug. 8, at the Bay!

- Choose from this outstanding "Travelling Show" of Oriental "works of art"; any one of which, in your home will give years of pride and beauty.
- Every one of these rugs is a true investment in long service and artistic pleasure for home lovers of distinctive taste.
- The rug you choose will be a masterpiece of design and color, whether your budget allows only a scatter size or a large room size rug.
- Choose from hundreds in authentic designs for modern as well as period furnishings. Just come and browse.
- Make your selection NOW — take advantage of SPECIAL SAVINGS at the BAY during this Big Show.

Choose your Orient Rug from this travelling show— And consider these Facts

This exhibit was organized by the BAY and is in Victoria on its first stop on cross country tour. Every rug was personally hand-picked by our expert rug buyer to suit your taste. Oriental rugs represent an important investment and you have to make certain you can trust the integrity of the firm from which you buy. You can put your implicit faith in the BAY'S over 285 years of merchandising know-how!

Expert Preparation of Wool. In the market places where native Persians barter for wool, there rises an occasional cry of "Aahla." It marks a trader seeking only the supreme quality of highland wool. Expert preparation of wool is essential, too. It is spun by hand and dyed by age-old methods never excelled by modern science.

In rug weaving, as in other arts, the finished product reflects the skill of the individual craftsman. Consequently, since only the better rugs are in this group they evidence an art and skill inspired by generations of rug-making. This superior work finds expression in beauty of design as well as in closeness and regularity of weave.

Inspection of every rug. In the Orient, rugs are usually sold by the bale, the purchaser receiving rugs of unknown quality. Those in this show were selected individually only after severe inspection. You can be assured that the rug you choose will glow in clear gem-like tones and give long years of wear and become tomorrow's heirloom.

Only one in a hundred. The comparative excellence of these rugs may be judged by the fact that only a limited number from the hundreds available for acceptance was chosen for this tour. Here is your opportunity to take the guess work out of Oriental rug buying. Select yours at the BAY now and be proud and happy for years.

Your purchase brings you definite assurance of value.

You can choose from many styles and sizes for any room or spot in your home with the assurance that your rug represents the highest quality of workmanship and that all this is possible at a SPECIAL SALE PRICE only during this showing at the BAY in Victoria.

See this glamorous display of Fabulous rugs in the BAY'S Douglas Room, 3rd Floor.

Because of the extent of this Show, the first of its kind in Canada, we have placed it in the Douglas Room where space and natural lighting are available to show off these exciting rugs at their best. A well-known authority on rugs will be in constant attendance to answer your questions. Take advantage of this rare opportunity to examine this exclusive collection of rugs at the BAY.

Bring distinctive and lasting Beauty to your home with one of these Heirloom Quality Rugs . . . the ultimate in good taste!

Choose YOURS from these most famous types on display at the BAY!

Unequaled beauty for your floors—at modest cost. Distinction that cradles every footstep in luxury. That's what you'll find at the BAY during this Sale. No longer do you have to be a near-millionaire to own one of these rugs—no, far from it. Despite their glorious patterns, gem-like tones, silky texture, these rugs are priced to suit your budget and room scheme.

Let your yearning for the best and distinctive good taste come to the fore. Take advantage of this outstanding event! You'll look upon your purchase as an unparalleled wise investment, promising you returns of luxury, beauty and timeless fashion for untold years.

• Hamadan—Name given different types of rugs woven in the mountains and villages surrounding that ancient city. Entirely hand-made by skilled weavers, featuring rich reds, blues as predominating colors. Hamadans give long wear and retain their interest and fine appearance.

Sizes from 2'6"x4' at $42.50 to 11'x15' at $775
Terms available in all sizes . . . only 10% down.

• Super Chinese—The most luxurious and at the same time most economical of modern rugs. The enormous weight of woollen yarn used in the making, accounts for their being impossible to wear out. They retain their lovely sheen and beautiful appearance almost indefinitely. Occasional soap and water wash restores and freshens the sheen without in any way impairing the quality.

1 ONLY—Size 12'x18' at $2250
Terms available in all sizes . . . only 10% down.

• Kashmir—Superlative type of Indian rug, with rich sheen and very heavy weight of wool. Subdued, shimmering, flowing tones woven into design especially suited to modern decor. The luxury counterpart to the famous British India rugs that have been so popular in recent years. Will wear and wear and keep their glowing beauty for years.

Sizes 6'x9' at $350 to 9'x12' at $685
Terms available in all sizes . . . only 10% down.

• Sarouk—The classical design of medallion and straight borders with well-covered field has given way somewhat to the modern Sarouk in floral effect. Weaving goes on in many districts and only the work of the most reliable weavers whose knots run about 120 to the square inch are included in this collection. They are firmly packed with good yarn that will wear many long years.

Sizes from 6'x9' at $395 to 11'x18' at $1450
Terms available in all sizes . . . only 10% down.

• Kirman—Is generally accepted as the most desirable of fine Persian rugs to possess. Classical designs have been adopted to a more modern, graceful and flowing line. These Kirmans have about 210 knots per square inch and great care was taken to use the best yarn, properly processed and packed. Pastel shades of ivory, rose, blue, green are used in addition to rich wine red.

Sizes from 2'x4' at $75 to 10'x20' at $1895
Terms available in all sizes . . . only 10% down.

BAY Travelling Rug Exhibit and Sale, Douglas Room, 3rd

You can own your rug and have the pleasure of its beauty in your home now for only 10% down. Make your choice! See how it looks in your home! You'll revel in the charm it lends to your room! Then pay only 10% down and the balance over many months. Accounts may be opened in the Douglas Room during the period of the Show!

POOLED EFFORTS OF THOUSANDS OF REPORTERS
Through Canadian Press, Associated Press and United Press over 24-hour-a-day wire service make possible the complete world news and picture service in the Victoria Daily Times

More Freshie please, Mom!

FOR PICNICS, PARTIES AND WITH MEALS YOU SIMPLY CAN'T SERVE A MORE SATISFYING, KIDS-FAVOURITE FRUIT DRINK THAN THIRST-QUENCHING

Freshie

Canada's most popular, non-carbonated fruit drink made in a jiffy! Just add water, sugar and you have 10 big delicious glasses... real economy! Choose from 6 popular flavours, at your grocer's.

WHEN SHOPPING ALWAYS PICK UP AT LEAST 6 PACKAGES FROM THE FRESHIE DISPLAY.

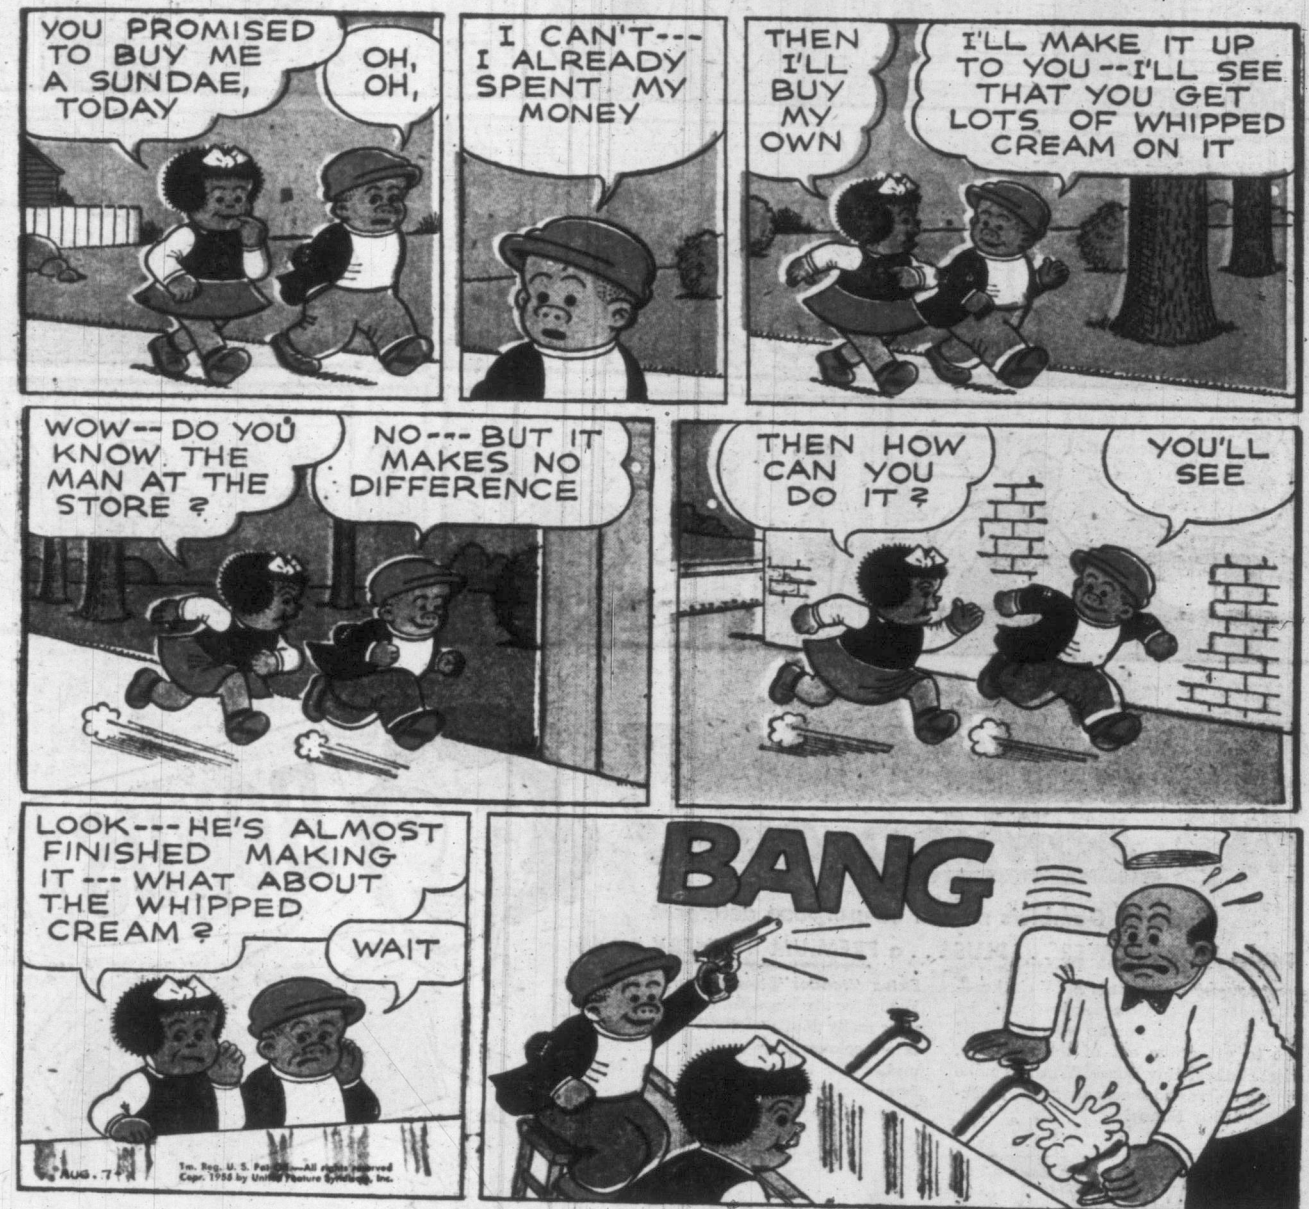

SEND FOR YOUR FRESHIE BEVERAGE SET—A big 50 oz. Canister and 5 colourful 10 oz. Tumblers—$2.00 value—yours for $1.00 and 5 empty Freshie pgs. Send for yours today, to FRESHIE, PREMIUM, INDUSTRY ST., TORONTO 15, ONT.

For today's news today... Read The Times Every Day

Nancy

By ERNIE BUSHMILLER

Only AJAX with "FOAMING-ACTION!"

Cleans so Quick! Polishes so Bright! Works so Easy!

3 ALUMINUM FRYING PANS ONLY 1.00

PLUS 25¢ POSTAGE & HANDLING WITH 2 AJAX BATHS

To get your set send 2 Ajax bonds with $1.25 to:
AJAX FRYING PANS, DEPT.
POST OFFICE BOX 1562,
TORONTO, ONTARIO.

AJAX CLEANSER

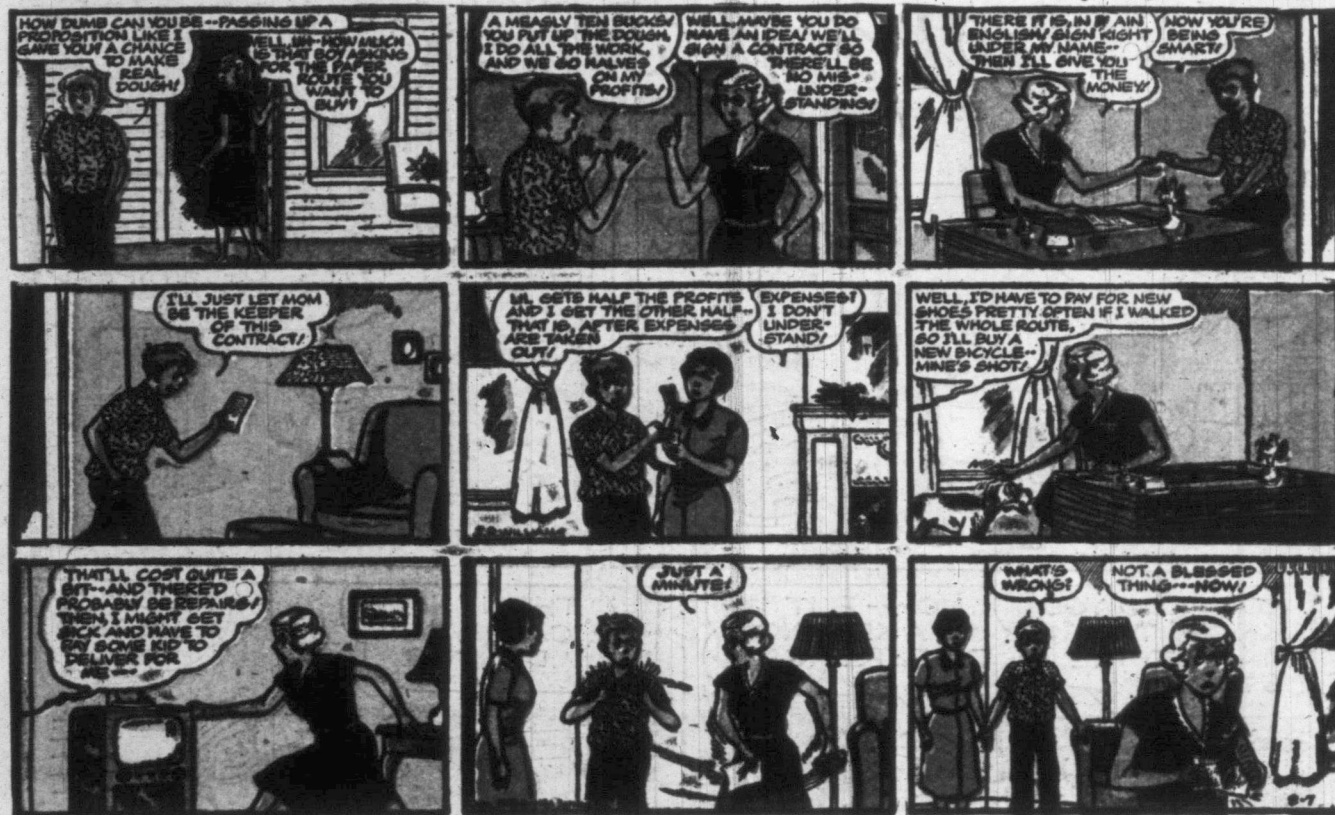

NEW TYPE FOAMING CLEANSER POLISHES ALL CLEAN CUTS GREASE FAST

AC 1

OUT OUR WAY

The Willets

By J. R. William

DIGS OUT DIRT like nothing else!

Procter & Gamble's newest all-purpose detergent packs MORE POWER ... PLUS ... a PREMIUM IN EVERY BOX!

Extra "tough" detergent! ANY clothes—ANY water—ANY time you just can't get clothes cleaner than you do with BONUS! Want to get grime out of the sturdiest, dirtiest clothes? Buy Bonus! Want to make sure your shirts and sheets are snowy, blazing white? Buy Bonus!

Extra "tender" touch, too! You'll bless Bonus for the beautiful way it takes care of your really dainty clothes! Your pastels ... bright colours ... your nicest nylon or rayon undies love the tender treatment they get from snowy Bonus suds! No need to add bleaches or bluing!

- TAMES the toughest water!
- GOBBLES up grease!
- PRETTIES up your pretties!
- SAVES a pretty penny!
- So KIND to hands!

Look at the extras you get!

EXTRA-SIZE 30" TEA TOWEL
IN EVERY GIANTBOX OF BONUS!
This husky, strong towel fairly drinks up the moisture! The extra quality means extraordinary long wear! You'll see!

EXTRA-FLUFFY FACE CLOTH
IN EVERY LARGEBOX OF BONUS!
One of the fluffiest, softest face cloths you've ever had the pleasure of washing your face with! And it'll stay nice and fluffy with Bonus washings!

Look! BONUS is your bargain! Better buy some TODAY!

VICTORIA SUNDAY TIMES COMICS

August 6, 1955

Buz Sawyer

FEATURING HIS PAL
ROSCO SWEENEY
By ROY CRANE

ASK THE TIMES: Something puzzling you? Send the question to "Ask The Times Editor" on anything in this world or out of it, this age or any age. See the answers every day on The Times' local pages.

August 6, 1955

VICTORIA SUNDAY TIMES COMICS

13

Major JET has just landed here with a cargo of

SUGAR JETS

NEW! DIFFERENT!

The sugar-frosted oat 'n' wheat cereal!

Nothing like Sugar Jets! They're toasty-golden puffs of nutritious oats 'n' wheat frosted with just the right amount of sugar! You get the energy-giving values from three great foods... wheat, oats and sugar.

Betty Crocker of General Mills recommends Sugar Jets... the sugar-frosted oat
'n' wheat treat
children love.

WOW! SUGAR JETS COMBINE THE RICH CRUNCHINESS OF OATS 'N' WHEAT WITH A SWEET CANDY TASTE! Ask Mom to get some!

MAJOR JET SAYS: For breakfast or snacks Sugar JETS give you so much energy you feel JET-PROPELLED!

General Mills (Canada) Ltd.

JET UP AND GO WITH SUGAR JETS!

"ON THE TIMES" with Arthur Stott—a column every member of the family is eager to get first

FREE GOLD RUSH LAND

Get Real Deed to 1 sq. inch of Land in Yukon Gold Rush Country!

VICTORIA SUNDAY TIMES COMICS

You'll Actually Own
1 sq. inch of Yukon Land

SEND TODAY for your authentic deed that makes you the actual owner of 1 square inch of land near the famous gold rush town of Dawson in the fabulous Klondike area of the Yukon. All you do is fill out the order blank and send it along with a boxtop from one of the delicious Quaker Cereals shown at right. Send no money — just follow directions on order blank.

August 6, 1935

FACTS ABOUT YOUR YUKON LAND

The land you'll own is in the famous Klondike Gold Rush Country of the Yukon in northernmost Canada. Here during the Gold Rush men fought the savage climate to wrest fortunes from the bleak hills and freezing rivers. Temperatures on your land go down to 70 and 80 degrees below zero... your land gets colder than it ever gets even at the North Pole. If you were on your property in temperatures like this it would be dangerous to take deep breaths!

LUST FOR GOLD!

Nothing is stranger... or stronger... than the lust men have for gold. In the Gold Rush men fought the wildest country on earth and the most savage of climates to get to the Klondike where your land is. During the winter the only way to the gold fields was by "mushing" for week after week. The more fortune-

Deed makes you owner of land right here

nate were aided by dog teams pulling sleds. No one knows how many brave men died along the frozen Yukon River that runs past your land.

Deeds Give Full Legal Rights

The Quaker subdivision, in the heart of the famous Yukon Gold Rush Country, has been divided into 1-square-inch tracts of land. These tracts have been charted on a master plot, and all the deeds are individually numbered to correspond with it. Your land deed will give you full legal rights. Here is an excerpt from the deed:

"To have and to hold the said lands and premises with the appurtenances and every part thereof unto the said grantee his heirs and assigns to his and their sole use, benefit and behoof forever"

It's Free! Mail order blank below with just 1 boxtop from any one of these delicious Quaker breakfast cereals. (If Pack-O-Ten's your favorite, send a yellow name panel instead of boxtop).

SEND FOR YOUR FREE DEED NOW!

MAIL THIS ORDER
BLANK TODAY
(1 sq. inch Plot of Land Are Limited)

ORDER BLANK! SEND NO MONEY!

Mail to: The Klondike Land Company, Peterborough, Ontario. Please send me an authentic deed to 1 sq. inch of Klondike land. I enclose 1 boxtop from either Quaker Mufflets, Quaker Puffed Wheat or Rice or a yellow name panel from Quaker Pack-O-Ten (send only one).

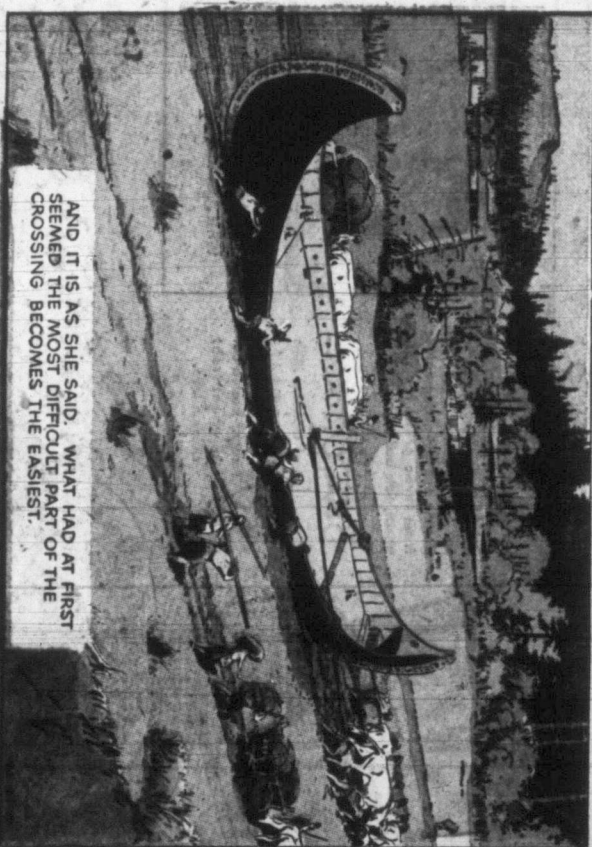

NAME _____ PLEASE PRINT
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ PROV. _____

THE DAILY TIMES — VANCOUVER ISLAND'S MOST-QUOTED NEWSPAPER!

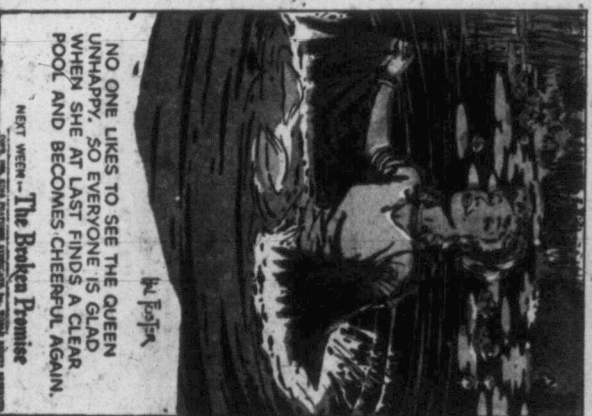

August 6, 1935

VICTORIA SUNDAY TIMES COMICS

11

AND IT IS AS SHE SAID, WHAT HAD AT FIRST SEEMED THE MOST DIFICULT PART OF THE CROSSING BECOMES THE EASIEST.

NO ONE LIKES TO SEE THE QUEEN UNHAPPY, SO EVERYONE IS GLAD WHEN SHE AT LAST FINDS A CLEAR POOL AND BECOMES CHEERFUL AGAIN.

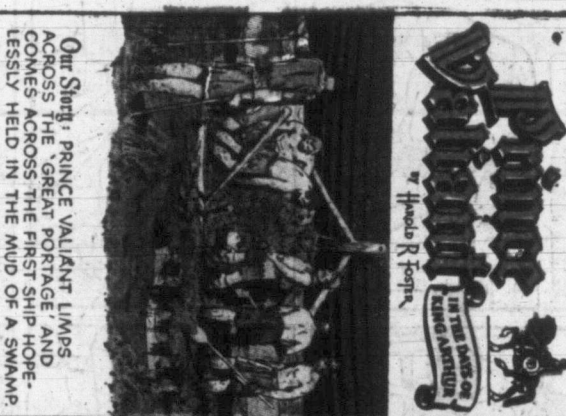

NEXT WEEK — The Broken Promise

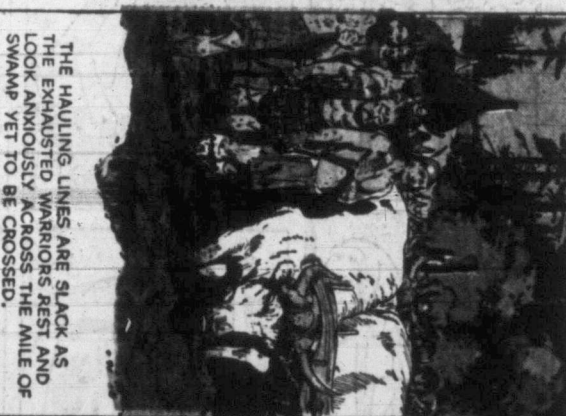

THERE IS SILENCE AS THE MEN WATCH THEIR QUEEN GLIDE SMOOTHLY AWAY. A KINDLY STUMP HALTS HER PROGRESS.

"TAKE THE SHIP OFF THE CARRIAGE," SHE ADVISES. "I CAN GUARANTEE THAT IT WILL SLIDE EASILY!"

Our Ship, PRINCE VAUCLANT LUMPS ACROSS THE GREAT PORTAGE AND COMES ACROSS THE FIRST SHIP HOLE-LESSLY HELD IN THE MUD OF A SWAMP.

THE HAULING LINES ARE SLACK AS THE EXHAUSTED MARINERS REST AND LOOK ANXIOUSLY ACROSS THE MILE OF SWAMP YET TO BE CROSSED.

ONE OF THE TWINS ESCAPES AND TODDLES HAPPILY OUT ON THE SQUISHY MUD. ALETA, IN HOT PURSUIT, SLIPS.

Store Workers Provide Solarium Dental Clinic

Pledge of $3,000 to the Queen Alexandra Solarium building fund was made today by Eaton's Employees' Charitable Association at a gathering of employees on the main floor of the local department store. Money is earmarked for a dental clinic in the future Solarium building at Gordon Head. Mrs. Margaret Smith presented a cheque for $1,000 to Solarium canvasser Austin I. Curtis, with the balance to be donated by 1957. With Mr. Curtis are association members Miss Noni Pearson, Miss Hazel Combs, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Kay Kerr. President W. Gilmour, also a member of the Solarium board of directors, announced that Eaton's department stores of B.C. have donated $5,000 to the fund. Total collections now amount to more than $440,000. (Times Photo.)

Special Section to Record B.C. Progress of Last Decade

In the 10 years since the end of the biggest periods of expansion of Second World War British Columbia has undergone one of its population has jumped at

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

I don't know about you, but I sometimes despair of the Queen's English as she is spoke.

In fact, I often wonder why the Queen doesn't give up and order all her loyal subjects to speak sanskrit or some other sensible language.

The other day, for instance, I overheard a chap say to another chap "It hit me like a bolt from the blue."

I was dying to ask him what he meant, but, I was eavesdropping (or should I say adamsdropping on account they were men I was eavesdropping on?) so I couldn't.

But I'd like to have asked him, what size bolt from which blue hit him? And where? And did he have to go to the hospital?

I was most anxious to know which blue the bolt (quarter inch? Three-eighths? Engine-type? Machined or cast?) came from. The blue Danube? The blue horizon? Ben Blue? Where the blue of the night meets the gold of the day?

That's the trouble with the Queen's English, people are forever using expressions like "bolt from the blue" without explaining what they mean.

It makes me cross—in fact, hotter than a pistol. Incidentally, how hot does a pistol get? Probably it doesn't even get warmed up, and the whole thing is an old wives' tale.

Which, I presume, is a tale told by someone's old wife, and not nearly so reliable as a tale told by someone's new wife. But if so, how old does a new wife have to be before the tale she tells becomes an old wives' tale?

Trying to figure this out makes me as mad as a March hare, which is, no doubt, madder than a February hare but not as mad as an April hare.

But I don't want to take a dog in the manger attitude toward the Queen's English, as she is spoke. (By the way, seen any dogs in mangers lately? What does a dog want with a manger, anyway, when it can curl up on the chesterfield? Dog, get out of that manger right away or I'll clip your wings. What wings? Don't ask me.)

But look where this train of thought is taking me. (Choo, choo!) I'd better try to get back on the beam (12 feet 6 inches) before I go off my trolley (clang, clang) because I'd like to be fit as a fiddle (b-o-o-o-inng)—so I'm going to drop this subject like a hot potato (ouch).

Where's the nearest school of sanskrit?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Union-sponsored resolutions for submission to the annual convention of B.C. Trades Union Congress September 28, should be prepared and turned over to Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council as soon as possible, secretary Percy Raymond said Friday.

Educational radio programs sponsored jointly by Victoria Labor Council (CCL) and Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (TLC) begin September 18, continuing each Sunday evening at 10:25 over CJVL.

Victoria centre, Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, will hear Dr. R. O. Redman, The Observatories, Cambridge, England, discuss the sun at a meeting in the College-Normal School auditorium, Monday at 8:30 p.m. This is the second of five lectures for astronomy beginners.

Three city youths, aged 18, 17 and 16, were taken to Victoria

QORs to Vernon On Week-Long Show-How Visit

About 100 soldiers of Second Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada leave Camp Gordon Head Monday to give a week-long demonstration of latest support weapons at Vernon Army Cadet Camp.

The men, wearing full battle dress, will leave Gordon Head in convoy at 1 p.m. for the CPR docks.

Weapons to be demonstrated, some of which the rifle battalion used in Korea, replace earlier models of similar purpose, and include the 80 mm. mortar, 106 recoilless rifle, 60 mm mortar and a new Browning machine gun.

Officers in charge of the company will be Capt. T. W. MacDonald, MM, and Lieut. W. J. Gorchinsky and H. J. Traynor.

police station for questioning at midnight Friday when a home-made blackjack was discovered during a routine police check of the car in which they were riding. The 17-year-old was cautioned in front of his parents after he admitted making the weapon. "He wanted to be a big-time operator," the police report said.

Crazy mixed up vegetables! Mrs. J. Schettler, who lives at 750 Daffodil, says in her garden things are really daffy.

Seems on the potato plants are growing tomatoes, yet. "It sounds crazy," she said today, "but that's what's happening."

Potatoes... tomatoes... blodotae... shamatoe... who knows?

A boy thought to be about 12 is sought by city police in connection with vandalism at a new house being built by Jack Lawrie at 1110 Summit Avenue. Inside sheathing was damaged to the extent of $63.

A woman neighbor told police that she saw a boy on the premises earlier. He was accompanied by a dog.

City Alderman J. D. Smith is in St. Joseph's Hospital with a stomach ailment. His condition is described as satisfactory.

Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council will request B.C. Electric Co. and Public Utilities Commission to indicate on all buses the number of standing as well as seated passengers allowed in each vehicle.

Complaints from labor resulted in an order to police to check buses for overloads, particularly during rush hours.

MONDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Gyro Club: Empress Hotel ballroom, noon; speaker, Capt. John A. Charles, RCN, on "The Purpose and Aims of Service Colleges."

WOMEN PUT JOB PICTURE OUT OF LINE

Number of women seeking work in the Greater Victoria area is the highest ever recorded for this time of year, according to C. A. Mudge, manager, National Employment Office.

Mr. Mudge said the large number of women out of work has offset the favorable number of unemployed men, so the total is slightly above the average for the past eight years.

On an eight-year average, the number of unemployed men in the area is 1,505. This week's figure is 1,176, which includes students seeking harvest work.

Number of women out of work, which has remained high over the past two years, dropped this week to 921, but is still high compared with the average of 567.

They were guests here at a dinner tendered by Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace at Government House.

Present were M. S. Beringer, president and board chairman of BAOC; J. A. Fuller, president and chairman of the executive committee, Shawinigan Water and Power Co.; J. G. Godsoe, executive vice-president, BAOC; R. A. Laidlaw, board chairman, National Trust Co. Ltd.; Beverly Matthews, QC; C. L. Suhr, board chairman, the Pennzill Co.; W. A. Wecker, president and general manager, General Motors of Canada Ltd.

Other officers were: D. L. Campbell, vice-president, manufacturing; H. T. O'Neill, vice-president and treasurer; O. I. Torkelsen, vice-president, exploration and production for western Canada; D. J. Winter, vice-president, marketing; R. E. Keple, executive vice-president, the British-American Oil Producing Company; E. J. Carter, assistant secretary; J. H. Yom, public relations manager.

From the Vancouver regional office of the company were: J. C. Hall, western representative; J. K. Farley, regional manager; and T. Lockhart, divisional manager.

Gordon Batley, Victoria area manager for the company, conducted the tour party.

Where's the nearest school of sanskrit?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Union-sponsored resolutions for submission to the annual convention of B.C. Trades Union Congress September 28, should be prepared and turned over to Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council as soon as possible, secretary Percy Raymond said Friday.

Educational radio programs sponsored jointly by Victoria Labor Council (CCL) and Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (TLC) begin September 18, continuing each Sunday evening at 10:25 over CJVL.

Victoria centre, Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, will hear Dr. R. O. Redman, The Observatories, Cambridge, England, discuss the sun at a meeting in the College-Normal School auditorium, Monday at 8:30 p.m. This is the second of five lectures for astronomy beginners.

Three city youths, aged 18, 17 and 16, were taken to Victoria

QORs to Vernon On Week-Long Show-How Visit

About 100 soldiers of Second Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada leave Camp Gordon Head Monday to give a week-long demonstration of latest support weapons at Vernon Army Cadet Camp.

The men, wearing full battle dress, will leave Gordon Head in convoy at 1 p.m. for the CPR docks.

Weapons to be demonstrated, some of which the rifle battalion used in Korea, replace earlier models of similar purpose, and include the 80 mm. mortar, 106 recoilless rifle, 60 mm mortar and a new Browning machine gun.

Officers in charge of the company will be Capt. T. W. MacDonald, MM, and Lieut. W. J. Gorchinsky and H. J. Traynor.

WOMEN PUT JOB PICTURE OUT OF LINE

Number of women seeking work in the Greater Victoria area is the highest ever recorded for this time of year, according to C. A. Mudge, manager, National Employment Office.

Mr. Mudge said the large number of women out of work has offset the favorable number of unemployed men, so the total is slightly above the average for the past eight years.

On an eight-year average, the number of unemployed men in the area is 1,505. This week's figure is 1,176, which includes students seeking harvest work.

Number of women out of work, which has remained high over the past two years, dropped this week to 921, but is still high compared with the average of 567.

They were guests here at a dinner tendered by Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace at Government House.

Present were M. S. Beringer, president and board chairman of BAOC; J. A. Fuller, president and chairman of the executive committee, Shawinigan Water and Power Co.; J. G. Godsoe, executive vice-president, BAOC; R. A. Laidlaw, board chairman, National Trust Co. Ltd.; Beverly Matthews, QC; C. L. Suhr, board chairman, the Pennzill Co.; W. A. Wecker, president and general manager, General Motors of Canada Ltd.

Other officers were: D. L. Campbell, vice-president, manufacturing; H. T. O'Neill, vice-president and treasurer; O. I. Torkelsen, vice-president, exploration and production for western Canada; D. J. Winter, vice-president, marketing; R. E. Keple, executive vice-president, the British-American Oil Producing Company; E. J. Carter, assistant secretary; J. H. Yom, public relations manager.

From the Vancouver regional office of the company were: J. C. Hall, western representative; J. K. Farley, regional manager; and T. Lockhart, divisional manager.

Gordon Batley, Victoria area manager for the company, conducted the tour party.

Where's the nearest school of sanskrit?

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

Union-sponsored resolutions for submission to the annual convention of B.C. Trades Union Congress September 28, should be prepared and turned over to Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council as soon as possible, secretary Percy Raymond said Friday.

Educational radio programs sponsored jointly by Victoria Labor Council (CCL) and Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council (TLC) begin September 18, continuing each Sunday evening at 10:25 over CJVL.

Victoria centre, Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, will hear Dr. R. O. Redman, The Observatories, Cambridge, England, discuss the sun at a meeting in the College-Normal School auditorium, Monday at 8:30 p.m. This is the second of five lectures for astronomy beginners.

Three city youths, aged 18, 17 and 16, were taken to Victoria

QORs to Vernon On Week-Long Show-How Visit

About 100 soldiers of Second Battalion Queen's Own Rifles of Canada leave Camp Gordon Head Monday to give a week-long demonstration of latest support weapons at Vernon Army Cadet Camp.

The men, wearing full battle dress, will leave Gordon Head in convoy at 1 p.m. for the CPR docks.

Weapons to be demonstrated, some of which the rifle battalion used in Korea, replace earlier models of similar purpose, and include the 80 mm. mortar, 106 recoilless rifle, 60 mm mortar and a new Browning machine gun.

Officers in charge of the company will be Capt. T. W. MacDonald, MM, and Lieut. W. J. Gorchinsky and H. J. Traynor.

Police Hunt Teen-Agers In $17 Robbery

Search is continuing today for two youthful suspects in a $17 robbery and assault of a Saanich paper boy at about 8 p.m. Friday.

The 12-year-old victim has provided police with descriptions of a pair of teen-agers he thinks may be involved.

William Sanger, 3832 Rowland, told police he was struck with a rock near his home and blacked out for "about a minute." When he came to, $17 in collections was missing.

He said he had been accosted earlier by two teenagers.

"They asked how much money I had collected and I told them."

"I was kind of worried because they seemed to be following me," he stated. He added he was walking his bike on Tillicum when he was hit on the head. When he revived he said he saw a rock "lying beside my arm."

Beyond a bump on the head, William is completely recovered today although his mother said he was sick for about an hour following the incident.

Long Time Here, Mrs. Jane Arnot Dies in Hospital

Resident of Victoria since 1919, Mrs. Janet Arnot, 71, 3009 Quadra Street, died in St. Joseph's Hospital Friday.

She was an active member of the Esquimalt Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star for 25 years and a member of the women's auxiliary, St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Born in Kirkcaldy, Scotland, she leaves her husband Walter, one son, Frederick, of Victoria; two grandchildren; two sisters, Mrs. Rebecca Wilcox of Vancouver and Miss Margaret Gourlay, Kirkcaldy; two brothers, James Gourlay of Deep Cove and Ken Gourlay, Kirkcaldy.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday in McCall Brothers' Funeral Chapel, Rt. Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiating. Interment will be in Royal Oak Burial Park.

C. C. Perry Dies at 72

Funeral services will be held Tuesday for former assistant commissioner of Indian affairs, Charles Clifford Perry, 1790 Lee Avenue. He died at Jubilee Hospital Friday.

Mr. Perry joined the department in 1909 and served first in the Queen Charlotte Islands. Later he was at Prince Rupert, where he was an alderman for several years, and still later was stationed at Vancouver.

He was a former director of the Vancouver Art and Historical Society and the Vancouver Exhibition Association.

Born in Tiverton, Eng. 72 years ago, he has lived 26 years in Victoria.

Mr. Perry is survived by two sons, Dr. A. W. Perry and Thomas L. Perry, an RCAF sergeant, stationed at Penhold, Alta.; four daughters, Mrs. D. Walter, Mrs. H. Bleasdale and Mrs. W. Berger of Victoria, and Mrs. J. Hammett of Toronto. He also leaves a sister in England and 13 grandchildren.

Service will be conducted at Thomson Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Burial will be at Royal Oak Burial Park.

City Roofing Plant Sets Two-Year Safety Record

A record of two years and two months of accident-free operation has been set by the roofing plant of Sidney Roofing and Paper Co. Ltd.

This period encompasses from May 1, 1953, to date. Statistically, it means 823 days or 200,000 man-hours without employee injury.

A company spokesman said the Teacher Promotions Said 'Cut, Dried'

Tailored by Higher-Ups Charges City Instructor

IT SAYS HERE ... Don't Look Now But ... Warm Week-End Ahead

Don't look now, but a long-standing Victoria precedent may be shattered this week-end.

It's going to be sunny and warm, the weatherman says. Go ahead and pack that picnic lunch, the weatherman says, put the top down on the convertible, and stow up on suntan lotions, the weatherman advises.

Mind you, he says, there's a nasty bit of disturbance slowly moving down from the Gulf of Alaska, but it's a fair piece away still, he says. It's raining from the northern tip of Vancouver Island north, he adds, and moving this way—but very slowly.

"It's safe to say, sunny and warm today and Sunday," the weatherman comes right out and predicts. "Daytime temperatures, 70 or a bit better; low temperatures in the middle 50's."

Don't be disturbed by a few filmy clouds this evening, and in the late afternoon Sunday. They'll go away, the weatherman says.

He hopes he's right, and so does the rest of Victoria.

ON FRASER DAMS

Fish, Hydro Factions Prepare for Battle

By TOM GOULD

B.C. government will hold the deciding hand in the battle shaping between fish and hydro-power interests on the Fraser River.

Fisheries and power supporters already are closing ranks, in view of recent developments, which include a $250,000 survey commissioned by the federal government.

Government policy on the Fraser and other salmon rivers was laid down in 1954, in an amendment to the Fisheries Act calling for protection of "the silver horde" by fishways, fish-passes, or ladders.

Amendment Protects Fraser

In July, 1954, the government re-affirmed its policy by passing an order-in-council which puts the Fraser River under protection of the amendment.

Section one of the amendment reads: "Every person who commences the construction of any dam or hydraulic project that will use, divert, obstruct, impound or change the natural flow or course of any river or stream, or otherwise utilize any of the waters of the province, shall provide such fish-passes, fish-ladders, fish-ways, or other protective devices as the minister may require for the safe and adequate passage of fish over, around, or through such dam or other hydraulic project."

Stripped of its legal verbiage, the section leaves to the discretion of the minister (Fisheries Minister Ralph Chetwynd), and thus the cabinet, the requirements for protecting fish in a salmon river.

Government Support Expected

In view of the government's backing of the amendment, and its later action in declaring the Fraser one of the rivers under its protection, fisheries men can expect government support in the coming fight for the Fraser, considered one of the largest untapped power sources in North America.

Officials of the Fisheries Association of B.C. already have promised "a fight to the last ditch" to save the river's $30,000,000 salmon harvest.

The proposal to install a

A Victoria teacher testified before a government board of reference today that many teachers believe promotions in the Greater Victoria school system are "tailored" by a few higher-ups.

Frederick Holm, a technical arts teacher at the S. J. Willis high school, was testifying on behalf of teacher Geoffrey D'Arcy who was dismissed by School Board 61, Victoria, for "gross insolence and impertinence."

Mr. D'Arcy was dismissed mainly for suggesting to the board that a job for supervisor of technical and vocational training was "rigged."

OWN VOLITION

Mr. Holm said he came to the hearing on his own volition because he felt Mr. D'Arcy had been placed in "an unfair position" by the board.

"There are many other teachers in the school district who are dissatisfied with the system of promotion," he said. "We feel they are earmarked, cut and dried."

The witness also supported Mr. D'Arcy's claim that some teachers were dissatisfied with Jack White, B.C. director of vocational and technical training.

With regard to Mr. D'Arcy's charge of mishandling of school equipment voiced earlier, Mr. Holm said he had been forced to operate with a bare minimum of tools, some of which dated back to 1901.

"I've had to make a lot of equipment myself," he said.

CLASH Mr. D'Arcy clashed with W. H. M. Haldane, Q.C. counsel for the school board, over admission of Mr. Holm's evidence.

Mr. Haldane opposed the witness' discussing the school administrative system because the hearing was for an appeal against the dismissal of the teacher.

Mr. D'Arcy said he felt justified in introducing the evidence of Mr. Holm because he thought Mr. Haldane had suggested Mr. D'Arcy suffered from "a chip on the shoulder."

"If I suffer from a chip on my shoulder so do 75 per cent of the other teachers," said Mr. D'Arcy.

He accused Mr. Haldane of trying to prevent him from proving his case, that there was mishandling of supplies, and that promotions were fixed.

John McIntosh, board chairman, said that in a certain respect he agreed with Mr. Haldane as the evidence had nothing to do with impertinence and insolence.

"If this was a royal commission we would be glad to hear all that you have to say about the system," said Mr. McIntosh.

Aug. 10 Deadline For PNE Entries

Deadline for competitive divisions of the Pacific National Exhibition is August 10.

Livestock, home arts and poultry entries close on this date, though the turkey quota is already filled.

In the horticultural, honey, garden vegetable division and fruit classes, entries close August 15.

Flower entries are allowed up to 48 hours before the big show, August 24 to September 5.

Meeting Called On Cost-Sharing Of Hospital Wing

Greater Victoria municipal representatives will meet at City Hall Aug. 17 at 2 p.m. to discuss cost-sharing of a proposed new $1,400,000 wing at Royal Jubilee Hospital.

R. A. Robison, mutually appointed arbitrator, will hear briefs presented by councils of Victoria, Oak Bay, Saanich, Esquimalt and provincial territories which are affected.

Original hospital board estimates set the amount to be raised by the community at $325,000, the balance to come from the hospital board, and the federal and provincial governments.

Suggested split was Victoria 49.3 per cent, Saanich 27.3 per cent, Esquimalt 9.7 per cent, Oak Bay 11.5 per cent and other 2.2 per cent. The decision to appoint an arbitrator came after the city objected to the plan.

ASK The TIMES

Q. It was stated in "Ask the Times" Thursday that the first airplane flights in Victoria and Vancouver were made in 1910 and 1911. Wasn't there a fatal crash in Victoria about that time? After that lapse of time, my memory is not as acute as it formerly was. M.C.H.

A. The incident which goes down in history as the first fatal airplane crash on Vancouver Island occurred in Victoria Aug. 6, 1913. During the Victoria celebration named Carnival Week one of the attractions billed was a plane flight by pilot John Bryant.

In his flimsily built aircraft, which was on floats, he took off from the Inner Harbor, and when the float had only begun downtown crowds were horrified to see the plane fall. It struck the roof of a building on lower Cormorant Street. The death of the pilot cast a gloom over other amusements of the celebration week.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times." Editor Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums.

HEADLINES OF THE WEEK

JULY COLDEST IN CITY'S HISTORY

THESE NEW HIGHWAYS ARE GREAT BUT...

OPEN SEASON SET ON ISLAND DEER

COLWOOD HOSTS CANADIAN WOMEN'S CLOSE GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

FOUR SWIMMERS TO TRACKE STRAIN NEXT WEEK IN BIGGEST RASSET YET

SOLONG YOU, YOU, DIRTY BIRD!

AW, COME ON, PLEASE LET ME GO ACROSS!

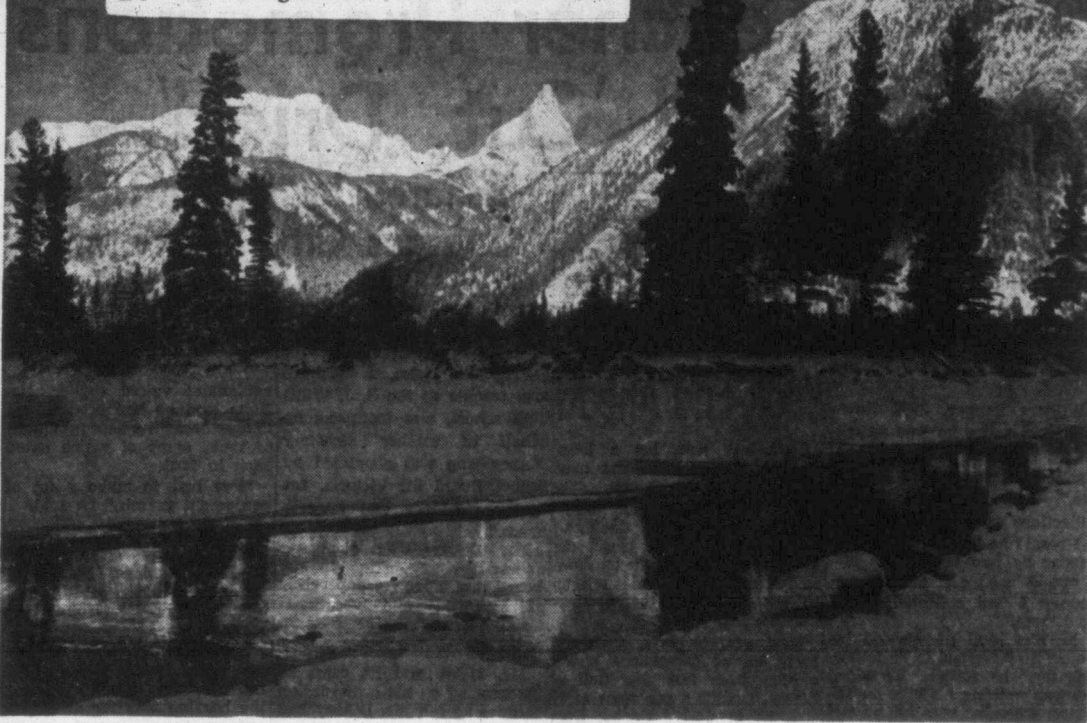

OH, DEAR!

ONE THING ABOUT THESE LADIES THEY AREN'T HALF AS ROUGH IN THE ROUGH! GUESS THEY DON'T KNOW THE WORDS YET

I KNEW THEY SHOULDN'T HAVE SWITCHED TO FRESH WATER AT THE CRYSTAL!

CHURCH PAGE

14 Victoria Daily Times SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1955

Scene of Memorial Service

Special buses will take participants from Jasper to the foot of Angel Glacier (above) on Mount Edith Cavell for a memorial service Sunday to the gallant British nurse who was executed on Aug. 5, 1915, by the German authorities for aiding British and French prisoners to escape during the First World War. The service will be conducted by the Rev. Donald Moore, vicar of St. Mary and St. George Anglican Church at Jasper.

LARGE CITY DELEGATION ATTENDS GENERAL SYNOD

B.C. delegation to the general synod of the Church of England in Canada will be led by Archbishop Harold Sexton, metropolitan of British Columbia.

The synod will be held in Edmonton Aug. 30. The Victoria group will be headed by Rev. Brian Whitlow, who is to become dean and rector of Christ Church Cathedral in ceremonies here Sept. 15, shortly after the synod.

Other Vancouver Island representatives will be Canon George Biddle, Rev. N. J. Godkin, Canon F. E. M. Tomalin, W. G. Hamilton, H. L. Henderson, Col. R. L. Mitchell, H. H. Smith and Lt.-Col. Fairfax Webber, all of Victoria; Rev. G. H. Greenleigh, Fort Alberni; Ven. Archdeacon A. E. Hendy, Nanaimo, and H. Derek Arnold, Duncan.

Russ Delegates Hear Baptists on Freedom

Rev. Ralph Easter Believes Congress In London Big Influence for Good

Russia sent 12 delegates to the Baptist World Alliance Congress which had as its theme "man's inalienable right to be free."

Although the discussions on the theme were not aimed at the Russian group, "I don't see how it could help but sink in," said the Rev. Ralph Easter today.

Mr. Easter, pastor of First Baptist Church here, attended the congress as president of the Baptist Union of Western Canada.

He called the congress "a tremendous clarion call for liberty in a world where liberty seems too often to be encroaching upon and in danger."

With 8,500 delegates representing 22,000,000 Baptists in 60 nations, he said: "I can't feel that that is just so much hot air."

"Religious freedom is not something a benevolent government grants. When a government takes this away, it is assuming an authority it doesn't possess."

While this was "brought home again and again," he said, it was not aimed at the Russian group. However, "no punches were pulled because they were there."

"I don't see how it could help but sink in," he said.

Congress representation of 22,000,000 Baptists was more than three times that of the first such meeting 50 years ago, also in London.

Mrs. Ingram Smith and Brig. and Mrs. W. W. McGill of Victoria, also attended the congress, which closed with a speech by Billy Graham.

Day of Good News'

Dr. McLean's Subject

Very Rev. J. Lewis W. McLean, M.A., D.D., will conduct services at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Sunday, his sermon subject being "Guaranteed By the Maker" in the morning, and "A Day of Good News" in the evening. Guest soloist for the morning service will be Miss Grace Adams, and in the evening Miss Catherine Denison.

Beginners and primary Sunday schools are discontinued for August.

PRELIMINARY TO DISARMAMENT

Military Blueprint Exchange Endorsed by Church Council

DAVOS (AP) — The central committee of the World Council of Churches unanimously adopted a manifesto Thursday proposing an exchange of military blueprints similar to that put forward by President Eisenhower at the "summit" conference.

The 90-member committee said this should be a preliminary measure toward a general world-wide reduction in armaments and prohibition of all weapons of mass destruction.

President Eisenhower's proposal to Russia for exchange of military data and aerial surveys of each other's territory was rejected on Thursday by Soviet Premier Bulganin.

The manifesto is to be circulated to the world council's 165 Protestant, Anglican and Eastern Orthodox member churches throughout the world. The council claims to represent 170,000,000 members in these churches.

The Rev. J. G. G. Bompas, recently retired after many years as minister of the United Church on Salt Spring Island, will be the preacher at the Sunday morning service in the Victoria West United Church.

NEWS OF CITY CHURCHES

Two Congregations Greet Pastors Home

Congregations of two city churches, Centennial United and Metropolitan United will welcome their pastors Sunday, returned from summer vacations.

At Centennial, Rev. Douglas B. Carr will preach at both services, his topic the morning being "Under the Pines." His evening sermon has the novel title "When the Horse Throws You," a parable from the Calgary Stampede. A guest soloist from Reno, Nev., Mrs. Margaret Hawk (nee Burns) will sing at both services.

First appearance of Dr. F. E. H. James in the pulpit of Metropolitan United Church since his holiday will be marked by sermons at both services, "Our Father's World" in the morning and "The Successful Failure" in the evening.

Dr. W. A. Wicks of Portland, Ore., will speak at the Victoria Truth Centre at both the morning and evening services. In the morning his subject will be "Is There Light That Fails?" And in the evening "Experience Our Witness."

Officers and naval cadets of Royal Roads Tri-Service College, HMCS Stettler and HMCS Sussexvale will attend the morning service at First United Church Sunday when one of the outstanding preachers of western Canada, Rev. Duncan Wilkie, M.A., B.D., of Knox United Church, Saskatoon, will be the guest minister. He will preach in the morning on "This Is the Day" and in the evening on "These Three Alone." Guest organist will be Malcolm Hamilton and soloist, Janet Swetnam.

Dr. W. W. McPherson will be in charge of services at Oak Bay United Church Sunday. His morning topic will be "The Dreams of God" and in the evening "The Strength of the Eternal Hills."

At Christ Church Cathedral Sunday Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a.m. and in James Bay Hall at 10 a.m. Choral Eucharist will be sung at the cathedral at 11 a.m., the preacher being the Lord Archbishop. Rev. R. E. F. Berry will preach at Evensong at 7.30.

At St. John's Anglican Church Sunday the Rev. Vernon Harris, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Laguna Beach, Cal., will occupy the pulpit at both services. There will be a service of Holy Communion at 8.30 a.m. Mrs. Joyce M. Chubb will play organ preludes from 7.10 p.m. Sunday school is at 11 a.m.

Guest preacher at both services at Emmanuel Baptist Church Sunday will be Rev. Nial C. Eastman, B.A., B.D., of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Calgary.

CHURCH NOTICES

ANGELICAN
BRENTWOOD COLLEGE MEMORIAL Chapel, Rev. Norman A. Love, Aug. 7—Morning prayer, 10.30 a.m. Aug. 14—Morning prayer, 10.30 a.m. Aug. 21—Holy Communion, 9.30 a.m.; 7.30 p.m.—Worship, 10.30 a.m.; Evensong, 7.30 p.m.

SOCIETY OF FRIENDS (QUAKERS), 1801 Fern Street, off Fort, Sunday meeting for worship, 11 a.m. Visitors are welcome.

GOSPEL HALL
OAKLANDS GOSPEL HALL, corner Hillside Avenue and Cedar Hill Road. 10.00 a.m.—Sunday school and Bible class. 1.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Gospel service. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

GOSPEL HALL, 925 PANDORA AVENUE. 11.00 a.m.—Worship and Breaking of Bread. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

QUADRA BIBLE CHAPEL, 2015 Avenue and Jackson Street. Sunday, 9.45 a.m.—Sunday school, 11 a.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Bible study. 7.30 p.m.—Prayer and Bible study.

BELMONT MINISTER INDUCTED

Rev. T. W. L. Lancelley was inducted into his new charge at Belmont United Church Saturday evening and will preach his first services there Sunday.

Members of the congregation met their new minister at a social hour following the service when the Rev. Tom Griffiths preached to the pastor and the Rev. Douglas Pilkey to the congregation.

ST. CHAD'S TO OPEN SEPTEMBER 11

Moved four miles to a new location at the corner of Hawthorne and Majestic at Mount Douglas, St. Chad's church hall will be officially opened for service Sept. 11.

The building was moved from Clare Street in Oak Bay, where it was owned for several years by the Catholic Apostolic Church. When it closed two years ago the property was given to the Anglican diocese of B.C. for use as a church hall.

$7,000 COST
St. Luke's Church sponsored the erection of the new mission at the cost of $9,000 and chose St. Chad as patron saint at a meeting of the parish guild.

Consecrated a bishop in 666, St. Chad was one of four brothers, who were educated in the monastery of Lindisfarne under St. Aidan.

Says Rev. Canon Frederic Pike of St. Luke's: "His life was one of humility and missionary enterprise—a splendid example for the people of the church to follow."

Rector is Canon Pike and his assistant is Rev. P. W. A. Roberts. Holy communion will be held once a month at 9.30 a.m., with Sunday school at 11 a.m. and evensong at 7.30 p.m. each Sunday.

Anglican Services
Christ Church Cathedral
Rockland and Quadra
Ninth Sunday After Trinity
8.00 a.m.—Holy Communion
10.00 a.m.—Holy Communion, James Bay Hall
Preacher:
11.00 a.m.—Choral Eucharist
The Lord Archbishop
7.30 p.m.—Evensong and Sermon
Preacher:
The Rev. R. E. F. Berry
Holy Communion:
Tuesday, 11.00 a.m.
Thursday, 7.30 a.m.
Mattins each weekday
at 9.00 a.m.
Evensong each weekday
at 5.00 p.m.

ST. JOHN'S
Quadra near Pandora
8.30 a.m.—Holy Communion
11.00 a.m.
Mattins and Holy Communion
7.10 p.m.
Organ Preludes by Joyce M. Chubb, A.A.O.G., L.R.S.M., A.T.C.M.
7.30 p.m.
Evensong
Preacher at Both Services
The Reverend
Vernon Harris
Rector of St. Mary's Church, Laguna Beach, California, U.S.A.
Sunday School, 11 a.m.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH
Elsa Road, Oak Bay
Ninth Sunday After Trinity
Holy Communion—8.30 a.m. and 12 noon
Mattins and Sermon—11.00 a.m.
Evensong and Sermon—7.00 p.m.
The Rector, Archdeacon A. E. Gel. Nunn will preach at both services
Young People to attend the early service
Calmerton Church Hall
Evensong and Sermon, 8.00 p.m.
Preacher,
The Reverend William Lunny

St. Barnabas' Church
Belmont and Begbie
Ninth Sunday After Trinity
8.00 a.m.—Holy Communion
11.00 a.m.—Sung Mass
7.30 p.m.—Evensong
Rev. Thomas Bailey
Rev. Canon H. R. Whitehead

S. George the Martyr
Maynard Rd., Cadboro Bay
NINTH SUNDAY AFTER TRINITY
8.00 a.m.—Holy Communion
11 a.m.—Eucharist and SERMON
"MOUNTAINS OF THE SPIRIT"
The Fifth in a Summer Series
7.15 p.m.—Organ Preludes
Mr. Philip Hughes, Mus. Rec.
7.30 p.m.—EVENSONG and SERMON
"THE LAST DAY OF THE SPIRIT"
Preacher: Morning and Evening
REV. WILLIAM HILLS

VICTORIA PRAYER GROUP
Undenominational
HEALING STUDIES
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 10, 8 P.M.
CHRIST CHURCH MEMORIAL HALL
Open to All

United Church To Ask Tithes

New Secretary of M and M Fund Wants Big Increase in Giving

Tithing, or some other form of regular sacrificial giving has been advocated for United Church members by the newly-appointed secretary of that church's missionary and maintenance department, Rev. H. E. D. Ashford, D.D.

"I believe that 10 per cent of every person's gross income belongs to God and his fellow-men," Rev. Dr. Ashford stated as he began his new duties directing the fund-raising program of the United Church of Canada.

Mary United Church laymen have declared themselves in favor of tithing, but this is in direct contrast to a discussion which came up at the 16th general council meeting in Sackville, N.B., last September, when a motion asking that members give 2 per cent of their income was laid on the table after considerable debate.

Dr. Ashford has released figures regarding average givings. He says: "The average giving of United Church members is $44.16 per person. While if you take $500 as the average income, which is very low, they should be giving $250 each."

"We will never build a great United Church until people begin to sacrifice, and we will never make a better world with the present-day rate of giving," he stressed. "Statistics show that the Canadian people only give 1.26 per cent of their income to all charities, including churches."

Church of Our Lord
Victoria's Historic Church
REFORMED EPISCOPAL
Humboldt and Blanshard Streets
REV. J. G. BROWN, M.A., D.D.
11.00 a.m.—Holy Communion and Sermon
7.30 p.m.—Evensong and Sermon

SALVATION ARMY
VICTORIA CITADEL
727 Pandora Avenue
Major and Mrs. W. Oakley
11.00 a.m.—
"HOLINESS IN PRACTICE"
Speaker: Lieut. John Nelson
7.30 p.m.—
"GOOD SAMARITAN"
Speaker: Sr. Major John Nelson
Citadel Band and Songsters Attending
A Welcome Awaits All

METROPOLITAN UNITED CHURCH
PANDORA AT QUADRA
Minister:
Rev. F. E. H. James, B.A., B.D., D.D.
Assistant Minister:
Rev. E. Laura Butler, B.A., S.T.B.
Director of Music:
Mr. Charles Palmer, M.A. (Guest)
A.R.C.M., A.R.C.O.
11.00 a.m.—
"Our Father's World"
Soloist: Vera Barclay
7.30 p.m.—
"The Successful Failure"
Soloist: Nora Jeffery
Dr. F. E. H. James
at both services
11.00 a.m.—Nursery Department
supervised by Act-Msle Coupler Club
WE WELCOME VISITORS

HOW CHRISTIAN SCIENCE HEALS
CFUN 1410 kc. Sunday 8.45 a.m.
KVI 570 kc. Sunday 10.15 a.m.

First United Church
Cor. Quadra St. and Balmoral Rd.
Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, M.A., D.D., Acting Minister
Mr. and Mrs. J. Roberto Wood, Directors of Music
Guest Preacher for Both Services
Rev. Duncan Wilkie, M.A., B.D., Knox United Church, Saskatoon
11.00 a.m.—
"THIS IS THE DAY"
Soloist: Janet Swetnam
7.30 p.m.—
"These Three Alone"
Soloist: Janet Swetnam
Guest Organist: Malcolm Hamilton
This Church is Fitted With Hearing Aids
ALL ARE WELCOME

Centennial United Church
George Road near Cox, Douglas and Blanshard
Minister:
Rev. Douglas B. Carr, B.A., B.D.
Director of Music: Peter Copeland
Organist: Mrs. Margaret Wilmshurst
11.00 a.m.—
"Under the Pines"
7.30 p.m.—
"When the Horse Throws You"
A Parable from the Calgary Stampede
Rev. Douglas B. Carr
at both services
Guest Soloist at both services:
Mrs. Margaret Hawk (nee Burns) of Reno, Nevada
11.00 a.m.—Nursery, and Sunday School up to 8 years of age. Older children encouraged to attend church with their parents.
Hearing Aids Available
ALL ARE WELCOME

Fairfield United Church
Fairfield and Moss
Minister: Rev. Tom R. Haythorne, B.A. Music Director: Rev. W. McPherson, A.R.C.T.
Organist: Faith Webster, L.R.S.M.
Guest Preacher:
Rev. H. J. Armitage, B.A., B.D.
11.00 a.m.—
"The Divine Estimate of Man"
7.30 p.m.—
"The Heavenly Vision"
Mrs. D. Coak, Soloist at both services

Oak Bay United Church
Mithell and Granite Streets
Minister: Rev. W. McPherson, M.A., D.D.
Director of Music: Mrs. Vera Barclay
11.00 a.m.—"The Dream of God"
7.30 p.m.—"The Strength of the Eternal Hills"
Guest Organist: Mrs. K. King
Strangers Cordially Welcome!

St. Aidan's United Church
Richmond and Cedar Hill Overlook
Minister: Rev. J. L. Clapham
Guest Preacher: Rev. Wm. Allan
Organist: Mr. P. Boorman
11.00 a.m.—Subject:
"CHRISTIAN JOY"
Visitors Cordially Invited

St. Andrew's Presbyterian
Downtown—Douglas at Broughton
Minister:
The Very Rev. J. L. W. McLean, M.A., D.D.
Organist and Choir Master:
C. C. Warren, L.R.S.M., A.T.C.M.

CHEMAINUS WELCOMES NEW PASTOR

CHEMAINUS—Rev. J. Smithson of Weyburn, Sask., is the new pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church.

He is past president of the convention of Baptist churches of B.C., and is a past moderator of the lower mainland B.C. association.

FREE METHODIST
1830 Cook
Rev. J. Campbell — 9-1838
9.45—Sunday School Hour
WORSHIP THE LORD
11.00 a.m. and 7.30 p.m.
Wednesday, 8.00 p.m.—Prayer Hour

CHRISTADELPHIAN
Christadelphian Hall
Blanshard at Kings
Public Lecture, 7.30 P.M.
Subject:
"Faith and Works"
Morning Meeting, 11.00 o'clock
Sunday School, 9.45 a.m.
You Are Sincerely Welcome

First Church of Christ, Scientist
CHAMBERS ST. and PANDORA AVE.
A Branch of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts
SUNDAY SERVICES
11.00 a.m. and 8.00 p.m.
Subject:
"SPIRIT"
SUNDAY SCHOOL
11.00 a.m.
TESTIMONIAL MEETING
Wednesday, 8.00 p.m.
FREE PUBLIC READING ROOM AND LENDING LIBRARY
638 View Street
ALL ARE WELCOME
"The Monitor Views the News"
Over KEX, 1200 kc. Every Tuesday at 6.30 p.m.

Kingdom Ministry (British-Israel)
Leader: Mr. A. Fryer — Pianist: Mrs. Klingbe, L.R.S.M.
Speaker: Mrs. E. J. Smith
Subject: "A FAITHFUL WITNESS"
SUNDAY, 7.30 P.M., NEWSTEAD HALL, 734 FORT ST.

EVANGELISTIC TEMPLE
APOSTOLIC CHURCH OF PENTECOST
Blanshard at Queens
Pastor: R. L. Doss
10.00 a.m.—Sunday School and Bible Class
11.00 a.m.—Worship — 7.30 p.m.—Evangelistic
VISITORS AND FRIENDS ESPECIALLY WELCOME
Next Sunday, Rev. L. O. FRITCHARD, Pangman, Sask.

Victoria Truth Centre
(Affiliate International New Thought Alliance)
"There is a solution to every problem."
Minister: Rev. Emma M. Smiley
Guest Speaker: DR. W. A. WICKS of Portland, Oregon
11.00 a.m.—"IS THERE LIGHT THAT FAILS?"
7.30 p.m.—"EXPERIENCE OUR WITNESS"
1201 FORT STREET

GLAD TIDINGS TABERNACLE
847 North Park Street—1½ Blocks East of Hudson's Bay Store
Rev. C. B. Smith, Minister — The Pentecostal Assemblies of Canada
9.45 a.m.—Sunday School—Good Classes for All
11.00 a.m.—COMMUNION SERVICE
Missionary Offering for World Missions
7.30 p.m.—"THE GOSPEL APPEAL"
The Pastor in charge of both services
Choir and Orchestra in Gospel Service
You are cordially invited to all services

ALLIANCE GOSPEL TABERNACLE
1039 VICTORIA STREET
Rev. C. R. Alton, Minister
Mr. Lloyd Makaroff, Assistant and Music Director
11.00 a.m.—"THE CHRISTIAN AND HIS RESPONSIBILITY TO EARTHLY RULERS AND GOVERNMENTS"
7.30 P.M.—"HOW WILL WE IN OUR GENERATION COMPARE WITH FAST GENERATIONS ON THE DAY OF JUDGMENT?"
8.45 P.M.—AFTER CHURCH SINGING AND FELLOWSHIP HOUR
VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL FOR BOYS AND GIRLS
Ages 4-13 years
Interesting Bible Lessons — Useful things to make Songs to sing — Games to play
AUGUST 15-26 — DAILY 9-11 A.M.
You'll enjoy it at the Friendly Church

VICTORIA COMMITTEE
CHRISTIAN BUSINESSMEN'S COMMITTEE
INTERNATIONAL
PRESENTS THEIR Regular Sunday Evening Service
7.00 P.M. BEACON HILL PARK
CONDUCTED BY THE YOUTH CHALLENGE GROUP OF THE GOSPEL HALL
SPECIAL MUSIC AND TESTIMONIES
ORGAN FELLOWSHIP BETWEEN 6.30 AND 7.00

CHURCH BY THE LAKE
(Elk Lake)
PREACHER REV. J. N. CLARK
Sermon Topic
"OUR WORKS AND CHRIST'S PEACE"
Soloist: Mrs. W. Graham
The Church with the Chimney

EMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH
Fernwood at Gladstone
Rev. James E. Smith, B.A., Minister
11.00 a.m.—"The Fruit of the Spirit"
7.30 p.m.—"What Is a Christian?"
Rev. Nial C. Eastman, B.A., B.D., of Calgary, Guest Preacher

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH
Quadra at Mason
Rev. G. E. Easton, B.A., B.T.H., Pastor
Mr. Oliver Stout, Organist and Choir Director
11.00 a.m.—"FOUR TOMBS IN EUROPE AND WHAT THEY MEAN"
Soloist: Mrs. Sturgeon
Communion and Reception of Members
7.30 p.m.—Impressions of Britain and France
Soloist: Mr. Kroeger
Visitors Welcome
The Church Where Everyone Sings
Mr. G. E. Easton will preach at both services

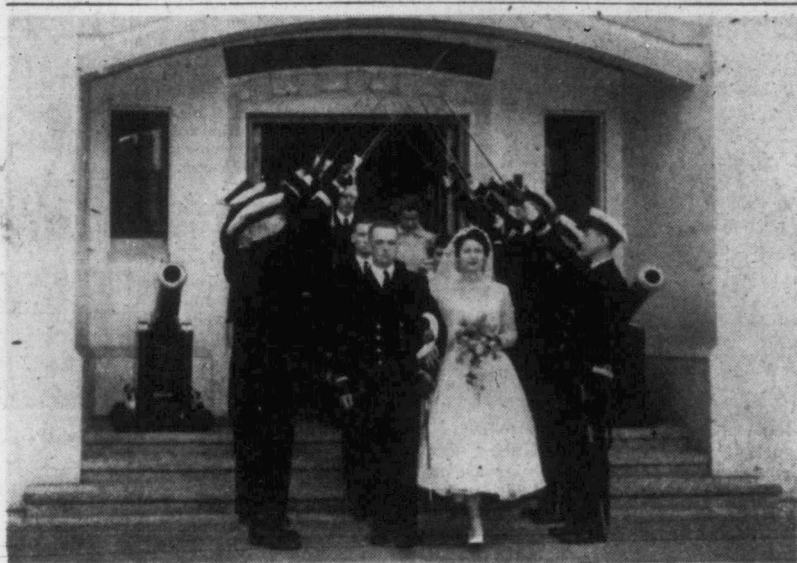

CENTRAL BAPTIST
We Preach Christ Crucified, Risen and Coming Again
533 Pandora Avenue
Dr. J. B. ROWELL, Pastor
We Preach Christ Crucified, Risen and Coming Again
9.45 a.m.—Sunday School and Bible Class
11.00 a.m.—"RICHES IN GLORY"
7.30 p.m.—"THE SON OF GOD LOVED ME"
A Special Invitation is Extended to Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Alan James King pose for a charming picture. The bride is the former Miss Mary Maureen Scouler, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Scouler and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. King, 445 Quebec Street. (Chevron Studio.)

of interest to Women

Victoria Daily Times Victoria, B.C., Sat., Aug. 6, 1955 15

A guard of honor was formed for Sub-Lieut. Gerald Beament and his bride, the former Miss Lillian Patricia Hall. The afternoon ceremony took place in the chapel of Combined Services College, Royal Roads. A reception followed in the garden. (Campbell Studio.)

Mr. and Mrs. Melville Leslie Howey were married in London, Ont., and will make their new home there. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Farmer, 296 Burnside Road, Victoria. The young couple spent their honeymoon at Algonquin Park, Ont.

Mrs. Gerald Hugh Emery, the former Miss Elizabeth Claire Yardley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yardley, 2861 Colquitz Avenue. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Emery, 1508 Arrow Road. They were married in Metropolitan United Church. (Jus-Rite Photo.)

Bridal Paths

Following their wedding in St. Luke's Church, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Mallet pose with their families at the home of the bride's parents, Col. and Mrs. H. T. Goodland, Cadboro Bay Road. Mr. G. S. Mallet, Toronto, stands by his son, with Mrs. Goodland and Mrs. Mallet on the right of the bride. (Ken Studio.)

Mrs. Philip Martin Sprinkle, nee Miss Mary Elizabeth Cadger, formerly of Victoria, now of Vancouver. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Cadger, Vancouver, and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Ellington Sprinkle, Martinsville, Virginia. (Neil Good Photo.)

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Purser were married in St. John's Church. The bride is the former Miss Marlene Shirley Pearce, daughter of Mrs. D. M. Pearce, 1607 Cook Street and the groom, the son of Mrs. E. L. Purser, 958 Mason Street. (Jus-Rite Photo.)

Signing the register in the vestry of First United Church, with her husband and Rev. G. G. Bompas looking on, is Mrs. Geoffrey Joslin, the former Miss Helen Warwick, R.N. They were married recently in an afternoon ceremony. (Jus-Rite Photo.)

A lovely bride, the former Miss Velda Wille, poses with her husband, Mr. Keith R. Thompson following their recent wedding in St. John's Church. Mrs. Thompson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Wille, 2511 Quadra Street. (Jus-Rite Photo.)

Smiling with his bride, the former Miss Margaret Jane Burdon, Mr. Donald James Joyce assists in cutting the traditional wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Joyce were wed in St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church. (Chevron Studios.)

A radiant bride is Mrs. Herbert S. Wetherell, the former Miss Marilyn Doreen Bellamy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bellamy, Saanichton. Her groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Wetherell, 1133 Fort Street. (Paul Jonas Photo.)

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McLaren Wallace were married in First United Church. The bride is the former Miss Joan Daphne Helghes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Helghes, 1257 Burnside Road. (Jus-Rite Photo.)

Mr. and Mrs. Colin R. Moir cut their wedding cake. The bride, the former Miss Rosalyn Jeanne Foster, daughter of Mr. J. R. Foster, 2618 Blanshard Street, and the late Mrs. Foster, and her groom, the son of Mrs. R. Moir, 1367 Forrester Street, and the late Mr. Moir. (Chevron Studio.)

SHOPPING GUIDE

True-Taste Vanilla Stick
In Narrow Plastic Tube
PENNY SAVER

No, it's not an artificial composition, it's a real vanilla stick, seeds and all. You cut off the pieces as you need it, scrape out the seeds, and prepare it the way the directions state on the tube. Now, this tube is a wonderful little thing, too. It's about eight inches long, just right for the vanilla, and it has a press-on lid, so you keep the stick fresh in this tube. As one of the suggestions for use, the idea of putting a little piece of the stick in your sugar bowl sounded awfully good to me. These sticks are 75 cents.

I saw a rather new idea in nut choppers today. Instead of putting the nuts in the jar, turning the jar upside-down, working the chopper, and letting the nuts fall into the bowl, this chopper has a metal hopper on the top, and you drop the nuts into it, turning the handle to do chopping, and the nuts drop into the jar, to be used another day. It's a different twist to a handy household item. The price is 59 cents.

Now that corn on the cob's so plentiful, the little gadgets we like to facilitate the eating of this food are appearing more and more, and at lower prices. Butter brushes, made especially to be dipped into melted butter and brushed along the cobs, are now out with plastic handles in the shape of cobs of corn. Naturally, the color is a bright yellow. These are just six cents each. How reasonable can it be!

Some time ago, I mentioned German-made egg slicers that cut the eggs into wedges, rather than slices. Shortly after I wrote about them, they were all sold out. Now I see that there's a new shipment in the stores. They work by a (excuse the expression) "guillotine" action, with the wires dropped and pressed through the egg which is placed in a small trough. The price on these gadgets is 98 cents.

Fond of baking fancy pastries? For those favorite lady-fingers, you can buy baking pans that have eight sections just the right size. Not much chance of failure with these handy items. They're made of shiny aluminum, and cost 89 cents.

AS WE LIVE

Should Girl Return
Ex-Steady's Gifts?

By ELIZABETH HURLOCK, PhD

People are likely to say or do things in anger that they will bitterly regret when they cool off.

Hurlock

(Q)—"I am 21 years old and have been going steady with a fellow for the past two years. I naturally was much in love with him but he never spoke of marriage. I finally brought up the subject and he told me his parents disapproved of marriages of people with different religions. That made me angry and I gave him a piece of my mind. He left and I haven't heard a word from him since. That was nearly a week ago. I can see now that things would never have worked out for us, as he seems to allow his parents to lead him around by the nose.

"Now my problem is this. Should I ask him to return my picture and the gifts I have given him and should I return his gifts and his picture? I felt like bundling them all up and returning them to him the day after the quarrel, but when I got them out and looked at them it made me too upset, so I put them away again. What shall I do?"

(A)—Wait a month at least, preferably two, and see how you feel by then. In the meantime you may hear from the young man. You do not want to do anything while you are too upset emotionally to think of the consequences.

Since the difference in your religions seems to be such a serious obstacle to marriage from the young man's point of view, I think it is doubtful that you will see anything more of him, unless you happen to run into him. When you forced his hand you automatically brought the matter to a head. And it is just as well, because it shows you where you stand.

However, since you were deeply in love with him, you do not want to have too bitter memories of this period in your life. He might be very hurt and angry if you returned his gifts and if you asked him to return those you gave him.

I think it would be better to consider them gifts of friendship and keep them. If you wish, it would be all right to return his picture and ask for yours. But, as a grown man, he is not likely to show off your picture as one of his "conquests" as a teenier might, so why not forget about the pictures as well as the gifts.

Dr. Hurlock is the author of a 64-page booklet, "You and Your Problems." For your copy send 15 cents in coin with a stamped self-addressed envelope to this newspaper.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Drop the Worry Habit
And Try to Smile More

A letter before me says, "I had been feeling tired and exhausted lately and went for a physical checkup. All tests were negative and my doctor said that there is nothing organically wrong. He said that he attributes my trouble to anxiety. Will you please write a formula so that my mind will be at peace and I will get over my anxiety? It seems to me that people are troubled by anxiety today."

Practically everyone is subjected to anxiety at some time in their lives and most people are subjected to it a lot of the time for one reason or another. How I wish I were wise enough to write something which would rid my readers of anxiety. I am not that wise but I think I can give you a few first-aid lifts.

In the first place, nothing remains the same indefinitely. Whether it is a serious illness or an emotional shock, give either time and you will probably recover. But while recovering remember that time is a great healer and that when you look back on the present experience it will seem quite far away like something you dreamed.

As I wrote recently, it is always helpful to remember that others are having their troubles also. We just do not know about them.

Another first aid is the thought that there are always so many things to be grateful for, that things could always be worse than they are.

Many times when folks find themselves in a state of anxiety it is due to nervous exhaustion. There is not anything organically wrong but they react emotionally to daily living. They find themselves irritable and tense and may cry at the slightest provocation. The worry habit, a feeling a vague fear, has settled down on them like a fog.

If you find yourself in a state of this sort, and know that it is not due to any organic trouble, suspect nervous exhaustion. Stop and take a look at yourself. Deliberately drop the habit of stewing and try to remember to laugh more, to return to the gay person you once were.

Give yourself enough time and life will again take on its exciting hues. You won't feel like that forever, so do not be too discouraged and thus add to your troubles!

Imported cotton that needs no ironing. Nubby dots on plaid for a coat-dress by L'Aiglon for inter-season travel. Neckline and bow are underscored with nylon velvet; the skirt has soft unpressed pleats and the dress buttons from throat to hem.

In Step With Style

By NONA DAMASKE

"The Transitional Dress"—Pioneered in Canada by L'Aiglon the between season cotton dress is fast coming into favor in the West. There is no point in deserting a smart-fashion principle just because the season's turning. Being unpecked in our shops now are lovely French and Italian washable cottons for fall. The colorings are dark... fall trimmings of velvet and taffeta are sometimes highlighted with a touch of white linen or Guipure lace.

Dark, muted plaids and checks from Italian mills are shown in styles suitable for back to College days. Dotted and wallpaper print cottons from France are used effectively in the new silhouette for fall.

A red and black plaid boat dress is shown with a minute collar and cuff set in white... needless to say the linen is easily removed. The dropped waistline is in evidence in a grey and black check dress with a big white collar and black grosgrain bow and ties. There are cottons in solid shades for the more conservative shopper... charcoal, brandy brown, navy and green. Solid black dress seems due for a comeback and L'Aiglon shows several in silky Pinna cotton.

Smart for town and travel... easy to care for... comfortable to wear!

We are all hoping for a lovely warm fall season and if you are a cotton fan you will enjoy these dresses through sun to snowtime.

THE QUESTION BOX

Dear Mrs. R.: Last fall when I was in Vancouver at the Fashion School I did see a lady's suit tailored from a gentleman's tuxedo. It was very smart and had been superbly done by a professional tailor. I would hesitate to recommend an undertaking of this kind unless you are to have professional help. The suit must be all taken apart and the fabric steam pressed before you can begin to reassemble the pieces for cutting to your own pattern. Help with the fitting is also essential when you are remaking a garment.

by Alice Brooks

'Toaster Doll'

Her full-skirt protects your toaster! That's how this pretty old-fashioned girl earns her keep in your kitchen. Fun to make — charming decoration!

Use scraps. Pattern 7013 includes embroidery transfer of face, pattern, directions for gay toaster cover.

Send 25 cents in coins for this pattern (stamps cannot be accepted) to The Times, Household Arts Dept., 60 Front St. W., Toronto, 1-A. Print plainly name, address, pattern number.

Order our 1955 Alice Brooks Needlecraft Catalogue. Enjoy pages and pages of exciting new designs—knitting, crochet, embroidery, iron-ons, toys and novelties! Send 25 cents for your copy of this wonderful book now. You'll want to order every design in it!

NOTICE

We Advise Our Customers to Order Their Sawdust Now, as Prices Are Going Up in August. Only we can guarantee a year-round supply from two large mills. We are now cutting for 16 hours a day. While we have this surplus supply, fill your bins now, 100% fir (double screen) headrig coarse sawdust.

ONE DAY DELIVERY
2 units by $10 blower... 3 units by $15 blower... 2 1/2 units, $8 bulk...

We Deliver in All Areas
DHILLON FUEL 2-9459

Toronto Woman
Wins CNE Home
Sewing Prize

TORONTO (CP)—Mrs. Guthrie Middleton of Toronto won first prize of $200 with a chic cocktail sheath dress of blue-grey brocade satin, in the Canadian National Exhibition provincial home dress-making competition. Results of the competition were announced by the CNE women's division Thursday.

Mrs. Middleton's material was imported from Hong Kong. Second prize of $150 went to Alice Takashiba, Regina, who sewed a tailored wool dress of air force blue tweed flecked with red and yellow. It was styled with slightly-flared skirt, deep V-neck and double-breasted collar.

Mrs. R. Patch and Mrs. W. McGregor entertained at 1701 Richardson Street recently with a miscellaneous shower for bride-elect Miss Anna Hinde. A miniature wishing well, gaily decorated, held the brightly-wrapped gifts. Miss Hinde received a corsage of pink roses when she arrived, and her mother, Mrs. S. Hinde, received pink carnations. Other invited guests were Mrs. E. T. Hinde, Mrs. J. Noseworthy, Mrs. J. Shaw, Mrs. J. Neil, Mrs. K. Armstrong, Mrs. J. Heller, Mrs. V. Nielson, Mrs. A. Richards, Mrs. W. Finlayson, Mrs. J. McNeil, Mrs. I. Mark, Mrs. L. Impey, Mrs. D. Martin, Mrs. B. Burt, Misses Janet Baynton and Shirley Boven.

Cheque Assists in Buying Exercise Table

Representatives of women's institutes on lower Vancouver Island gathered at Royal Jubilee Hospital earlier this week to see Mrs. E. O. Pearson, president of Craigflower Institute, present the administrator, George Master, at right, with a cheque for $1,200. The money, donated by the 33 institutes on Vancouver Island, purchased a De Lorme exercise table for the physiotherapy department. Demonstrating the use of the table, first of its kind on Vancouver Island, is an out-patient, Mr. Atkinson. (Photo by W. Atkins.)

Canon Hears Wedding Vows
On His Own Anniversary

Last Thursday afternoon, on the anniversary of his own wedding day, Rev. Canon Fredrick Pike heard the marriage vows of Miss Elizabeth Lantry Mackenzie and Mr. John Kendall Breen.

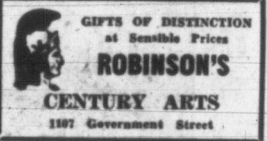

The ceremony was performed in Cedar Hill's picturesque St. Luke's Church where all-white flowers had been arranged at the altar and bronze and pink flowers throughout the church. The church organist, Eric C. V. Edwards, played the wedding music.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. D. Rod Mackenzie, 524 St. Charles Street, and of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Breen of Prince Rupert.

A filmy white net gown with a bouffant, floor-length skirt, fitted bodice and a bolero styled with dainty short sleeves was chosen by the bride for her wedding day.

Her chapel veil was held with a bandeau of matching net and her bouquet was of white gladioli. She wore a diamond studded gold locket, gift of the groom.

Miss Maureen Mackenzie came from Calgary to stand with her sister as her only attendant. She wore a pale green, three-quarter length brocade taffeta gown with sleeveless fitted bodice styled with a portrait neckline. Bronze and yellow flowers were in her bouquet and in her head bandeau. Her shoes matched her gown and her

THE VICTORIA BURNS CLUB WILL HOLD A GARDEN PARTY

at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Cooper, "Glencraig," Fernside Road, Gordon Head, on Wednesday, August 10. Gate Prize, Entertainment, Refreshments, see road signs at entrance. Admission, 50 cents — 2.30 o'clock to 5.

In Honor of the Bride

Miss Roberta Hayton, whose marriage to Mr. Kenneth Herbert Noel takes place on August 13, was honored recently at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. V. N. Young at her home on Adelaide Avenue. In compliment to the groom-elect, who is with the RCAF, gifts were arranged in a replica of an airplane decorated in blue and white with white and pink flowers. A corsage of pink roses was also presented to Miss Hayton and one of white carnations to her mother, Mrs. R. E. Hayton. White and pink was decorative motif on the bride's chair and in bells and flowers used to decorate the rooms. The refreshment table was centred with a miniature bride and her two attendants under an arch of white and pink flowers. Others present were Mrs. E. Sawyer, Mrs. G. Whitehead, Mrs. R. Macdonald, Misses Edith Hayton, Frances Murray, Peggy Melville, Alwynne Creasy, Sheila Martin, Beth Williams and Irene Noel.

Miss Kathie Nuttall was honored guest recently when Miss Marjorie Ross and Mrs. Karl Griffiths co-hosted a miscellaneous shower at the Inlet Avenue home of the former. A wishing well gaily decorated held the many gifts. Pink roses en corsage were presented to Miss Nuttall, while her mother, Mrs. A. Nuttall, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. B. Woods, received pink carnations. Guests were Mrs. M. McLaren, Mrs. G. May, Mrs. K. Ross, Mrs. M. Ross, Mrs. R. Chapman, Mrs. H. Nuttall, Mrs. A. Wilman, Misses Alice Nuttall and Muriel McLean, and Miss Barbara Floyd.

Honoring Miss Florence Cameron, an August bride-elect attending Summer School from her home at Princeton, Mrs. A. J. Meyer entertained recently at a miscellaneous shower at her home at 992 Gorge Rd. West. Gifts were presented to Miss Cameron in a decorated basket, and she also received a corsage

STYLISTS
IN EYEWEAR
PRESCRIPTION
OPTICAL CO.
233 Yarrow Bldg.

A New Service for Vacationers
'Safety Margin Cash'

This new Beneficial service lets you go confidently on vacation with an extra $50 or $100 tucked in your wallet for emergencies. If you don't use the cash, return it. Your only charge is for the time you hold it. For example, $100 for 1 month costs you only $2.00. Phone, write or come in today.

Loans $50 to $1200 or more on Signature, Furniture or Auto
THE COMPANY THAT LIKES TO SAY YES
Personal FINANCE CO.

3 convenient offices—which is nearest you?
VICTORIA—(2 Offices)
• 650-A Yates Street, 2nd Floor.....Phone: 3-8261
• 629 New Street, Room 218-219, Central Bldg.....Phone: 3-5155
NANAIMO.....204 Commercial Street, 2nd Fl.....Phone: 2338
OPEN EVENINGS BY APPOINTMENT—PHONE FOR EVENING HOURS
Loans made to residents of all surrounding towns • Personal Finance Company of Canada

For a smoother trip...

call ahead by LONG DISTANCE

Long Distance is cheaper than many people think. Rates are lower weekdays after 6 p.m. and all day Sundays

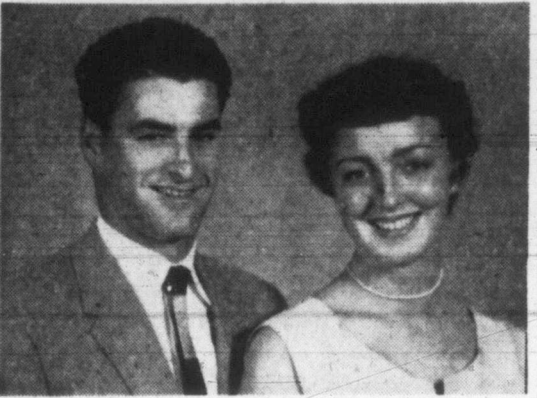

See the inside of your directory for these bargain rates.

BRITISH COLUMBIA
TELEPHONE COMPANY

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Heard, 1449 Clifford Street, wish to announce the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine Eva, to Mr. Ralph Wiens, son of Mrs. M. Wiens, 811 Condon Street, and the late Mr. John Wiens. The wedding will take place on September 3 in Metropolitan United Church, with Dr. F. E. H. James officiating. Matron of honor will be Mrs. G. Birtwistle, and bridesmaids, the groom-elect's sister, Miss Eleanor Wiens, and Miss Doreen Wilkins. Mr. Ralph Brubacher will act as best man, and the ushers will be Mr. Brian Heard and Mr. Gordon Birtwistle. (Photo of Miss Heard by Goertz and Mr. Wiens by Jus-Rite.)

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Dawson, 2837 Parkview Drive, today announce the forthcoming marriage of their only daughter, Adrienne, to Mr. George Ernest Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wilson, 3133 Delta Street. Rev. D. B. Carr will perform the ceremony on August 27 at 8.30 p.m. in Centennial United Church. Attendants will be Miss Joyce Hensley as maid of honor, and Misses Margaret Wilson, sister of the groom-elect, and Nonie Pedneault, bridesmaids. Mr. Don Hendry will be best man, and ushering will be Mr. Ken Dawson, brother of the bride-elect, and Mr. Archie McMillan.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Percy Angus, 2251 Neil Street, announce the engagement of their youngest daughter, Kathaleen Lily, to Mr. John Andrew Cochrane, only son of Dr. W. John Cochrane, 1244 Wilsper Place, and the late Mrs. Helen W. Eadie Cochrane. The groom-elect is the grandson of the late Mr. John Cochrane, pioneer druggist of Victoria. The wedding will take place on Saturday, August 27, at 8 p.m., in Oak Bay United Church, with Rev. A. M. Angus officiating. Miss Alma Angus, sister of the bride-elect, will be maid of honor, while Mrs. J. Bandy and Mrs. R. Mooney will be bridesmaids. The groom-elect will have Mr. Donald Walker as best man, Mr. Gary Shepard and Mr. Dick Mann, Vancouver, will usher.

The engagement is announced of Betty, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Euffryn Davies, Port Talbot, South Wales, to Ernest Roy, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Barnes, 1774 Adanac Street, Victoria, B.C. The wedding will take place in St. Mary's Anglican Church, Oak Bay, on August 20 at 8 p.m. The bride will have as her attendants, Misses Gloria and June Bennett, cousins of the groom. Best man will be the groom's brother, Kenneth, and ushers will be Mr. Allan Wilson and Mr. Mark Carley.

Summer Visitors

Mrs. R. Ehrlich, and her daughter, Susan, have come from Toronto to spend a month with her mother, Mrs. E. Lerik, 791 Pandora Avenue.

Mrs. Diane Arsens, Seattle, is visiting in Victoria. She will be a guest of Col. and Mrs. Russell B. Ker, Rockland Avenue, for two months.

Mrs. Arthur McCutchan of Brisbane, Australia, will come to Victoria next Tuesday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ross K. Sturgeon at their home, 3916 Shelbourne Street. She has been traveling in the United States with her husband, who will join her here a week later. They will leave again for Australia from here.

Recent guests at the Empress Hotel were Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Christensen of San Francisco. Mrs. Christensen is the former Anne McDonald of Fernie, B.C., who attended Normal School in Victoria. Later she moved with her father, Laughlin E. McDonald, and family to California, where she studied law. She is now associate attorney in law, Department of Pacific Gas and Electric Company, of which Mr. Christensen is treasurer. While in the city they visited their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McDonald, 371 Ker Avenue, and enjoyed an afternoon at Butchart's Gardens.

of interest to Women

Editor Elizabeth Forbes

OF PERSONAL INTEREST

Navy Day Government House Dinner

On Wednesday evening, Aug. 17, during Navy Day, His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Wallace will entertain at a dinner party in Government House when honor guests will be Rear-Admiral H. F. Pullen, OBE, CD, RCN, Flag Officer Pacific Coast, and Mrs. Pullen, and Rear-Admiral J. C. Hibbard, DSC, CD, RCN, and Mrs. Hibbard. Among guests will be Vice-Admiral Sir John Stevens, KBE, CB, RN, Commander-in-Chief of the America and West Indies Squadron, and Lady Stevens.

To Mark Visit of British Cruiser

Highlighting the visit to Victoria of the Royal Navy cruiser HMS Superb late next week will be a program of social engagements that includes luncheons, dinners and receptions.

At noon next Friday following arrival of the cruiser, Rear-Admiral H. F. Pullen, OBE, CD, RCN, Flag Officer Pacific Coast, and Mrs. Pullen will host a luncheon in Admiral's House, HMC Dockyard, in honor of Sir John F. Stevens, KBE, CB, RN, Commander-in-Chief, America and West Indies Squadron, and Lady Stevens.

Saturday evening the Flag Officer Pacific Coast and officers of the command will entertain at a reception in HMCS Naden for the Commander-in-Chief, the commodore and the officers of HMS Superb.

On Monday evening, Aug. 15, the Flag Officer Pacific Coast and officers of the command will be hosts at a dinner at HMCS Naden to honor Col. the Hon. Clarence Wallace, Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia. Sir John Stevens will be among the guests.

The same evening, Mrs. H. F. Pullen will entertain with a dinner at Admiral's House in honor of Mrs. Wallace and of Lady Stevens who, with Sir John, will be guests at Admiral's House while HMS Superb is in port.

Sir John Stevens will be host at a luncheon in HMS Superb on Tuesday, Aug. 16, when His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor will be an honor guest. The same day the Commander-in-Chief with the commodore and officers of HMS Superb will be hosts at a late-day reception in the ship.

Mrs. Wallace a Luncheon Guest

Mrs. Clarence Wallace, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, will be honor guest at a luncheon in the Oak Bay Beach Hotel on Wednesday. Hostesses will be the president, Mrs. Gordon Wismer, and members of the executive of the Victoria Women's Canadian Club, of which Mrs. Wallace is honorary president. Covers will be laid for 12.

Attend Afternoon Wedding

In Victoria to attend the wedding of Miss Christina Kathleen Evans and Mr. Lawrence Alfred Somers, which took place this afternoon in Centennial United Church, are Mr. and Mrs. James Rea, Vancouver; Mrs. Austin Carl, Miss Verda Darling and Miss Lorna Robertson, Dawson Creek; Mr. and Mrs. D. MacPherson, Blairmore, Alta.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Somers and Miss Betty Somers, Strathclair, Man.; Mr. and Mrs. R. Westaway, New Westminster, and Miss Barbara Galliford, Alberni.

Baby to Receive Names

Jade Elizabeth will be the names given the two-and-a-half-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hemeon, 157 Wildwood Street, in a christening ceremony in St. Luke's Church Sunday. Canon F. Pike will officiate. The baby will be of the sixth generation to wear the heirloom christening gown, which was hand woven for the family. The embroidery was hand worked on the fine lawn almost 200 years ago. Godparents will be Mrs. Clifford Adams, Sidney; Mrs. John Van Buren, Silver Springs, Maryland, and Mr. Geoffrey Styles, Vancouver. A family tea will follow at the home of the baby's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Burchett, 2660 Arbutus Road.

At Vancouver Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Copithorne, 1207 Clovelly Terrace, spent the day in Vancouver Friday to attend the wedding of Miss Dorothy Mosher to their nephew, Dr. G. F. Copithorne. Also attending the wedding from Victoria was Miss C. Copithorne, a great-aunt of the groom.

Out-of-Town Guests

Out-of-town guests who attended the Clark-Taylor wedding recently were Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Clark, Miss Georgina Clark and Mr. Frank Clark, Miss Elaine Jeffery, Miss Joan Touchara and Mr. G. C. William, all of Kamloops, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Munro and Miss Jane Munro, Mill Valley, Calif.; Mr. E. C. Reid, Edmonton, Alta.; Mrs. W. A. Munro, Miss Alice Keenleyside, Miss Elsa Wiegand and Miss Ethel Pearson, Vancouver, and Capt. and Mrs. Cecil Claxton with Mr. Peter Claxton, North Pender Island, B.C.

Wedding Parties

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Reid, Vancouver, came to Victoria last week to attend the wedding of Miss Margaret Taylor and Mr. J. Maurice Clark, which took place in St. Luke's Church, Mr. and Mrs. Reid entertained with a cocktail party at the Empress Hotel following the afternoon reception. Guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Emery, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Munro, Mrs. W. A. Munro, Mrs. M. Young, Mr. Ed Reid, Mr. G. C. William, Mr. Bernie Clarkson, Mr. Frank Clark, Mr. Russ Bell, Miss Georgina Clark, Miss Elaine Jeffery, Miss Joan Touchara and Miss Elsa Wiegand.

Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Clark entertained for their son, Mr. Maurice Clark, and his fiancée, Miss Taylor, prior to the wedding, with post-rehearsal party at the San Sebastian Auto Court. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Emery, Mrs. M. Young, Miss Jane Munro, Miss Georgina Clark, Miss Elaine Jeffery, Miss Joan Touchara, Mr. Russ Bell, Mr. Bernie Clarkson and Mr. Frank Clark.

Tea Hour Hostess

Mrs. Fred Pike entertained Friday afternoon with a tea at her Currie Road home to honor Miss Georgina Checkley, who is visiting in the city from Hamilton, Ont., and Mrs. Constance Orr, a visitor from Natal, South Africa. The tea table was arranged with a colorful bowl of red nasturtiums. Mrs. Basil Darling presided.

Somers-Evans Wedding Vows Heard In This Afternoon's Ceremony

Rev. Douglas Carr officiated at the wedding ceremony this afternoon, in Centennial United Church, which united in marriage Miss Christina Kathleen Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gwilym Evans, 1270 Derby Road, and Lawrence Alfred Somers, Dawson Creek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Somers, Strathclair, Man. Mrs. M. Wilms, organist, played traditional wedding music. Baskets of white gladioli were placed in the church, and white satin bows marked guest pews.

Mr. Evans gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a white waltz-length gown of corded tulle in classic style. Her chapel veil of illusion net was applied with satin, and caught to a small headpiece. White stephanotis and a white orchid topped her white tulle. Miss Lola Sherwood, Alberni, B.C., was maid of honor, in a ballerina-length gown of peach organza. She wore a matching cap and carried a bouquet of feathered carnations and stephanotis. Edward Taylor was best man. A white lace cloth-covered bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake at a reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents. White candles and vases of red roses flanked the cake. William Turner proposed the toast. For a honeymoon trip up-Island, the bride chose for traveling a beige-brown tweed suit complemented with avocado accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mr. and Mrs. Somers will make their home at Dawson Creek.

REMOVE UNWANTED HAIR PERMANENTLY

Electrolysis is the only safe, permanent method medically approved—Hundreds of extractions at one treatment—Ask for free booklet.

VICTORIA ELECTROLYSIS CENTRE

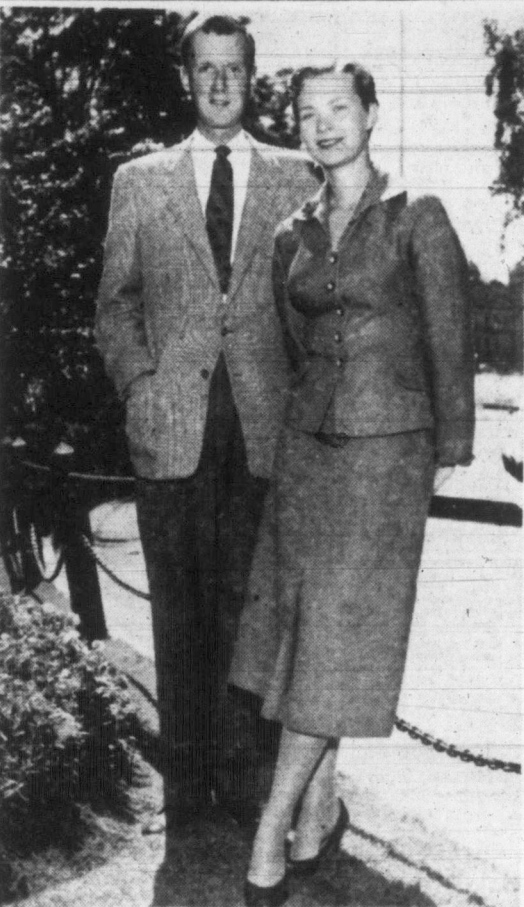

401 Campbell Bldg., 1029 Douglas Street Phone 5-0811

Behind the Scenes at CLGU Tournament

Mrs. H. F. Crowe, right, general chairman of the championship program, and Miss Ruth Jones, tournament secretary, have been living, eating and sleeping tournament golf for the last six months to ensure that the Canadian Ladies' Golf Championships at Royal Colwood

Golf and Country Club, this week and next, progresses smoothly and easily. So far, during the tournament they have been at the club early and late, and promise to continue their arduous duties until the last ball has been hit, sometime next week.

Visits Parents in Victoria

Miss Jean McKee, who has spent the past two years in Toronto, returned to Victoria recently to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McKee, at their home on Sutlej Street. Her fiancé, Mr. W. F. (Sandy) Leishman, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Leishman, of Toronto, who has also been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. McKee for the past two weeks, is returning to Hamilton, Ont., on Sunday. Miss McKee will be the guest of her parents until the wedding in October.

Galt-Victoria Families Joined in Ontario Wedding

A wedding of much interest in Victoria took place in Galt, Ont., recently, when Miss Ann Elizabeth Ballantyne, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Leslie R. Ballantyne of Galt, Ont., exchanged vows with James Campbell Buchanan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Buchanan, 1954 Taylor Street, Victoria.

The couple were married in a late afternoon ceremony in Wesley United Church in Galt, with the bride's father officiating. White gladioli, cornflowers, and fern formed the floral background. Traditional organ music was played by Frank R. Holton.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Frank R. Ballantyne, De Barry, Fla., the bride wore a gown of pearl-toned embossed nylon net over white satin. The full skirt was offset by a sculptured bodice fashioned with scooped neckline and encrusted with rhinestones. Her elbow-length mitts and cap style headdress were also highlighted with rhinestones. A fingertip veil of illusion net cascaded from the cap. White gladioli, cornflowers and ivy were in her cascade bridal bouquet.

Miss Eleanor Ballantyne, Atwood, Ont., maid of honor, and Miss Carol Ann Gray, Toronto, Ont., junior bridesmaid, attended their cousin. Their cornflower-blue polished cotton gowns were similarly styled in street length. They carried baskets of blue cornflowers and gladioli in the same tone as garlands they wore in their hair.

Robert Ballantyne, brother of the bride, was best man, and Dr. M. E. Knight, New York City, and Donald Elliot, Toronto, were ushers.

A reception followed in the garden of the bride's parents' home where N. Wightman, Weland, Ont., proposed the toast to the bride's happiness. The newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Muskoka, Ont., and British Columbia. For traveling, the bride donned a moonstone gray ensemble with a small black velvet hat, white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan are now living at 3895 Hobbs Road, Victoria.

SPECIALIZING IN

- Filling Optical Prescriptions
- Optical Repairs
- Modern Frame Styling

OPTICAL DISPENSING

COMPANY

1113 Douglas A. H. HEASLIP Tel. 2-5713

Los Angeles Visitors Join At Party Here

The League of Roses (Lancs and Yorks) recently entertained more than 155 members and friends including 56 visiting from the Lancashire Society of Los Angeles, at the Golden Slipper, Broad Street. Mrs. A. Jones, first vice-president, greeted the gathering and introduced Alderman R. MacMillan, who represented Mayor Claude Harrison and welcomed the visitors to Victoria. Corsages were presented to Mrs. MacMillan, Mrs. A. Hardman, wife of past-president H. Hardman, Los Angeles, who were conveners of the visit, and Mrs. H. Edvardson, Victoria. Entertainment was provided by Miss Joyce Hunt, vocalist; Mr. and Mrs. H. Stark, instrumentalist; Don Mulcahy, bass-baritone; Mrs. Alice Syrett, vocalist; Norma and her saxophone; John Hutchinson, comedian; Miss F. Merriman and R. Purcell, adagio dancers; H. Inman, comic. Mrs. M. Graves and Mrs. A. Gilson were accompanists; W. Dawson assisted with refreshments; H. Inman and A. Hopwood were in charge of tickets at the door. Mrs. G. Baker assisted Mrs. A. Jones in receiving the guests and also presented the corsages. Refreshments and dancing concluded the evening.

SOMETHING NEW

For a switch from traditional wedding bouquets, how about white, pink and candy-striped carnations with a tiny trail of ivy?

FASHION JEWELRY

CLEARANCE LAST DAY MONDAY

Reg. Price $1.00, $1.50, $2.00

SALE PRICE

39¢ EACH

OR

3 FOR $1.00

NO EXCHANGES OR REFUNDS

ROSE'S LTD.

JEWELERS

1317 DOUGLAS ST.

DOUGLAS AT FISCARD

Hudson's Bay Company

INCORPORATED 27th MAY 1820

Monday Store Hours: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Dial 3-7111

Sidney, Keating, Cobble Hill, Duncan and Sooke, call Zenith 6046, toll free

Let the Bay's skilled beauticians re-condition your "sun-baked" hair

Summer sunshine does wonders for the morale... but it plays havoc with your pretty hair-do. It dries, dulls, weakens the hair... robs it of its natural elasticity and lustre. If YOUR hair is suffering from "over-exposure," consult the Bay's skilled beauticians for the correct re-conditioning treatment.

Take advantage of the Bay's COMPLETE beauty service, including hair coloring and complete re-styling.

Dial 3-7111 for an appointment

Just say, "Charge it, please."

Bay beauty salon, fashion floor, 2nd

In Victoria, it's the Bay... First in Fashion

DICK TRACY

NANCY

BUZ SAWYER

DOTTY

MARK TRAIL

BUGS BUNNY

ALLEY OOP

ORPHAN ANNIE

PENNY

LONG SAM

OUT OUR WAY

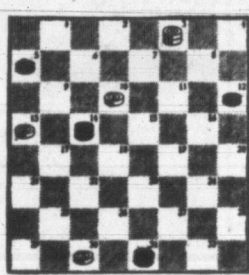

STEVE ROOPER

AROUND HOME

IT'S YOUR MOVE

By MILLARD HOPPER
Long-Time Open Checker Champion

White manoeuvres the right way and Black bows out in six moves. White is moving up the board; he begins.

Can you employ the winner's strategy without looking at the solution below?

ANSWER THIS IN ONE SECOND
What is it you can take the whole from and some still remains?

BILLS, BILLS, BILLS
In his wallet a man has six bills. They total $63. None is a $1 bill. Can you figure out what they are?

HEADS 'N' TAILS
As a whole I make you afraid. Behead me, and I'll still depress you. But curtail me, and I'll take you away from your troubles. What am I?

PENNY PINCH
Excluding pennies, and any coins not now in general use, how many different combinations of coins will make 30c?

HOW MANY?

Mrs. Jones has four sons. They have only two bicycles and therefore can go on cycling expeditions only two at a time. In how many different pairs can they go?

See if you can figure this out within 60 seconds.

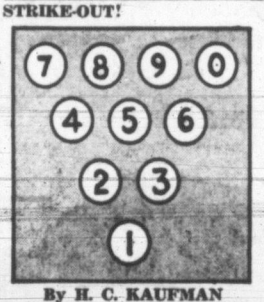

WHAT'S THE ANSWER?
If a specialist advised you that you needed a porcelain jacket, where would you wear it?

ANSWER WANTED IN ONE MINUTE
If each of the four contestants played the other three one chess game in a tournament, how many games would be played in all?

A LITTLE SOMETHING
What is the smallest number that can be divided by 8, 9, 10 and 12 with a remainder of five in each case?

STRIKE-OUT!
To score a strike in the diamond above, that is, to succeed in crossing out all of the numbers, you must find the correct answers to the definitions below. If the answer to No. 1, for instance, is 0, cross out 0 in the diagram; if the answer to No. 2 is 4315, cross out 4, 3, 1 and 5, etc. Answers may have as many as five digits. Can you bowl a perfect game?

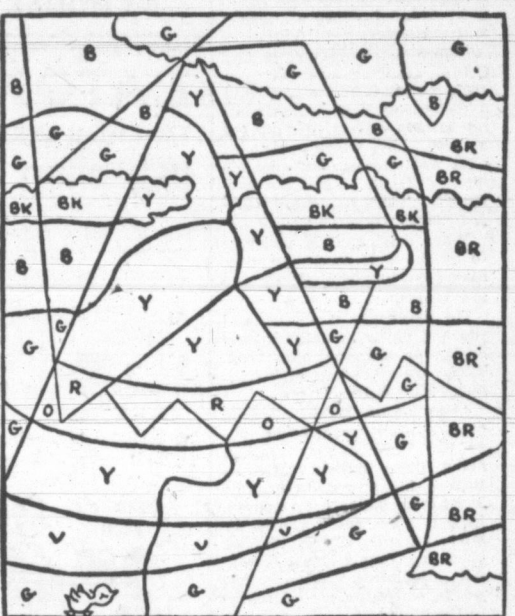

Today's set-up:
1. Next presidential election year: ____
2. This many's said to be a crowd: ____
3. Add a baseball team to a cricket team: ____
4. Arizona became state No. ____
5. One number description of Paradise: ____

By H. C. KAUFMAN
To score a strike in the diamond above, that is, to succeed in crossing out all of the numbers, you must find the correct answers to the definitions below.

1. The manner in which that man -- the room when am busy.
2. The train -- came in with a -- that there was wreck on a nearby curve.
3. The foolish boy got into a -- through his --.
4. Who was the first to prove that you can't keep a good man down?

BOARDING HOUSE

Add Some Color to It

Colors will turn the drawing above into an attractive outdoor scene. If you do not have colored pencils or crayons, use an ordinary pencil to make varied shadings. Color indicators are as follows: B--blue, G--green, Br--brown, Bk--black, Y--yellow, R--red, O--orange, V--violet. Apply the various colors neatly.

MISSING WORDS
To supply the missing words in the following sentences, use words spelled with the same letters but with the letters differently arranged: (For example: 1--Master, stream).

How many can you get?
1. The -- of the -- for-bade swimming in it.
2. The foolish boy got into a -- through his --.
3. When the man was ready to -- on his trip he -- sadly from his family.

RIDDLE ME THIS:
Who was the first to prove that you can't keep a good man down?

The smooth easy chewing seems to make your work go quicker -- easier!

WRIGLEY'S SPEARMINT CHEWING GUM

Enjoy chewing Wrigley's Spearmint every day!

AUTO BODY and PAINT REPAIRS

FROM THE SMALLEST DENT TO A COMPLETE WRECK. MOONEY'S CAN SAVE YOU MONEY... VICTORIA'S LARGEST AUTO BODY SHOP, LATEST EQUIPMENT AND HIGH-SPEED METHODS MEAN LOWER COSTS TO YOU!

ASK FOR A FREE ESTIMATE NOW!

MOONEY & SONS

937 VIEW STREET PHONE 3-4711

Happy Vacations Planned; Lots Go Wrong Otherwise

By TONY DICKASON
Driving this summer? U-huh! Well try to stay alive; don't get lost if on an extended vacation via auto, and leave the bugle with the neighbors.

This sounds simple, but actually is a complicated process. Too few people really plan their vacation properly. They know where they intend to go, sometimes why, but the details of driving are generally left on the shelf.

That's wrong, and can cause immense heaps of confusion and trouble.

Let's work over a few angles in this connection, just in case you don't quickly bring to mind all the answers.

First, get the jalopy checked. You want to be sure the thing will last the distance. Your service station attendant will look for needed lubrication. Tires should have plenty of tread, and no cracks.

The exhaust line is important. Carbon monoxide causes headaches, and worse. So no seepage seems advisable. Oil must not leak; shock absorbers in working order make for comfort.

STOP RIGHT NOW

Brakes, of course, are essential unless you have a whopping big slew-foot to drag. If the brake pedal, when depressed is down near the floor board, you need new linings or a linkage adjustment.

The attendant should jog the windshield wiper. There's nothing more annoying, or dangerous, than battling through a heavy downpour sans vision. Battery is a must to look over. Conking on a desert or hill proves bothersome to the utmost.

After adjustments, your service chap tells you the car is in shape, or otherwise. If otherwise, take a train.

So, after warning the milkman and boarding bugle, you're all set to go. You count the children and let in the clutch.

And take a map. Not even maps know everything, but it's better than guessing.

WHAT! NO HARP?

Maps tell all sorts of things, apart from marking routes... where you can stay; cities and populations, altitudes, distances from hither to yon. Such items as the best route to transport harps (hot weather needed) so strings don't droop like spaghetti are not, however, generally available.

Before a character named Otto J. Lindberg came along in 1922, motorists had to pay up to a dollar for maps which were not always correct. He started a finicky firm which made sure data was on base, and sold his idea to various oil and gas companies. Thus maps are complimentary these days.

When driving, it is advisable to let the wife check the map. Males on this statistically are proven poor.

On maps are roads marked red and blue. Sometimes it is easier to use the blue road. These are secondary highways, but traffic is less.

Many accidents take place on good straight roads—nine out of 10. Unfortunately nothing about these statistics will influence the stupid driver who lacks care, patience or courtesy. He's a gone goose sooner or later, regardless. No number of safety regulations can outwit dumbness. These few words, of course, are addressed to the others.

MANY RECIDIVISTS

Console yourself with the statistics that in Canada over a recent six-year period, 80.9 per cent of drivers had no serious accident; 15.2 per cent one accident; and the remaining 3.9 per cent had 36.4 per cent of all accidents. These are the morose repeaters.

One danger on highways are the grey centre line ribbons disappearing, mile after mile, under the hood. This makes people sleep, including drivers. Nobody can sleep and drive; thus many accidents. Beware, vacationers; remember this drawback when you're behind the wheel. On some highways, engineers are incorporating gentle curves, needed or not, to give the driver something to think about.

Here are a few additional aspects: Don't ride the other fellow's bumper; move with the traffic; don't go too fast as you'll be helpless in an emergency; if you drive at night, dim lights when another car is approaching; never down a drop of the cup that bleats before driving; keep the back door locked if you have kids there.

Just be a normal, pleasant and thoughtful person and there will be no trouble.

Otherwise, you may as well turn on the gas at home for yourself.

This, at least, will save the family.

Canadian Pacific FAST FERRY

Daily Sailings to SEATTLE
5:00 pm
Pacific Standard Time
Add 1 hr. for Daylight Time

Advance car reservation service. Car rate $8.36 each way.

Go Direct from Downtown Victoria to Downtown Seattle. Best ships on the Coast, spacious lounges. Comfortable staterooms available. Take this quick convenient route to the South. Return fare $7.85. Children half fare. Special weekend rate $6.55.

Special Princess one-day trip—Victoria-Nanaimo-Vancouver and return (via Nanaimo) $6.85.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

Phone 2-8131 or 4-8001 for information.

STRAIT CHAMP RELAXING AT CAMPBELL RIVER

A week-end of relaxation at a Campbell River fishing lodge is in store for Strait champ Bert Thomas and trainer Ove Witt, who left last night for the Up-Island resort.

Early next week the pair will go to Tacoma, Wash., where a U.S. Marine Corps reserve unit will present ex-Marine Thomas with a citation marking his victory over Juan de Fuca Strait.

Immediately following the appearance, Wednesday, Thomas and Witt will be joined by Mrs. Thomas for their trip to Youngstown, N.Y., training campsite for Bert's try to beat 24 other contestants across Lake Ontario in September.

Duel to Death With Sickles His Answer to Expropriation

LONDON (Reuters)—A 79-year-old Londoner today threatened to defend his bungalow and seven acres of property by a duel to the death with sickles.

Hugh Lanflier, a recluse, flung down the challenge after a London tribunal ruled a development corporation was entitled to buy his land compulsorily for £830 compensation. "The corporation wants to build a factory on the site."

Lanflier vowed he would never sell and challenged the tribunal chairman, C. H. Bailey, to the duel with sickles. Lanflier's letter to Bailey declared: "I am prepared to meet you in mortal combat. Weapons—sickles, and I shall expect to hear from you or your seconds within a week. The fight to take place on my land."

Officials said Bailey is on vacation and declined to say when he would return.

Lanflier refused to attend hearings of the tribunal and returned their letters to him unopened. When two officials visited his land, he chased them off brandishing an iron bar and roaring: "You will not take possession of this field except over my dead body."

EUROPE THIS FALL

in uncrowded comfort!

Sail from QUEBEC on the famous flagship "HOMERIC" (26,000 tons)

—only 6 days to Le Havre and Southampton. Superb cuisine and service, luxury in both Tourist and First Class.

Book now for choicest accommodations.

From Quebec:

August 20 — September 6, 23 —

October 9, 26 — November 12

Special Christmas sailing from Halifax — S.S. "ITALIA" (22,000 tons), December 11, to Plymouth, Le Havre and Copenhagen

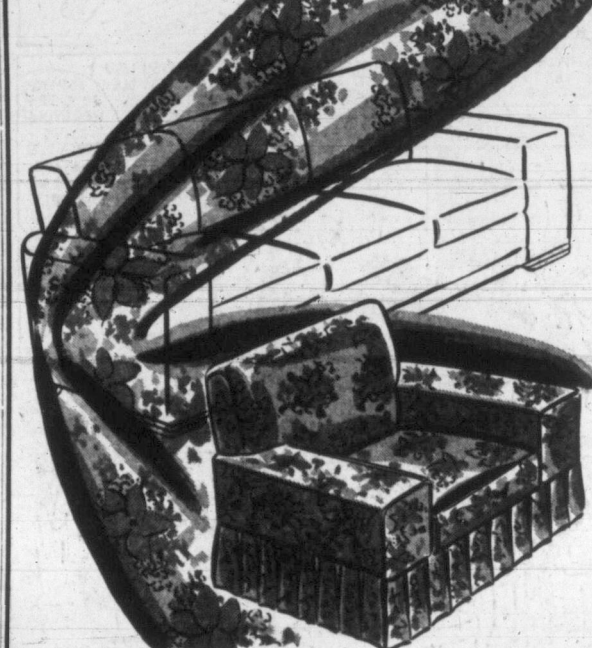

SEE YOUR TRAVEL AGENT

HOME LINES

EATON'S Special, Custom-Made Slipcovers

Save Your Money . . . and Your Furniture with These Fine

Custom-Made Slip Covers

Beautiful slip covers, custom tailored to your furniture to add new tailored charm to your home. Complete with piped seams, box-pleated flounce and hook-and-eye fasteners. Choose from a gay array of better quality printed fabrics and a wide colour selection in plain barkcloth. Be down early Monday morning for the best selection!

Two-piece Suite 67⁵⁰

Extra Chairs 23⁵⁰

Budget Plan Terms with NO DOWN PAYMENT (Minimum Purchase 15.00)

EATON'S—Draperies, Second Floor, House Furnishings Building, Phone 2-7141

REMEMBER—During Semi-Annual Sale Furniture and Housefurnishings — Budget Plan Terms feature No Down Payment

EATON'S Semi-Annual SALE FURNITURE and HOUSEFURNISHINGS

at EATON'S across Canada The Mattress Sale of the Year

EATON'S Canada's Largest Retail Organization, and SIMMONS, Canada's Largest Mattress Manufacturer

combined efforts to bring YOU this great offer. And, because every EATON Store and Order Office from coast to coast joined in this great purchase, the price is exceptionally attractive!

- 312 "Auto-lock" precision coil construction (46)
- Heavy insulation over the springs
- Deep, buoyant layers of white cotton felt upholstery and insulation attached to spring construction
- Pre-built, padded border . . . vertically stitched for non-sag
- Jiffy-join tufting with no button "feel" or "pop-off"
- New, exclusive cover in stunning black and gold-colour "nugget" design

Ordinarily 59.50

EATON Semi-Annual Sale Price

47.50 Mattress each

EATON'S Budget Plan Terms No Down Payment, as low as 5.50 monthly

Matching Box Spring, ordinarily 59.50

EATON'S Semi-Annual Sale Price, 47.50

Ordinarily 127.50

EATON Semi-Annual Sale Price

99.50 Continental Bed, complete

EATON'S Budget Plan Terms No Down Payment, as low as 6.75 monthly

Continental Bed, complete

- Included: Mattress in 3/3, 4/0 or 4/6 sizes
- Matching box spring
- Hardwood legs in natural or walnut finish

Phone! Write! Shop in Person!

EATON'S—Furniture and Mattress, Second Floor, House Furnishings Bldg. Phone 2-7141

"Morphy Richards" ELECTRIC TOASTER

Made in England

It can be yours . . . this gleaming, chromium-plated toaster! Look at these outstanding features:

- Automatic timer
- Emergency trip button
- Browning control knob
- Easily-opened crumb removal tray
- Sparkling chromium-plate and black finish
- Extra quality construction

16⁹⁵

EATON'S—Small Appliances, Main Floor House Furnishings Bldg. Phone 2-7141

It Pays to Shop at EATON'S

STORE HOURS: 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.—Phone 2-7141

THE T. EATON CO. CANADA LIMITED

ROTO
MAGAZINE
COLOR
10¢

WEEKEND EDITION

16
PAGES
COMICS
10¢

Victoria Daily Times

WEATHER:
SUNNY; Details on Page 5

THE HOME PAPER

VOL. 122, No. 183

VICTORIA, B.C., SATURDAY, AUGUST 6, 1955—74 PAGES

PRICE: 1 CENT SATURDAY, 10 CENTS

Secret Prober Testifies Monday

Toast of the Province

Two Victorians and two Vancouverites teamed up Friday to bring British Columbia the women's inter-provincial golf championship. The inter-provincial competition was played in conjunction with the Canadian Ladies' Close Championships at Colwood Golf Club.

Club. Smartly attired in their team uniforms are, left to right, Mrs. E. L. Buchanan, Vancouver; Dorothy Herbertson, Victoria; Sheila Ross, Vancouver, and Mrs. J. H. Todd, Victoria. See sports pages for additional pictures, stories. (Times Photo by Halkett.)

Toronto Cracks Major Dope Ring

$1 Million in Narcotics Seized
On Way to Chief Canadian Cities

TORONTO (CP)—Police believe they cracked an international dope ring operating between European cities and Toronto with the arrest Friday night of two men and a woman and seizure of narcotics valued at about $1,000,000 on the black market.

RCMP and city police said they found five pounds of heroin and a pound of raw opium in a suitcase when they raided a midtown Bathurst Street house shortly before midnight.

RCMP Supt. R. S. Carroll said he believed the drug seizure to be the largest in Toronto's history. Insp. Bert Mace of the Toronto force estimated it was one of the largest in Canada in 50 years.

The three persons arrested were charged with conspiring to traffic in narcotics. Police identified them as Jacob Rosenblatt, 52, a furniture salesman; Jack Goldfarb, 49, an auto salesman; and Hannelore Rosenblatt, 23, a housewife, all of Toronto.

Police said two men rented a room in the house and the drugs were taken there Friday.

The supply was earmarked for shipment to ring agents in large Canadian cities, police said, and was to be cut down, diluted and made into thousands of capsules for retail sale to addicts.

Supt. Carroll estimated that the drugs sold in capsule form would bring $1,000,000.

LINK WITH EUROPE
Police got on the trail of the ring nine months ago when undercover agents discovered that Toronto and Montreal drug addicts were being serviced by a new organization.

Until then all narcotics smuggled into Canada came from Mexico and the United States. Sources of the drugs for the new organization were traced to France and Germany.

Working in co-operation with the international criminal police, commission agents of the RCMP went to Europe and picked up the trail.

The investigation covered cities in France and Germany and police said the drugs were bought from agents in those two countries and smuggled into this country within the last few days.

The European-Canadian international ring, believed by police to be the first in this country, is reported to have been operating for nearly a year.

Police were puzzled at the large quantity of opium picked up in the raid. Traffic in this drug is almost "non-existent," they said. They figure the ring operators planned to refine it with the hope of making brown heroin.

Supt. Carroll said the ring is believed to be widespread with agents as far west as Vancouver and east to Halifax.

Police said the three suspects were arrested simultaneously Friday night in separate raids.

CANADA'S CRICKET STARS PERFORM HERE SUNDAY

East will meet West Sunday in an all-day exhibition cricket match at Beacon Hill oval, starting at 11. Dennis Hendra of Victoria will captain a team representing western Canada and consisting of five players from Victoria, three from Vancouver, two from Calgary and one from Edmonton. The team will meet an eastern Canada team captained by D. Orr.

Luncheon interval will be from 1 to 2.15 and stumps will be drawn at 7 p.m.

By-Election Date To Be Known Aug. 14

Premier Will Make Announcement After He Returns to Victoria

LILLOOET (Special)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett will not set the date of the Lillooet by-election until he returns to Victoria, the Social Credit Party nominating convention was told today.

The premier dashed speculation he would announce the by-election date at the convention, and said only it will be held "soon." He is scheduled to return to his office the week of Aug. 14.

The Social convention opened at 10.30 this morning. Five candidates are reported in the running. The party banner-carrier had not been named at press time.

By-election is being held to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Liberal J. Gordon Gibson, the outspoken critic of the government's forest management policies.

Mr. Gibson is expected to be uncontested when the Liberal party holds its convention. Date of the meeting will not be set until the by-election date is announced.

Meanwhile Mr. Gibson issued another blast at the government's forest policies today. In a prepared statement, he expressed "shock" at the government's decision to grant Celgar a forest management licence while the Sloan Royal Commission is under way.

The former Lillooet member said he had just returned from a two-week pack trip through his riding, from Squamish to Bridge River.

"In granting this licence, the so-called people's government has given away 1,300 square miles of the public domain in perpetuity, with an arrogant disregard for our chief justice which places him in an untenable position in the continuation of his inquiry," said Mr. Gibson.

He said "four huge licences have been granted since the establishment of the Sloan Enquiry but it is interesting to note that the premier has been afraid to proceed with the shameful potlatch in the Lillooet district."

Several firms have applied for management licences in the Squamish area. One has been before the cabinet for decision for over a year, following an appeal hearing.

Mr. Gibson continued: "I have proved under oath that money talked in the case of the

CHRIST'S BURIAL SHEET STILL IN EXISTENCE?

A linen burial sheet lodged for several centuries in the Italian city of Turin carries on it the faint image of a man, believed to be that of Jesus Christ after His crucifixion.

The story of the Holy Shroud of Turin is told in Weekend Magazine in the Sunday Times, in an article by Victoria Cross winner Group Captain Leonard Cheshire, Britain's foremost bomber pilot in the Second World War, whose own life story has appeared in recent issues of Weekend.

Bonner Orders RCMP to Probe Whelan Suicide

Unusual Move Made at Request Of Vancouver Police, Coroner

A special RCMP team today replaced Vancouver police force detectives investigating the suicide Friday of Harry Whelan, superintendent of the 750-man department's uniformed branch.

The unusual move was ordered by Attorney-General Robert Bonner.

Named to investigate Whelan's death were RCMP Sgt. John Knox and a constable. They will report to a coroner's inquest Tuesday.

Whelan was found mortally wounded in his home in Vancouver. His police revolver lay beside him.

Attorney-General Bonner's order to the RCMP was issued after Vancouver coroner Glen McDonald and acting police chief Alan Rossiter requested an independent investigation.

Mr. Bonner said the RCMP will prepare a report "and advise the coroner at the inquest."

He declined further comment. But it was indicated the investigations will follow the same lines as for any sudden death.

The Times learned, from other sources, the Vancouver request was designed to forestall any possible attacks on the inquest's findings. Normally, Whelan's fellow officers on the Vancouver police force would conduct the inquiries for the coroner.

The attorney-general's action followed by a few hours a public declaration by Jack Whelan, former Vancouver detective and a chief witness at the current corruption probe, that he would "talk for my brother... I'll take the stand and tell all."

A separate team of RCMP (Continued on Page 24)

Ex-RCMP Officer Terry Parsloe First on Stand

By BRUCE LEVETT

VANCOUVER (CP)—Terry Parsloe, mystery man of the Tupper Royal Commission hearings and author of a secret 1950 report, is scheduled to be the first witness when the commission sits again here Monday morning.

His report, made to Charles E. Thompson who was mayor in 1949 and 1950, gave chief constable Walter Mulligan a clean bill of health after the chief had been accused by Det. Sgt. Len Cuthbert of accepting bribes.

Mr. Thompson, testifying Friday, said he accepted Parsloe as an investigator "on the recommendation of Gordon Wismer," at that time attorney-general. He said he asked for investigation by the attorney-general into Cuthbert's corruption charges but Mr. Wismer suggested "it is a matter for the RCMP." A similar request to Ottawa was refused by Justice Minister Garson, Mr. Thompson testified.

(The Canadian Press report appearing in the Times-Friday said that Parsloe was hired as an investigator after both the minister of justice at Ottawa and the attorney-general at Victoria (then Mr. Wismer) had refused to investigate.) (Mr. Wismer has pointed out that while it was technically correct that he did not order a provincial investigation the testimony of former Mayor Thompson was that he (Mr. Wismer) was the one who suggested that the Vancouver administration should do something about it and had proposed the ex-RCMP officer do the job.)

The Cuthbert accusations were made in a private meeting with prosecutor (now magistrate) Gordon Scott and Mr. Thompson.

It was publication of similar Cuthbert charges in the weekly tabloid Flash which helped bring about the royal commission, under Reginald H. Tupper, to investigate the Vancouver police force.

In 1949 Parsloe was security officer with the Powell River Co., a post he still holds. His report was termed by Mr. Thompson Friday as "the best we could get."

H. A. D. Oliver, counsel for Cuthbert who wounded himself in a suicide attempt June 24, termed it "this bucket of white wash."

Mr. Thompson, testifying under subpoena, took the place at Friday's session of Supt. Harry Whelan, head of the unit. (Continued on Page 24)

Sealed Five Years in Locked File

The Parsloe report lay for five years in a sealed, unmarked envelope in a locked file in city hall until it was brought before the commission Friday.

Its author was one of the youngest men ever to be made sergeant in the RCMP. He retired in 1947 as a staff sergeant at the age of 38 years after 20 years in the service.

Parsloe specialized in counter-terfeiting detection and was liaison officer between the RCMP in British Columbia and detachments in other provinces.

Norman, 25-year-old former caddy, started off at a hot clip with three birdies on the first four holes and looked to be on the way to a rout.

But Crawford bounced back to win the seventh when Norman carelessly missed a putt.

After the turn, Crawford tied it up with a par on the 10th. A 12-foot birdie putt on the 13th put Crawford ahead for the first time. But he lost his lead when he overshot the green on the 14th. Norman won the 15th when he sank a 25-foot chip and went 2 up again on the 16th.

Crawford rallied to win the 17th when Norman messed up two shots and took the 18th with a birdie three, leaving the pair all square after the first round.

Norman, 25-year-old former caddy, started off at a hot clip with three birdies on the first four holes and looked to be on the way to a rout.

But Crawford bounced back to win the seventh when Norman carelessly missed a putt.

After the turn, Crawford tied it up with a par on the 10th. A 12-foot birdie putt on the 13th put Crawford ahead for the first time. But he lost his lead when he overshot the green on the 14th. Norman won the 15th when he sank a 25-foot chip and went 2 up again on the 16th.

Crawford rallied to win the 17th when Norman messed up two shots and took the 18th with a birdie three, leaving the pair all square after the first round.

Canadian Golf Final All Even After 18 Holes

CALGARY (CP)—Lyle Crawford of Vancouver, fighting back twice from behind, was all square with Little Moe Norman of Kitchener, Ont., today at the end of the first 18 holes of their 36-hole final for the Canadian amateur golf championship.

Norman, 25-year-old former caddy, started off at a hot clip with three birdies on the first four holes and looked to be on the way to a rout.

But Crawford bounced back to win the seventh when Norman carelessly missed a putt.

After the turn, Crawford tied it up with a par on the 10th. A 12-foot birdie putt on the 13th put Crawford ahead for the first time. But he lost his lead when he overshot the green on the 14th. Norman won the 15th when he sank a 25-foot chip and went 2 up again on the 16th.

Crawford rallied to win the 17th when Norman messed up two shots and took the 18th with a birdie three, leaving the pair all square after the first round.

Norman, 25-year-old former caddy, started off at a hot clip with three birdies on the first four holes and looked to be on the way to a rout.

But Crawford bounced back to win the seventh when Norman carelessly missed a putt.

After the turn, Crawford tied it up with a par on the 10th. A 12-foot birdie putt on the 13th put Crawford ahead for the first time. But he lost his lead when he overshot the green on the 14th. Norman won the 15th when he sank a 25-foot chip and went 2 up again on the 16th.

Crawford rallied to win the 17th when Norman messed up two shots and took the 18th with a birdie three, leaving the pair all square after the first round.

Norman, 25-year-old former caddy, started off at a hot clip with three birdies on the first four holes and looked to be on the way to a rout.

But Crawford bounced back to win the seventh when Norman carelessly missed a putt.

After the turn, Crawford tied it up with a par on the 10th. A 12-foot birdie putt on the 13th put Crawford ahead for the first time. But he lost his lead when he overshot the green on the 14th. Norman won the 15th when he sank a 25-foot chip and went 2 up again on the 16th.

Crawford rallied to win the 17th when Norman messed up two shots and took the 18th with a birdie three, leaving the pair all square after the first round.

Norman, 25-year-old former caddy, started off at a hot clip with three birdies on the first four holes and looked to be on the way to a rout.

But Crawford bounced back to win the seventh when Norman carelessly missed a putt.

HULA HULA HULLABALOO

Girl Skips 'With Bill' —On RCN Warship

HILO, Hawaii (AP)—Police today reported a new element in the story of an attractive 16-year-old girl who slipped aboard the RCN destroyer Athabaskan and now is cruising to Long Beach, Calif., with 150 Canadian sailors.

Joycelin Joan Pilapil, five-foot-five high school senior of Portuguese-Filipino blood, left a farewell note for her parents in Papaia about July 28.

"Folks, I can't stay here any longer so I am going away with Bill," it read. "So don't worry." Police reported this postscript: "Bill wants to take care of me and the baby, so let us do it together."

Joycelin's mother, Mrs. Frem-Joycelin Pilapil, said she didn't know Bill except that he "worked on one of the ships some place."

DISCOVERED AT SEA
In Ottawa, a spokesman for the Royal Canadian Navy said the girl slipped aboard during an "open house" function. She was discovered in a stern compartment when the destroyer was at sea with her sister ship, the Cayuga.

"As far as we know no member of the crew of the Athabaskan assisted the girl to conceal herself aboard the ship," the spokesman said. She was placed in "suitable accommodations" and will be turned over to United States officials Sunday at Long Beach.

He expressed belief that Joycelin is the first stowaway ever to board a Canadian warship. The two ships are on a summer training cruise.

Mrs. Pilapil commented: "My daughter always wanted to join the service—either the woman marines or the WACs. But never the Canadian Navy!"

"I really didn't have any idea she had gone so far. Imagine, Long Beach! And the Canadian Navy yet!"

"I'll help her all I can, but it's not up to me to reprimand her. I'm leaving it up to police. I hope she won't want to tralpa around again."

Mrs. Pilapil said Joycelin is the most spirited of her six children and hardest to control. Joycelin's father is a sugar plantation worker.

(The destroyers will rendezvous at Long Beach with the cruiser HMCS Ontario, and the three ships will leave Wednesday for home base at Esquimalt, arriving Saturday.)

LOU FAGEOL LEAPS CLEAR TO CHEAT DEATH

Slo-Mo V Back-Flips at 160 MPH

SEATTLE (AP)—A complete back-flip by the Slo-mo-shun V after it "took off" from the water travelling around 160 miles an hour took the defending champion out of this year's Gold Cup picture Friday and probably ended the racing career of Lou Fageol, daredevil driver.

Ten boats had qualified by night-fall Friday for the big race Sunday.

Fageol, of Kent, Ohio, dove from the somersaulting Slo-mo V to escape death, but suffered probable broken ribs and a punctured lung, as well as back injuries.

Thousands of spectators and officials watching Fageol's qualifying attempt from the shore and additional thousands watching it via television witnessed the spectacular Slo-mo V accident.

Fageol was roaring down the back straightaway toward completion of his third and final qualifying lap when disaster overtook the boat. The sleek craft started rocking from side to side as a northerly wind caught under the sponsons.

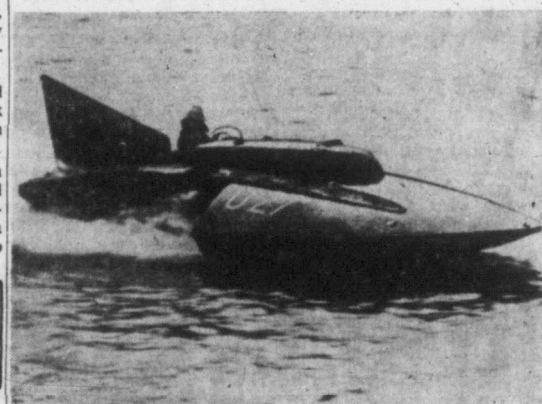

As Fageol fought for control, the Slo-mo V lifted completely out of the water, literally taking off as a plane would.

Her stern kicked forward and the boat took a complete back somersault, landing upright on the water again.

Fageol kicked himself from the cockpit of the boat and landed on his back on the water and struggled feebly as a Coast Guard boat rushed to rescue him from the lake waters.

But his next words were: "How's the Slo-mo? Will she race Sunday?"

Stan Sayres of Seattle, owner of the Slo-mo, said the boat had battered its stern so badly it could not be repaired in time for the race.

SLO-MO V—After doing a back flip at 160 m.p.h. during qualifying trials Friday Slo-mo-shun V, above, was so badly damaged that defending champion will not participate in Sunday's Gold Cup races on Lake Washington.

Index to Inside Pages

Ottawa Boosts Interest Rate	2	Ask the Times	13	Finance	10	Step With Style	16
Union Steamship Negotiations Deadlocked	2	As We Live	16	Hutchinson	4	Stursberg	5
Rumor Has Labor Minister Gregg Quitting Cabinet	2	Books	6	Island Digest	11	TV Schedule	5
Martin, Hospitals to Meet on Finances	5	Building	10	London Letter	5	TV With Lee	19
Press Search for Missing PWA Plane	11	Churches	14	Penny Saver	16	Walker	8
		Classified	18	Radio	20	Why Grow Old	16
		Comics	25	Roberts	13	Women	15, 16, 17
		Entertainment	7	Sports	8 and 9	Your Horoscope	21

